

FAIR, MILD

Fair tonight, low 46-52. Tuesday fair and mild. Yesterday's high, 75; low, 54; at 8 a. m. today, 59. Year ago, high, 82; low, 48. Rain, .19 in. River, 5.10 ft.

Monday, May 26, 1952

THE CIRCLEVILLE HERALD

An Independent Newspaper

FULL SERVICE

Associated Press leased wire for state, national and world news, Central Press picture service, leading columnists and artists, full local news coverage.

69th Year—125

BIG 3 SIGN GERMAN PEACE CONTRACT

Drunk Drivers Face Jail In Mayor's Court

Stern treatment is expected to await drunken drivers haled before the court of Mayor Ed Amey in the future.

Mayor Amey said Monday he plans to give jail terms to all drunken drivers found guilty by his court in the future.

In the past, Circleville's mayor's court, except in unusual cases, has been imposing only stiff fines on persons found guilty of driving while drunk. Other courts of the county in the past have been binding their cases over to common pleas court, where licenses may be suspended if the person involved is found guilty.

Mayor Amey said his resolution to mete out jail sentences in the future resulted from the large number of cases involving drunken drivers brought before his court.

"We're getting too many of them," he said.

THE MAYOR backed his words with action over the weekend. Ervin Harman, 28, of Amanda Route 2 was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to five days in jail for drunken driving at Court and Franklin streets. He was arrested by Officer Charles Smith.

Commies Kill Many In POW Camp Brutality

KOJE ISLAND, May 26 — (AP)—United Nations hospital officials said Monday that Red prisoners of war treat each other with such barbarity that they have killed more prisoners than have Allied guards in approximately three POW camps.

Camp officials concede they do not have control inside the barbed wire enclosures. Red leaders have organized prisoners into a crude but disciplined army, equipped with clubs and weapons fashioned from cans and metal bars.

They also have pistols and rifles seized from guards in riots or smuggled in by civilians.

At least 115 prisoners have died from brutal beatings, hangings or torture in clashes between die-hard Communists and anti-Communists within the barbed wire enclosures, hospital records show.

Guards suppressing three riots in this UN POW camp killed 97. Lt. Col. S. M. Gelenger, Flint, Mich., head of the hospital, said bodies of prisoners of slain within the compounds often are not recovered for days.

Women's Club Backing Veeps

DAYTON, May 26 — (AP)—A woman vice president?

The Ohio Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs says there should be.

It backed Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine) for the GOP nomination and Judge Sarah T. Hughes of Dallas, national president of the group, was endorsed for the Democratic nomination.

Fall Kills Cleaner

COLUMBUS, May 26 — (AP)—Frank P. Meglan, 50, a Columbus building cleaner contractor, fell 60 feet to his death here Sunday from scaffolding near the fourth floor of a downtown department store.

Tuesday Parley May Outline Red Negotiators' Next Move

MUNSAN, May 26 — (AP)—United Nations truce delegates will return to Panmunjom Tuesday to learn if a three-day cooling off recess has cracked the Communist stand on armistice in Korea.

The explosive issue alone blocks an armistice in Korea.

The Communists demand all their captured soldiers back—at the point of a bayonet if necessary.

But the UN Command has been equally firm. It says no prisoner will be forcibly returned to the Reds. An Allied screening showed only 70,000 of 169,000 Red POWs and internees want to go back to Communist areas.

Maj. Gen. William K. Harrison, new senior Allied delegate, said the Reds still may be determined to delay or reject an armistice.

Ike Gains Delegates On Taft

Texas GOP Tiff May Upset Big Republican Convention

WASHINGTON, May 26 — (AP)—Lone Star State Republicans were meeting Monday for decisions that could make the Texas delegation to the GOP National Convention in Chicago a crucial hot potato.

The Texas Republican convention convenes Tuesday to name 38 delegates to the convention, but by that time an intraparty fight between backers of Sen. Robert A. Taft and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for the Republican presidential nomination may have developed into a Texas GOP split that will keep the issue in doubt until the Chicago convention.

The GOP State Executive Committee was to judge Monday between rival Taft and Eisenhower backers claims to control of 31 out of 38 county delegations to Tuesday's state convention. Eisenhower Republicans said Sunday they will bolt Tuesday's convention "if the state executive committee runs rough-shod over us and the state convention upholds them."

Eisenhower moved up 16 delegates on Taft over the weekend in the Associated Press tabulation.

TAFT AP COUNT, based on delegates pledged, instructed or willing to state a first-ballot preference, and on candidate concessions, listed 399 delegates for Taft to 359 for the general. Eisenhower made his gain of 16 in Washington state, where he won 20 delegates to four for Taft.

The Republican nomination requires 604 votes. Chances appeared strong for Eisenhower to make another gain in Connecticut, where the Republican State Convention opens a two-day session Monday night. Gov. John Lodge is an Eisenhower backer and a brother of Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., one of the general's national organizers. Connecticut is slated to name 22 delegates.

Texas Democrats also were threatening a party bolt. The issue in the Democratic party there was between pro-administration Loyal Democrats and the faction led by Gov. Allan Shivers, who wants an uncommitted delegation. Texas Democrats name 52 delegates to the big convention.

Fagan Dickson, pro-administration leader, said his faction is prepared to walk out of the state convention Tuesday in San Antonio, send a rival delegation to Chicago.

Missouri's Democrats may name President Truman Monday as an alternate to one of their 42 national convention delegates for the state's 34 votes. Leaders indicated the delegates would go to Chicago uncommitted.

Minnesota Republicans pulled an upset Saturday by voting to change their national committeeman after 16 years.

The Minnesotans chose an Eisenhower backer, George F. Etzell, in place of Roy E. Dunn, who is Taft's state manager.

In Maryland Saturday, the GOP State Convention pledged its 24 national delegates to Gov. Theodore Roosevelt McKeldin for the first ballot. McKeldin has not said whom he favors to head the ticket.

Delaware Democrats picked six delegates Saturday, five unpledged, one for Vice President Alben Barkley.

Airmen Spraying Pickaway County Fields Say Cultivation Outdated

Mr. Farmer, you can throw away that hoe and junk that corn cultivator. You're losing money with them. Use an airplane instead.

That's the verdict of three young Ohio men who were farm-reared but since have taken wings.

They are convinced that if modern farming techniques are followed, the hoe and the cultivator manufacturers are virtually dead ducks.

These three young men operate an aerial spraying outfit and are ready with facts and figures to back up their claims.

The trio—Verne Acheson, Bernard Fleming and Dick Mordoff, all of Columbus—are finishing up a spraying job in Pickaway County which has slashed actual cost and perfected efficiency.

Retained by Circleville's three

Lima Escapee Captured Sunday

CLEVELAND, May 26 — (AP)—Police Sunday night captured one of three men who escaped from Lima State Hospital for the Criminal Insane last Wednesday.

The man, Theodore Butler, 24, was shot in the upper lip after he punched three detectives who cornered him in a closet in an east side residence.

Butler, Jack Bauer, 19, and Richard Moxley, 17, sawed their way out of the Lima hospital. Bauer and Moxley have not been captured.

Lack Of Civilian Volunteers Stalls Air Spotter Program

WASHINGTON, May 26 — (AP)—The Air Force, seriously worried over a weak link in the nation's aircraft warning system, is going to try again to get the volunteer system of civilian aircraft spotters into round-the-clock operation by July.

An attempt was made to start the full, 24-hour a day plane spotting system in 27 states on May 17, but was postponed when a number of state civil defense directors reported it is hard to get civilian volunteers.

The Ground Observer Corps is intended to help the Air Force's Air Defense Command locate and track unidentified aircraft flying too low for radar to detect. USAF officials contend that this constant, low-altitude surveillance is vital.

An officer interested in the enemy aircraft warning system has cited an incident in Alaska as an example. About six weeks ago, he said, a ground observer in Alaska saw what appeared to be the contrail of a plane.

A CONTRAIL is the streamer of white vapor left by an aircraft flying in cold air or at high altitude.

Radar stations in the area could find nothing on their screens. No known friendly craft were in the area. The presumption is that the plane, never identified, was flying at an altitude too low for radar to locate or track. Alaska is only a few hours flight from Soviet airfields in Siberia and the Russian maritime peninsula.

The probability is that it was not a bomber. It may have been a long-range reconnaissance aircraft, looking over the territory and photographing radar and other military installations.

In general, the Air Force estimates that planes flying below 4,000 feet are difficult or impossible to track by radar.

This altitude can be lower in flat terrain or over the ocean, much higher in hilly or mountainous country.

The only solution, the Air Force contends, is to back up the radar net which together with stations operated by Canada extends from the United States to the Northern perimeter of the continent, with ground observers.

Midwest Getting 'Fair' Weather

CHICAGO, May 26 — (AP)—Thunder showers pelted the upper Atlantic seaboard Monday but the weather was generally fair west of the Appalachian Mountains.

It was cooler in the Mississippi Valley and Great Lakes regions, and cooler air was moving into the Northern Rockies.

New England and the Middle Atlantic states got a continuation of scattered showers and thunderstorms. There were a few scattered thundershowers in the South-east.

IN BETWEEN jobs, they seed small grain crops, make life unbearable for the spittlebug, and put weeds to flight.

Already they have treated about 200 acres of Pickaway County canning peas and have received a special "well-done" from an Ohio State University entomologist. Said Dr. T. H. Parks:

"The kill was 100 percent."

Parks had made an uninvited inspection tour of the work being done by the three men who operate under the name of Acheson Aviation Co.

Primary reason for Parks' visit was to see the effect of the chemical "parathion" which the Acheson firm uses. They have found it to be more effective than DDT or other bug-killing drugs.

Used in liquid form, these winged bug-battlers say a mixture of a pint of parathion to three gallons of water per acre brings satisfactory results.

And, best of all from the customer's point of view, aerial application is cheaper in dollars and cents. In addition, the airplane is not hampered by wet ground, but can go into a field soon after a rain and when the wind is less than 15 miles per hour.

THEY AVERAGE an acre of coverage per minute whether spraying or seeding and work about 25 acres each trip aloft.

Mordoff is pilot for the organization and has been using a Piper Cub for his work. He has removed the back seat in the Cub and installed his chemical tank instead. The liquid parathion is gravity-fed about three feet out to atomizers hung under each wing. His spray swath is about 35 feet wide.

The plane is flown about three feet from ground surface in dead wind, a little closer when there is a breeze. Mordoff, who has logged about 4,500 hours in a small plane, says his only concern is telephone or power wires.

As for replacing the hoe and the cultivator, these three forward-looking aviation enthusiasts say that their tenure on the farm proved to them that properly prepared soil needs no cultivation except to cut out weeds.

So, why not spray to kill the weeds? It's cheaper, quicker and there are no cultivator shovels to crop off tender corn roots, they contend.

They think the farmer of the future will be following this theory. So, if eventually, why not now?

For their Pickaway County operations, they have been quartering their planes and equipment at the Harmon and Scheib airport hangar at the north edge of Circleville.

Pilot, Passenger Injured In Crash

NEW LEXINGTON, May 26 — (AP)—A light plane crashed near a cemetery at nearby Somerset Sunday, injuring the pilot and his passenger.

The pilot, Richard Colopy, 25, of Lancaster, is in fair condition in Lancaster Hospital. Several bones were broken. The passenger, Robert Fisher, 25, also of Lancaster, is in the same hospital with undetermined injuries.

More Casualties

WASHINGTON, May 26 — (AP)—The Defense Department Monday identified 53 more battle casualties in Korea—eight killed, 41 wounded, two missing and two injured.

Plea For Law On Industry Said Readied

President Claimed Planning Move If Court Rules Curb

WASHINGTON, May 26 — (AP)—President Truman was reported Monday to be considering a new move to toss the tangled steel controversy into the lap of Congress if his seizure of the industry is ruled illegal.

The U. S. Supreme Court recessed at 12:52 p. m., EST., Monday without announcing its decision in the steel seizure case.

The court will meet again next Monday and perhaps the following Monday as well in an effort to clear its docket. It originally had planned to recess for the summer next week.

Philip Murray's CIO steelworkers have expressed impatience at not getting a pay raise since their contracts expired last Jan. 1, and the union has plainly indicated it will launch a new industry-wide strike if government operation of the mills is ended by the high court.

THE STRATEGY Truman plans if the seizure is knocked out and a strike develops is said to be to appeal to Congress—as he has done twice before—for legislation dealing with the situation.

In his appeals on April 9 and again on April 21 for Congress to pass new legislation to help deal with the problem, Truman offered no specific suggestions of just what he had in mind. He may do that next time.

Under Taft-Hartley, the President could name a fact-finding board to survey the situation. The law says this board must convene, hold hearings and submit a formal report to the White House that an emergency exists.

All this must take place before the President may seek an 80-day court injunction against a continued strike.

A new appeal to Congress reportedly would claim that this process would take a minimum of a week or 10 days and the country and its defense program cannot stand a halt in steel production for that length of time.

Murray's union has waited considerably longer than the T-H law's 80-day "cooling off" period would require under an injunction.

The question of whether Truman had the power to seize the industry in order to head off a strike has been before the Supreme Court nearly two weeks.

THE TRIBUNAL took the case under advisement May 13 after two days of hearing oral arguments.

U. S. District Judge David A. Pine ruled April 29 that the seizure was "illegal and without authority of law" but his injunction against continuing government operation.

Allied Troops Throw Back Red Assault

SEOUL, May 26 — (AP)—United Nations troops Monday threw back a change-of-pace assault by two reinforced Chinese companies on the Korean Western Front.

The U. S. Eighth Army said they killed or wounded more than 100 attacking Reds in a furious five-hour fight.

It was the first time in weeks that the Reds had struck in greater than platoon strength. A Chinese company normally contains about 150 men.

Shortly after midnight, the Reds drove on an advance UN position west of Chorwon from two sides. Allied reinforcements were stopped twice by the flanking Reds but finally smashed to the outpost.

UN artillery and mortar fire kept the Reds from overrunning the outpost until help arrived.

THE ARMY said the Reds left behind 27 dead and lost an estimated 45 additional killed and 40 wounded.

Patrol contacts up to four hours and 20 minutes in length and light Communist probes were reported from other sectors.

U. S. jet pilots reported they shot down four Communist Mig-15 jets Sunday and damaged another.

Far East Air Forces said its warplanes cut North Korean railroad tracks in 145 places and destroyed 160 Communist vehicles.

Deputy Cliff Webb points to bullet damage on getaway car: nine bullet holes and back window glass almost entirely shattered away.

Prisoners Daniel Ryder (left) and Leon DeArcy after the fracas.

UNDER ARREST in Reno, Nev., are Daniel Ryder, 27, and Leon DeArcy, also 27, following a typical old-west style rip-snorting running gun battle in a street bordered by gambling clubs. Wanted in Los Angeles in investigation of 11 armed holdups, the pair was spotted hardly an hour after they hit Reno.

Members Sought For Enrollment In City's New Citizen's League

Members for Circleville's first Citizen's League are now being sought by the Chamber of Commerce.

The Citizen's League is being set up to aid in making information about the proposed new city charter form of government familiar to the voters.

Any citizen of Circleville is eligible for membership. Just fill in the coupon (below), attach $1 and mail to the Chamber of Commerce.

Nearly 100 members are now enrolled in the new league, actually organized last week. The $1 membership fee is to be used in a program to acquaint the voters with the terms of the proposed new form of government here.

AT PRESENT, the city charter commission has formulated a first draft of the document and is in the process of planning the final draft. When the final draft is completed, copies will be sent to all voters and the issue will be placed on the ballot for the general election in November.

Joe Bell has been elected president of the new Citizen's League, while John Magill is secretary-treasurer. Next meeting of the League will be June 6.

To Circleville Chamber of Commerce:

Please enroll (Name)

Address Telephone

As A Member of the Citizen's League Please Attach A Dollar Bill and Mail to, Circleville Chamber of Commerce 111 1/2 West Main Street, Circleville, Ohio

Commie Editor Tossed Into Jail

PARIS, May 26 — (AP)—French police have jailed Editor Andre Stil of the Communist daily newspaper L'Humanite. They say he's among the organizers of Red demonstrations against Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, new supreme Allied Atlantic pact commander for Europe.

Stil, who won a Stalin prize this year, was charged with violating an 1848 law making it an offense to organize or incite a mob. Penalties range upward to 10 years in jail.

It was the first time in weeks that the Reds had struck in greater than platoon strength. A Chinese company normally contains about 150 men.

Shortly after midnight, the Reds drove on an advance UN position west of Chorwon from two sides. Allied reinforcements were stopped twice by the flanking Reds but finally smashed to the outpost.

UN artillery and mortar fire kept the Reds from overrunning the outpost until help arrived.

THE ARMY said the Reds left behind 27 dead and lost an estimated 45 additional killed and 40 wounded.

Patrol contacts up to four hours and 20 minutes in length and light Communist probes were reported from other sectors.

U. S. jet pilots reported they shot down four Communist Mig-15 jets Sunday and damaged another.

Ground Zero To Be Entered Quickly By GIs

LAS VEGAS, May 26 — (AP)—Army troops will jump from their fox holes and move toward ground zero only a few seconds after the next atomic test blast.

It will be the first time troops have moved in so quickly, the Army said Sunday after the sixth and brightest of the spring detonations at the Atomic Energy Commission's Nevada proving ground.

The next explosion (no date to be announced) will involve 1,500 service troops from Camp Desert Rock near the test site.

Sunday 1,000 combat troops and 600 military observers moved in "shortly" after the blast to observe its effect on equipment. They were stationed an estimated 7,000 yards away.

The blast was not heard nor did it produce shock waves in Las Vegas, 65 miles away. But its brilliance lit up Las Vegas and dogs yelped 7 1/2 minutes after blast.

Former Enemy Is Partner In Peace Battle

Soviets Scowling At Move; Communist Reaction Awaited

BOON, May 26 — (AP)—The United States, Britain and France Monday signed a peace contract with Western Germany and then welcomed their former enemy as a "new partner in the fight for peace and freedom."

Approximately 500 persons crowded into Bundestag—chamber of the upper house of the German Parliament—to watch the 40-minute ceremony that marked a dramatic milestone in the unending struggle between the Western powers and the Soviet Union over Germany.

There was little jubilation over the signing in Western Germany, where all nine states of the Western federal republic turned down a government request to close the schools, make the day a holiday.

Seated at the table were British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman, U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer. They put their signatures 20 times to the documents in the peace contract, aimed at bringing 48 million Germans West of the Iron Curtain into the Western Community of Nations on a basis of equality.

BUT THE ministers were careful to stress that the documents need final approval of their parliaments before the contract can be more than a scrap of paper. A companion act—the European Army treaty to be signed in Paris Tuesday—needs similar ratification. This would bring 400,000 Germans into a six-nation army.

The shadow of a scowling Soviet Union and the realization that their homeland remains divided gave Germans little to cheer about.

Interzonal highway traffic to Berlin dwindled almost to the zero point, probably out of fear of Communist uprisings over the signing of the peace contract.

Traffic from Berlin to the West was steady and moved without a hitch.

The Soviet frontier at Helmstedt was completely deserted by east-bound traffic by mid-morning, a remarkable situation on a Monday when usually there is a fairly steady flow of trucks both ways.

The West German guards reported only one loaded truck from West Germany crossed through toward Berlin in the first five daylight hours.

The guards surmised West German (Continued on Page Two)

Telegraphers End Walkout, OK New Pact

WASHINGTON, May 26 — (AP)—The 52-day Western Union strike ended Monday and workers flocked back to telegraph offices across the nation.

The official end of the strike came at 12:01 a. m. after the AFL Commercial Telegraphers Union announced that its Western Union membership had voted 8,685 to 5,468 to accept a strike settlement.

Pay raises or reduction of working hours provided for under the ratified agreement are dependent on government permission for Western Union to raise its rates about 10 percent.

The union said the new agreement would raise the average workers earnings to $1.54 an hour, except for messengers. Messengers would get an average of 83 cents an hour.

The company said the agreement would raise the average pay of all its employees to $1.73 an hour.

UNDER THE agreement, workers who have been on a 45-hour, 20-minute work week with 48-hour pay would get no pay raise but would receive the same weekly pay for 40 hours a week. This covers about half the employees.

Workers already on a 40-hour week would get a 10-cent hourly boost. A few workers on a 35-hour week would be raised $22 a month. Bicycle messengers would get 5 cents more an hour.

2 Cars Derailed

Piqua, May 26 — (AP)—Two freight cars, derailed by a broken wheel, fell 75 feet into the Miami River from a Pennsylvania Railroad trestle in downtown Piqua Sunday.

BIG 3 SIGN GERMAN PEACE CONTRACT

Drunk Drivers Face Jail In Mayor's Court

Stern treatment is expected to await drunken drivers haled before the court of Mayor Ed Amey in the future.

Mayor Amey said Monday he plans to give jail terms to all drunken drivers found guilty by his court in the future.

In the past, Circleville's mayor's court, except in unusual cases, has been imposing only stiff fines on persons found guilty of driving while drunk. Other courts of the county in the past have been binding their cases over to common pleas court, where licenses may be suspended if the person involved is found guilty.

Mayor Amey said his resolution to mete out jail sentences in the future resulted from the large number of cases involving drunken drivers brought before his court.

"We're getting too many of them," he said.

THE MAYOR backed his words with action over the weekend.

Ervin Harman, 28, of Amanda Route 2 was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to five days in jail for drunken driving at Court and Franklin streets. He was arrested by Officer Charles Smith.

Commies Kill Many In POW Camp Brutality

KOJE ISLAND, May 26—(P)—United Nations hospital officials said Monday that Red prisoners of war treat each other with such barbarity that they have killed more prisoners than have Allied guards in suppressing three POW riots.

Camp officials concede they do not have control inside the barbed wire enclosures. Red leaders have organized prisoners into a crude but disciplined army, equipped with clubs and weapons fashioned from cans and metal bars.

They also have pistols and rifles seized from guards in riots or smuggled in by civilians.

At least 115 prisoners have died from brutal beatings, hangings or torture in clashes between die-hard Communists and anti-Communists within the barbed wire enclosures, hospital records show.

Guards suppressing three riots in this UN POW camp killed 97.

Lt. Col. S. M. Gelenger, Flint, Mich., head of the hospital, said bodies of prisoners of slain within the compounds often are not recovered for days.

Women's Club Backing Veeps

DAYTON, May 26—(P)—A woman vice president?

The Ohio Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs says there should be.

It backed Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine) for the GOP nomination and Judge Sarah T. Hughes of Dallas, national president of the group, was endorsed for the Democratic nomination.

Fall Kills Cleaner

COLUMBUS, May 26—(P)—Frank P. Meglan, 50, a Columbus building cleaner contractor, fell 60 feet to his death here Sunday from scaffolding near the fourth floor of a downtown department store.

Tuesday Parley May Outline Red Negotiators' Next Move

MUNSAN, May 26—(P)—United Nations truce delegates will return to Panmunjom Tuesday to learn if a three-day cooling off recess has cracked the Communist stand on armistice in Korea.

The explosive issue alone blocks an armistice in Korea.

The Communists demand all their captured soldiers back—at the point of a bayonet if necessary.

But the UN Command has been equally firm. It says no prisoner will be forcibly returned to the Reds. An Allied screening showed only 70,000 of 169,000 Red POWs and internees want to go back to Communist areas.

Maj. Gen. William K. Harrison, new senior Allied delegate, said the Reds still may be determined "to delay or reject an armistice."

Harrison observed:

Ike Gains Delegates On Taft

Texas GOP Tiff May Upset Big Republican Convention

WASHINGTON, May 26—(P)—Lone Star State Republicans are meeting Monday for decisions that could make the Texas delegation to the GOP National Convention in Chicago a crucial hot potato.

The Texas Republican convention convenes Tuesday to name 38 delegates to the convention, but by that time an intraparty fight between backers of Sen. Robert A. Taft and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for the Republican presidential nomination may have developed into a Texas GOP split that will keep the issue in doubt until the Chicago convention.

The GOP State Executive Committee was to judge Monday between rival Taft and Eisenhower backers claims to control of 31 out of 38 county delegations to Tuesday's state convention. Eisenhower Republicans said Sunday they will bolt Tuesday's convention "if the state executive committee runs rough-shod over us and the state convention upholds them."

Eisenhower moved up 16 delegates on Taft over the weekend in the Associated Press tabulation.

THE AP COUNT, based on delegates pledged, instructed or willing to state a first-ballot preference, and on candidate concessions, listed 399 delegates for Taft to 359 for the general. Eisenhower made his gain of 16 in Washington state, where he won 20 delegates to four for Taft.

The Republican nomination requires 604 votes.

Chances appeared strong for Eisenhower to make another gain in Connecticut, where the Republican State Convention opens a two-day session Monday night. Gov. John Lodge is an Eisenhower backer and a brother of Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., one of the general's national organizers. Connecticut is slated to name 22 delegates.

Texas Democrats also were threatening a party bolt. The issue in the Democratic party there was between pro-administration Loyal Democrats and the faction led by Gov. Allan Shivers, who wants an unstructured delegation. Texas Democrats name 52 delegates to the big convention.

Fagan Dickson, pro-administration leader, said his faction is prepared to walk out of the state convention Tuesday in San Antonio, send a rival delegation to Chicago. Missouri's Democrats may name President Truman Monday as an alternate to one of their 42 national convention delegates for the state's 34 votes. Leaders indicated the delegates would go to Chicago unopposed.

Minnesota Republicans pulled an upset Saturday by voting to change their national committeeman after 16 years.

Airmen Spraying Pickaway County Fields Say Cultivation Outdated

Mr. Farmer, you can throw away that hoe and junk that corn cultivator. You're losing money with them. Use an airplane instead.

That's the verdict of three young Ohio men who were farm-reared but since have taken wings.

They are convinced that if modern farming techniques are followed, the hoe and the cultivator manufacturers are virtually dead ducks.

These three young men operate an aerial spraying outfit and are ready with facts and figures to back up their claims.

The trio—Verne Acheson, Bernard Flerning and Dick Mordoff, all of Columbus—are finishing up a spraying job in Pickaway County which has slashed actual cost and perfected efficiency.

Retained by Circleville's three

Lima Escapee Captured Sunday

CLEVELAND, May 26—(P)—Police Sunday night captured one of three men who escaped from Lima State Hospital for the Criminal Insane last Wednesday.

The man, Theodore Butler, 24, was shot in the upper lip after he punched three detectives who cornered him in a closet in an east side residence.

Butler, Jack Bauer, 19, and Richard Moxley, 17, sawed their way out of the Lima hospital. Bauer and Moxley have not been captured.

Lack Of Civilian Volunteers Stalls Air Spotter Program

WASHINGTON, May 26—(P)—The Air Force, seriously worried over a weak link in the nation's aircraft warning system, is going to try again to get the volunteer system of civilian aircraft spotters into round-the-clock operation by July.

An attempt was made to start the full, 24-hour a day plane spotting system in 27 states on May 17, but was postponed when a number of state civil defense directors reported it is hard to get civilian volunteers.

The Ground Observer Corps is intended to help the Air Force's Air Defense Command locate and track unidentified aircraft flying too low for radar to detect. USAF officials contend that this constant, low-altitude surveillance is vital.

An officer interested in the enemy aircraft warning system has cited an incident in Alaska as an example. About six weeks ago, he said, a ground observer in Alaska saw what appeared to be the contrail of a plane.

A CONTRAIL is the streamer of white vapor left by an aircraft flying in cold air or at high altitude.

Radar stations in the area could find nothing on their screens. No known friendly craft were in the area. The presumption is that the plane, never identified, was flying at an altitude too low for radar to locate or track. Alaska is only a few hours flight from Soviet airfields in Siberia and the Russian maritime peninsula.

The probability is that it was not a bomber. It may have been a long-range reconnaissance aircraft, looking over the territory and photographing radar and other military installations.

In general, the Air Force estimates that planes flying below 4,000 feet are difficult or impossible to track by radar.

This altitude can be lower in flat terrain or over the ocean, much higher in hilly or mountainous country.

The only solution, the Air Force contends, is to back up the radar net which together with stations operated by Canada extends from the United States to the Northern perimeter of the continent, with ground observers.

Midwest Getting 'Fair' Weather

CHICAGO, May 26—(P)—Thunder showers pelted the upper Atlantic Seaboard Monday but the weather was generally fair west of the Appalachian Mountains.

It was cooler in the Mississippi Valley and Great Lakes regions, and cooler air was moving into the Northern Rockies.

New England and the Middle Atlantic states got a continuation of scattered showers and thunderstorms. There were a few scattered thundershowers in the South-east.

The Minnesotans chose an Eisenhower backer, George F. Etzell, in place of Roy E. Dunn, who is Taft's state manager.

In Maryland Saturday, the GOP State Convention pledged its 24 national delegates to Gov. Theodore Roosevelt McKeldin for the first ballot. McKeldin has not said whom he favors to head the ticket.

Delaware Democrats picked six delegates Saturday, five unpledged, one for Vice President Alben Barkley.

canneries—the Winorr, Esmeralda and Crites companies—these men have been battling the aphids which are out to ruin the pea crop.

IN BETWEEN jobs, they seed small grain crops, make life unbearable for the spittlebug, and put weeds to flight.

Already they have treated about 200 acres of Pickaway County canning peas and have received a special "well-done" from an Ohio State University entomologist. Said Dr. T. H. Parks:

"The kill was 100 percent."

Parks had made an uninvited inspection tour of the work being done by the three men who operate under the name of Acheson Aviation Co.

Primary reason for Parks' visit was to see the effect of the chemical "parathion" which the Acheson firm uses. They have found it to be more effective than DDT or other bug-killing drugs.

Used in liquid form, these winged bug-battlers say a mixture of a pint of parathion to three gallons of water per acre brings satisfactory results.

And, best of all from the customer's point of view, aerial application is cheaper in dollars and cents. In addition, the airplane is not hampered by wet ground, but can go into a field soon after a rain and when the wind is less than 15 miles per hour.

THEY AVERAGE an acre of coverage per minute whether spraying or seeding and work about 25 acres each trip aloft.

Mordoff is pilot for the organization and has been using a Piper Cub for his work. He has removed the back seat in the Cub and installed his chemical tank instead. The liquid parathion is gravity-fed about three feet out to atomizers hung under each wing. His spray swath is about 35 feet wide.

The plane is flown about three feet from ground surface in dead wind, a little closer when there is a breeze. Mordoff, who has logged about 4,500 hours in a small plane, says his only concern is telephone or power wires.

As for replacing the hoe and the cultivator, these three forward-looking aviation enthusiasts say that their tenure on the farm proved to them that properly prepared soil needs no cultivation except to cut out weeds.

So, why not spray to kill the weeds?

It's cheaper, quicker and there are no cultivator shovels to crop off tender corn roots, they contend. They think the farmer of the future will be following this theory. So, if eventually, why not now?

For their Pickaway County operations, they have been quartering their planes and equipment at the Harmon and Schelb airport hangar at the north edge of Circleville.

Pilot, Passenger Injured In Crash

NEW LEXINGTON, May 26—(P)—A light plane crashed near a cemetery at nearby Somerset Sunday, injuring the pilot and his passenger.

The pilot, Richard Colopy, 25, of Lancaster, is in fair condition in Lancaster Hospital. Several bones were broken. The passenger, Robert Fisher, 25, also of Lancaster, is in the same hospital with undetermined injuries.

More Casualties

WASHINGTON, May 26—(P)—The Defense Department Monday identified 53 more battle casualties in Korea—eight killed, 41 wounded, two missing and two injured.

Plea For Law On Industry Said Readied

President Claimed Planning Move If Court Rules Curb

WASHINGTON, May 26—(P)—President Truman was reported Monday to be considering a new move to toss the tangled steel controversy into the lap of Congress if his seizure of the industry is ruled illegal.

The U. S. Supreme Court recessed at 12:52 p. m., EST., Monday without announcing its decision in the steel seizure case.

The court will meet again next Monday and perhaps the following Monday as well in an effort to clear its docket. It originally had planned to recess for the summer next week.

Philip Murray's CIO steelworkers have expressed impatience at not getting a pay raise since their contracts expired last Jan. 1, and the union has plainly indicated it will launch a new industry-wide strike if government operation of the mills is ended by the high court.

THE STRATEGY Truman plans if the seizure is knocked out and a strike develops is said to be to appeal to Congress—as he has done twice before—for legislation dealing with the situation.

In his appeals on April 9 and again on April 21 for Congress to pass new legislation to help deal with the problem, Truman offered no specific suggestions of just what he had in mind. He may do that next time.

Under Taft-Hartley, the President could name a fact-finding board to survey the situation. The law says this board must convene, hold hearings and submit a formal report to the White House that an emergency exists.

All this must take place before the President may seek an 80-day court injunction against a continued strike.

A new appeal to Congress reportedly would claim that this process would take a minimum of a week or 10 days and the country and its defense program cannot stand a halt in steel production for that length of time.

Murray's union has waited considerably longer than the T-H law's 80-day "cooling off" period would require under an injunction.

The question of whether Truman had the power to seize the industry in order to head off a strike has been before the Supreme Court nearly two weeks.

THE TRIBUNAL took the case under advisement May 13 after two days of hearing oral arguments.

U. S. District Judge David A. Pine ruled April 29 that the seizure was "illegal and without authority of law" but his injunction against continuing government operation of the mills was upheld.

Allied Troops Throw Back Red Assault

SEOUL, May 26—(P)—United Nations troops Monday threw back a change-of-pace assault by two reinforced Chinese companies on the Korean Western Front.

The U. S. Eighth Army said they killed or wounded more than 100 attacking Reds in a furious five-hour fight.

It was the first time in weeks that the Reds had struck in greater than platoon strength. A Chinese company normally contains about 150 men.

Shortly after midnight, the Reds drove on an advance UN position west of Chorwon from two sides. Allied reinforcements were stopped twice by the flanking Reds but finally smashed to the outpost.

UN artillery and mortar fire kept the Reds from overrunning the outpost until help arrived.

THE ARMY said the Reds left behind 27 dead and lost an estimated 45 additional killed and 40 wounded.

Patrol contacts up to four hours and 20 minutes in length and light Communist probes were reported from other sectors.

U. S. jet pilots reported they shot down four Communist Mig-15 jets Sunday and damaged another. Far East Air Forces said its warplanes cut North Korean railroad tracks in 145 places and destroyed 160 Communist vehicles.

Deputy Cliff Webb points to bullet damage on getaway car: nine bullet holes and back window glass almost entirely shattered away.

Prisoners Daniel Ryder (left) and Leon DeArcy after the fracas.

UNDER ARREST in Reno, Nev., are Daniel Ryder, 27, and Leon DeArcy, also 27, following a typical old-west style rip-snorting running gun battle in a street bordered by gambling clubs. Wanted in Los Angeles in investigation of 11 armed holdups, the pair was spotted hardly an hour after they hit Reno.

Members Sought For Enrollment In City's New Citizen's League

Members for Circleville's first Citizen's League are now being sought by the Chamber of Commerce.

The Citizen's League is being set up to aid in making information about the proposed new city charter form of government familiar to the voters.

Any citizen of Circleville is eligible for membership. Just fill in the coupon (below), attach $1 and mail to the Chamber of Commerce.

Nearly 100 members are now enrolled in the new league, actually organized last week. The $1 membership fee is to be used in a program to acquaint the voters with the terms of the proposed new form of government here.

AT PRESENT, the city charter commission has formulated a first draft of the document and is in the process of planning the final draft. When the final draft is completed, copies will be sent to all voters and the issue will be placed on the ballot for the general election in November.

Joe Bell has been elected president of the new Citizen's League, while John Magill is secretary-treasurer. Next meeting of the League will be June 6.

To Circleville Chamber of Commerce:

Please enroll (Name)

Address Telephone

As A Member of the Citizen's League Please Attach A Dollar Bill and Mail to, Circleville Chamber of Commerce 111½ West Main Street, Circleville, Ohio

Commie Editor Tossed Into Jail

PARIS, May 26—(P)—French police have jailed Editor Andre Stil of the Communist daily newspaper L'Humanite. They say he's among the organizers of Red demonstrations against Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, new supreme Allied Atlantic pact commander for Europe.

Stil, who won a Stalin prize this year, was charged with violating an 1848 law making it an offense to organize or incite a mob. Penalties range upward to 10 years in jail.

THE ARMY said the Reds left behind 27 dead and lost an estimated 45 additional killed and 40 wounded.

Patrol contacts up to four hours and 20 minutes in length and light Communist probes were reported from other sectors.

U. S. jet pilots reported they shot down four Communist Mig-15 jets Sunday and damaged another.

Far East Air Forces said its warplanes cut North Korean railroad tracks in 145 places and destroyed 160 Communist vehicles.

Ground Zero To Be Entered Quickly By GIs

LAS VEGAS, May 26—(P)—Army troops will jump from their fox holes and move toward ground zero only a few seconds after the next atomic test blast.

It will be the first time troops have moved in so quickly, the Army said Sunday after the sixth and brightest of the spring detonations at the Atomic Energy Commission's Nevada proving ground.

The next explosion (no date to be announced) will involve 1,500 service troops from Camp Desert Rock near the test site.

Sunday 1,000 combat troops and 600 military observers moved in "shortly" after the blast to observe its effect on equipment. They were stationed an estimated 7,000 yards away.

The blast was not heard nor did it produce shock waves in Las Vegas, 65 miles away. But its brilliance lit up Las Vegas and dogs yelped 7½ minutes after blast.

Former Enemy Is Partner In Peace Battle

Soviets Scowling At Move; Communist Reaction Awaited

BONN, May 26—(P)—The United States, Britain and France Monday signed a peace contract with Western Germany and then welcomed their former enemy as a "new partner in the fight for peace and freedom."

Approximately 500 persons crowded into Bundestag chamber of the upper house of the German Parliament — to watch the 40-minute ceremony that marked a dramatic milestone in the unceasing struggle between the Western powers and the Soviet Union over Germany.

There was little jubilation over the signing in Western Germany, where all nine states of the Western federal republic turned down a government request to close the schools, make the day a holiday.

Seated at the table were British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman, U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer. They put their signatures 20 times to the documents in the peace contract, aimed at bringing 48 million Germans West of the Iron Curtain into the Western Community of Nations on a basis of equality.

BUT THE ministers were careful to stress that the documents need final approval of their parliaments before the contract can be more than a scrap of paper. A companion act — the European Army treaty to be signed in Paris Tuesday — needs similar ratification. This would bring 400,000 Germans into a six-nation army.

The shadow of a scowling Soviet Union and the realization that their homeland remains divided gave Germans little to cheer about.

Interzonal highway traffic to Berlin dwindled almost to the zero point, probably out of fear of Communist uprisings over the signing of the peace contract.

Traffic from Berlin to the West was steady and moved without a hitch.

The Soviet frontier at Helmstedt was completely deserted by east-bound traffic by mid-morning, a remarkable situation on a Monday when usually there is a fairly steady flow of trucks both ways.

The West German guards reported only one loaded truck from West Germany crossed through toward Berlin in the first five daylight hours.

The guards surmised West German (Continued on Page Two)

Telegraphers End Walkout, OK New Pact

WASHINGTON, May 26—(P)—The 52-day Western Union strike ended Monday and workers flocked back to telegraph offices across the nation.

The official end of the strike came at 12:01 a. m. after the AFL Commercial Telegraphers Union announced that its Western Union membership had voted 8,685 to 5,468 to accept a strike settlement.

Pay raises or reduction of working hours provided for under the ratified agreement are dependent on government permission for Western Union to raise its rates about 10 percent.

The union said the new agreement would raise the average workers earnings to $1.54 an hour, except for messengers. Messengers would get an average of 83 cents an hour.

The company said the agreement would raise the average pay of all its employees to $1.73 an hour.

UNDER THE agreement, workers who have been on a 45-hour, 20-minute work week with 48-hour pay would get no pay raise but would receive the same weekly pay for 40 hours a week. This covers about half the employees.

Workers already on a 40-hour week would get a 10-cent hourly boost. A few workers on a 35-hour week would be raised $22 a month. Bicycle messengers would get 5 cents more an hour.

2 Cars Derailed

PIQUA, May 26—(P)—Two freight cars, derailed by a broken wheel, fell 75 feet into the Miami River from a Pennsylvania Railroad trestle in downtown Piqua Sunday.

City Boys And Girls Beginning Final Week Of This School Year

Monday marked the beginning of the final week of school for youngsters of Circleville.

But it will be a busy week for the kids—and for their teachers, too.

Circleville high school youngsters began their annual semester finals Monday afternoon. The tests will continue through Tuesday.

On Wednesday, underclassmen of the high school will be on hand to register for next year's courses. Boys will register during the morning, while the girls will register in the afternoon.

The 86 members of the senior class, however, will take life easy during the day. Having no need for registration for the coming year, the seniors are expecting to have a picnic during the day at Lake White.

AND THURSDAY will be double-time for the youngsters. All seven high school periods will be completed in the morning and the boys and girls will have the afternoon off.

Not so the teachers, however. While the youngsters will be excused from their last regular classes at noon Thursday, the teachers will spend the afternoon grading papers and preparing final report cards.

Final day of school before Summer vacation begins will be Monday, when the final report cards will be handed out to the youngsters at 2 p. m.

That period marks the time when the school youngsters have the mixed emotions of happiness and foreboding—happy that vacation time is just a few minutes away and apprehensive as to what the final report might show.

Final act of the school year will be the annual commencement exercises for the senior class at 8 p. m. Monday in Pickaway County Fairgrounds Coliseum.

2 Women Hurt In Accident Here Sunday

Two women, one from Circleville, were injured at about 4:15 p. m. Sunday in a two-car crash on Stoutsville Pike.

The accident happened in front of Pontius EUB church in a collision of autos operated by Perry Jenkins, 27, of Adelphi and Carl Chaney, 62, of Columbus.

Deputy Jim Diltz said the Chaney auto was travelling toward Circleville while the Jenkins car was headed East, preparing to turn around in the highway.

Chaney said the Jenkins car had stopped, then started to pull out into the path of his car. Jenkins said he had started to turn around, then pulled into a farm gate and the Chaney car skidded into him. Injured in the mishap were Mrs. Laura Clendenen, 81, of 140 1/2 West Main street, who suffered a fractured left hand; and Mrs. A. A. Chaney, 69, who suffered a fractured left knee. Both women were passengers in the Chaney car.

Idaho Pen Quiet After Rioting

BOISE, May 26.—(AP)—It was quiet Monday at the Idaho State Penitentiary, scene of a four-hour riot Saturday. Warden L. E. Clapp and other officials surveyed the estimated $15,000 damage caused by 300 convicts who barricaded themselves in the recreation hall and were routed with tear gas.

Clapp put 11 ringleaders in solitary confinement and kept most of the other rioters in their cells.

The warden blamed the trouble on a group of "radicals" who, he said, were trying to take over a grievance committee's functions.

Prison Personnel Flee Red Zone

BERLIN, May 26.—(AP)—A Russian Zone prison warden and seven of his charges fled to West Berlin Monday and told police they were "fed up" with the East.

The group crossed into the American sector after a successful escape from the Koenigs Wusterhausen Prison, 10 miles inside the Soviet Zone. West Berlin police said they are examining the prisoners' records and probably will send them back to the East if they turn out to be actual criminals, not political prisoners. The warden may be granted political asylum.

New Zealanders Trek To Britain

AUCKLAND, New Zealand.—(AP)—Young New Zealand women are embarking on an unprecedented migration to Britain.

Shipping officials say girls in their 20s and early 30s are forming the largest group of passengers in outgoing liners. Many of the cheaper cabins are shared by groups of young women bound for working holidays in Britain. For the most part they are working girls of good education who have saved for years for this opportunity of seeing something of the world.

Bigamy Trial Set

MESA, Ariz., May 26.—(AP)—George Merlin Dutton, excommunicated Mormon accused of having four wives, was freed on $1,500 bail Sunday pending a hearing for bigamy.

DEAD STOCK REMOVED PROMPTLY FREE OF CHARGE

Phone Collect 870 Circleville

Buchseib Fertilizer Co.

NO ONE had to turn in an alarm when the fire house at Urbana, O., was engulfed by flames. The firemen rolled out their equipment to fight the blaze which caused an estimated $300,000 damage to the 62-year-old city building which housed the mayor's office, municipal court, the jail and all city departments, including the fire department. No one was injured.

Pickaway Court News

Common Pleas Court

In divorce action of Raymond Haley vs. Ruth B. Haley, court orders husband to have custody of minor child Monday through Friday, wife to have custody from 10 a. m. Saturday until 8 p. m. Sunday. Court also orders husband pay $15 per week in support and $100 in expenses within six weeks.

In Walter Smith vs. Frieda Smith divorce action, court hears evidence on petition, answer and cross petition. Divorce petition dismissed. Court orders husband pay $15 per week in support.

Decree of divorce awarded to Mary Holloway Livesay from Kenneth Livesay, grounds of gross neglect of duty. Court restores her former name of Mary Holloway and awards property settlement. Couple had no children.

Local Patrolmen Nab Fleeing Man In Hectic Chase

An unidentified West Virginia man who eluded Circleville police and crashed a road block at Big Walnut Creek on Route 23 Sunday was arrested later near Columbus by State Highway Patrolmen Bob Greene and Gene Miller of Circleville.

The action happened early Sunday when a Circleville policeman sought to question the man. He fled from the officer.

The officer, on foot, called police headquarters and a cruiser was sent after the fleeing man. The cruiser was unable to catch him and the state patrol was alerted.

While one patrol car set up a block at Big Walnut Creek bridge, Patrolmen Greene and Miller began pursuit.

The fleeing man whipped around the roadblock at Big Walnut Creek, scraping his auto on the bridge in the effort, and continued his flight.

HOWEVER, he was arrested just south of Columbus on Route 23 when a tire of his auto was flattened by a shot.

Authorities were unable to determine the man's identity since he was carrying no means of identification. He is held in Columbus jail for resisting arrest and for driving without an operator's license while further investigation is made.

2 Sailors Killed In Ship Collision

WILMINGTON, Del., May 26.—(AP)—A tanker loaded with crude oil and a gasoline-laden barge collided in a driving rain on the Delaware River 15 miles south of here Sunday night, both exploding into flames that sent crewmen diving into the water.

Two men are reported dead, six missing and one injured crewman is at Wilmington General Hospital suffering from shock.

There were 39 survivors from the collision between the 10,441-ton tanker Michael and the 1,500-ton barge, A. J. Dodge.

The greenback was a name given to all United States banknotes in use during Civil War.

Earliest known specimens of glass date back to the Egyptians.

Europe's longest river is the Volga which is 2,325 miles long.

For Expert

FRONT END ALIGNMENT

As Low As $4.00 For Most Cars

Yates Buick Co.

1220 S. COURT ST. PHONE 790

Mainly About People

ONE MINUTE PULPIT

Character rests on convictions. If we have no convictions we are vulnerable to every mortal sin. He believed in the Lord, and he counted it to him for righteousness.—Gen. 15:6.

Richard Harris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Harris of 78 West Sixth street, Chillicothe, was admitted Sunday in Berger hospital as a medical patient.

Mrs. Theresa McFarland of Circleville Route 2 was admitted Sunday in Berger hospital as a medical patient.

All Circleville stores will remain open all day Wednesday, May 28 and close all day Decoration Day.

Henry Brown of Ashville Route 2 was admitted Sunday in Berger hospital as a medical patient.

Mrs. James Ford of 819 South Clinton street was admitted Sunday in Berger hospital as a medical patient.

Horn's Greenhouse in back yard of our residence, 225 Walnut St., south side, sign at post—has a large assortment of geraniums, potted plants and cemetery wreaths for Decoration Day—vegetable plants of all kind. Cemetery urns, large flower pots and novelty planters. We'll fill your porch boxes for you.

Charles McKenzie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence McKenzie of Circleville Route 1, was admitted Monday in Berger hospital for tonsillotomy.

John P. Carle of Cedar Heights road was admitted Monday in Berger hospital as a surgical patient.

Memo from Walnut Street Greenhouse—Memorial Day flowers, combination pots in 6 sizes, full of bloom. Full line of potted plants for porch boxes and cemetery urns.

Judy Stalder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Stalder of Lancaster Route 2, was admitted Monday in Berger hospital for tonsillotomy.

Mrs. Guy Allison and daughter were removed from Berger hospital Sunday to their home at 364 Long street.

There will be a bake sale Thursday, May 29 at Jim Brown's Store starting at 9:30 a. m., sponsored by Sigma Phi Gamma.

Mrs. Richard Fellmeth of 135 East Union street was discharged Sunday from Berger hospital, where she had been a surgical patient.

Mrs. Carrie Queen of Chillicothe Route 1 was discharged Sunday from Berger hospital, where she was a surgical patient.

Harrington Welding Shop, Western Ave. will be closed May 23 thru June 7.

Mrs. Ray Friend and son were removed from Berger hospital Saturday to their home at 125 Watt street.

Ross Moorehead of 32 East Main street, Columbus, was discharged Monday from Berger hospital where he was a medical patient.

Shirley and Elva Hoplite, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Adra Hoplite of Amanda Route 1, were discharged Sunday from Berger hospital, where they underwent tonsillectomies.

Mrs. George Coey and daughter were removed from Berger hospital Sunday to their home on Orient Route 1.

John W. Billingsley, 18, of Columbus, was fined $5 and costs last weekend in the court of South Bloomfield Mayor Walter Heise for insufficient brakes. He was arrested on Route 23 by State Highway Patrolman Bob Greene.

Two Pickaway County area men are aboard the transport Gen. A. W. Brewster, which arrived in San Francisco Sunday carrying combat veterans from Korea. They are Pfc. Elmer C. Cowan of Orient and Cpl. Jack N. Thompson of Laurelville.

Mrs. Phyllis Smith, of 126 Haywood avenue, was discharged Sunday from Berger hospital, where she had been a surgical patient.

Now

—And—

Tuesday

Now

—And—

Tuesday

JUNGLE-YING AGAINST KILLER OUTLAW HORSE!

The Lion and the Horse

WARNER BROS. PRESENTS

WARNERCOLOR

STARRING STEVE COCHRAN AND WILDFIRE, THE WONDER HORSE

WRITTEN BY CLARE WILSON BASED ON THE STORY BY LOUIS KING

Pete Smith Specialty — Cartoon — News

THE "COLONEL'S" largesse has finally landed Anthony C. Adams, 43-year-old messenger for the Union Stockyards & Transit company of Chicago, in trouble with the law. For a long time the "colonel" was admired by the habitués and owner of a tavern for his free-handed generosity, which included gifts of $5,000 to a union official for an operation, $9,650 to another union official for new clothes and $350 as a tip. Now he has been charged with forgery because company officials got to wondering about a number of vouchers bearing the signature of the firm's president. However, the $42-a-week messenger looks perfectly at ease after confessing his derelictions.

New Citizens

MISS JUSTUS

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Justus of 624 South Scioto street are parents of a daughter, born at 6:47 a. m. Saturday in Berger hospital.

MASTER RHODS

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Rhoads of Circleville Route 1 are parents of a son, born at 6:47 p. m. Saturday in Berger hospital.

MISS SPEAKMAN

Mr. and Mrs. William Speakman of Chillicothe Route 6 are parents of a daughter, born at 8:20 p. m. Sunday in Berger hospital.

MASTER BEARD

Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Beard of Key West, Fla., are parents of a son, born May 6 in the US Naval hospital in Key West, where Beard is stationed with the US Navy. Mrs. Beard is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Walters of Orient.

2 Drunk Drivers Lose Licenses Three Years

Two drunken drivers—one operating while his license was suspended—have lost their driving rights a total of three years in Pickaway County common pleas court.

They were Glenn B. Forrest, 25, of 420 East Union street; and Earl Glenn, 38, of Columbus.

Forrest was fined $25 and costs, sentenced to 30 days in jail (suspended) and lost his driving rights for one year for drunken driving. He was arrested by State Highway Patrolmen Bob Greene and Gene Miller on Walnut Creek Pike.

Earl Glenn was fined $25 and costs, sentenced to 30 days in jail (suspended) and lost his driving rights for two years for drunken driving; and sentenced to three days in jail for driving under revocation. His license was suspended earlier by Columbus municipal court.

GLENN was arrested on Route 23 by State Highway Patrolman J. W. O'Neil.

Both men appeared before the court of Judge William D. Radcliff on affidavits presented by Prosecutor Guy Cline.

Crash Kills 26

CHONOMAS, Mex., May 26.—(AP)—A truck loaded with political supporters of anti-government presidential candidates overturned Sunday, killing 26 men and injuring 27 others.

combat veterans from Korea. They are Pfc. Elmer C. Cowan of Orient and Cpl. Jack N. Thompson of Laurelville.

Mrs. Phyllis Smith, of 126 Haywood avenue, was discharged Sunday from Berger hospital, where she had been a surgical patient.

DEATHS and Funerals

LEROY McMULLEN

LeRoy McMullen, 75, of East High street, died at 1:15 p. m. Saturday in Berger hospital following an illness of three weeks. He was a retired plumber.

Mr. McMullen was born November 24, 1876, in Circleville, son of G. J. and Martha Flohr McMullen.

His wife, Katherine Kent McMullen, survives. Other survivors include two daughters, Kathryn M. Drum of Barnesville, and Mrs. Ursula Wolfe of Circleville; a son, Kent McMullen, of Circleville; seven grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday in Mader Chapel with the Rev. Robert Weaver officiating. Pallbearers will be Harrison Wolfe, Ned Wolfe, Donald Pontious, Paul Drum, John Drum and John Riley. Burial will be in Forest Cemetery.

Friends may call in the funeral home.

JACOB CHILCOTE

Jacob Henry Chilcote, 67, died at 6:30 a. m. Sunday in Pickaway County Home.

Mr. Chilcote was a former employee for Container Corporation, where he suffered the loss of a leg in an accident.

He was born June 1, 1884, in Hooking County, son of Shrade, and Lillie May Chilcote. He was unmarried.

Surviving him are a brother, Ben F. Chilcote, of Circleville Route 3; and two sisters, Mrs. Amanda Wolfe of Chillicothe and Mrs. Almeda Humble of Columbus.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday in Church of Christ in Christian Union with the Rev. O. L. Ferguson officiating. Burial will be in Forest cemetery.

Friends may call in Defenbaugh Funeral Home.

Youth, 17, Drowns In Rescue Try

MARION, May 26.—(AP)—Fifteen-year-old Robert Fick of Richmond, Union County, suffered a head while swimming in a water-filled stone quarry north of Marion Sunday. His buddy, Donald Weavers, 17, of Marion, dove in after him. Fick managed to reach the shore. Weavers went under and apparently drowned.

Queen Mary Is 85

LONDON, May 26.—(AP)—Queen Mary was 85 years old Monday. First to deliver congratulations were her great grandchildren, Prince Charles and Princess Anne.

STARLIGHT

CRUISE

STOUTVILLE RD. OFF RT. 22 EAST

2 SHOWS NIGHTLY 7:00-9:00

LAST TIMES TONIGHT

TO SEE THIS EVER-LOVABLE SHOW

Meet WALT DISNEY'S New characters in his Full-length production!

WALT DISNEY'S FIRST FEATURE

Snow White

AND THE SEVEN DWARFS

Plus—Olympic Elk In Technicolor

STARTS TUESDAY

NEW WESTERN THRILLS!

RANDOLPH SCOTT

MAN IN THE SADDLE

Color by TECHNICOLOR

JOAN LESLIE ELLEN DREW ALEXANDER KNOX

Cartoon—"Elephant Mouse" Sport—"Crocodile Hunters"

FRIDAY

Decoration Day

SPECTACULAR FIREWORKS DISPLAY

Come Early

RELAX! ENJOY A MOVIE—

Chakares Theatre

CLIFTONA

Circleville, Ohio.

Now—Tues.—Wed.

2 ACTION COLOR HITS

THE HIGHWAYMAN

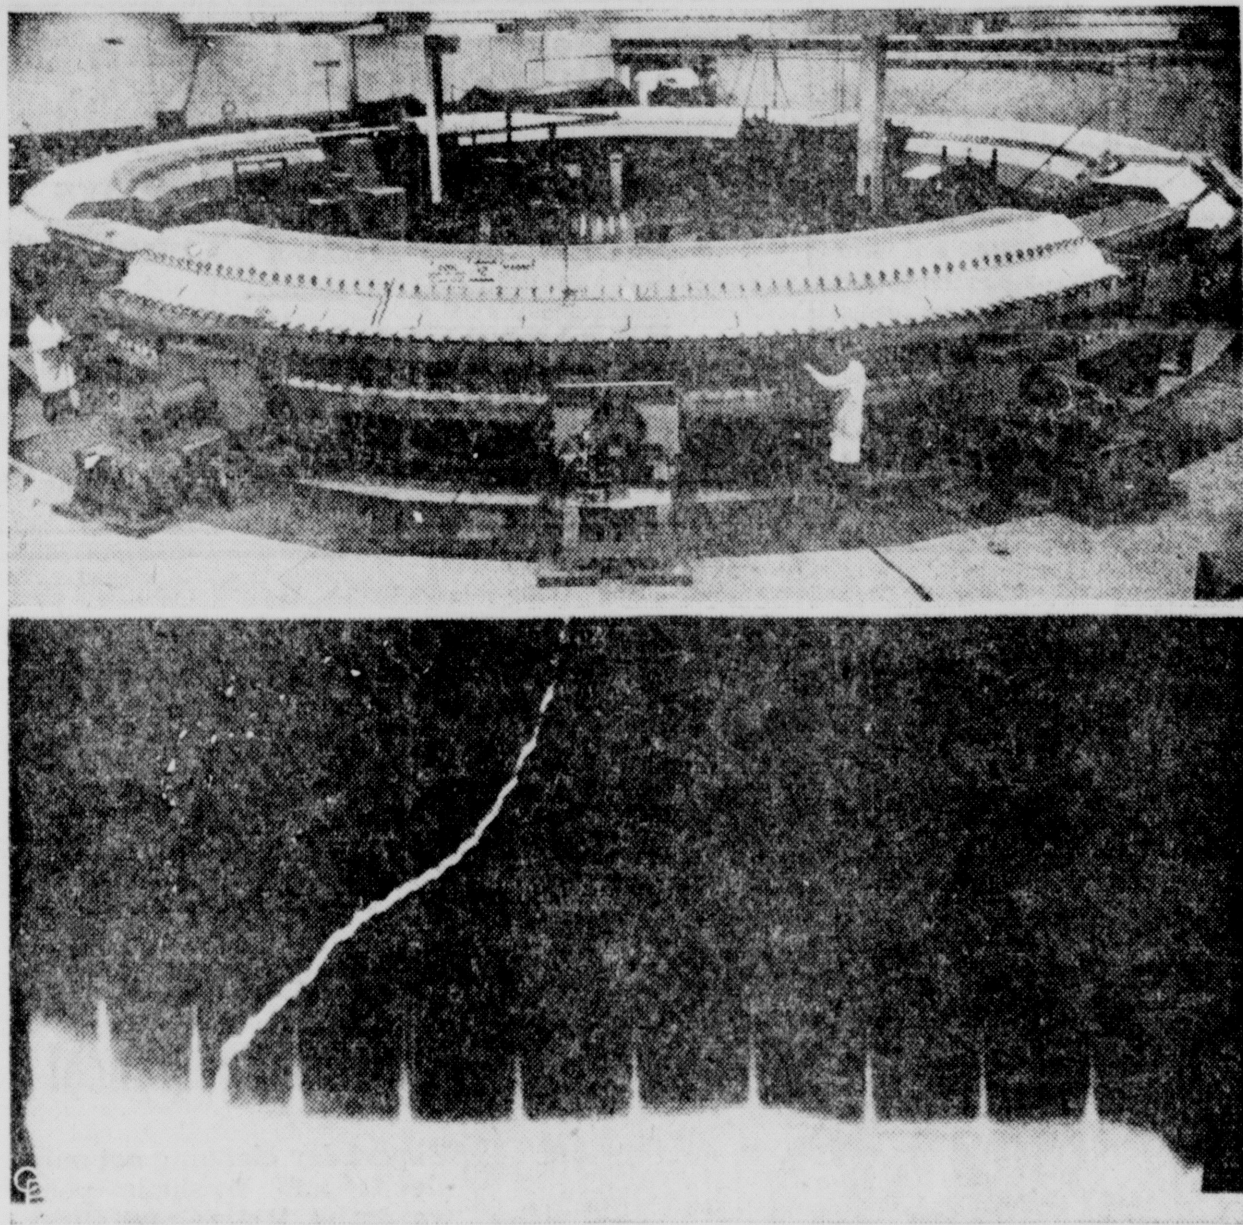

PHILIP FRIEND CHARLES COBURN WANDA HENDRIX

—HIT NO. 2—

"OUTLAW WOMEN"

Starring—Marie Windsor Richard Rober Carla Balenda

"Nit Witty Kitty" Cartoon

PICTURED FOR THE FIRST TIME (top) is the revolutionary new cosmotron that generated the first billion-volt atomic bullets ever made by man during a test at the Brookhaven National Laboratory in Upton, N. Y. Scientists declared this marks a new era in physics and is considered more important than the historic experiment in 1942 when it was revealed that an atomic bomb was possible. Instead of converting matter into energy, however, the cosmotron will make possible the creation of matter out of energy. Photo at bottom shows the screen of an oscilloscope as it recorded the one billion, three-hundred million volts to which atomic particles were accelerated. Scientists hope to bring this up to two billion volts, an energy heretofore available only in cosmic rays. A $4,000,000 A.E.C. fund financed the huge project. (International)

Dallas Elliott Jr. Wins Prize For Best 'Letter To Mother'

Pfc. Dallas Elliott Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Elliott of 220 North Pickaway street, was winner of a recent "letter to mother" contest in Fulda, Germany.

The contest was sponsored by Elliott's 14th Armored Cavalry Regiment on Mother's Day.

Elliott, mail clerk for his company, wrote the following prize-winning letter:

"Dearest Mother:

"Although I am thousands of miles away, you are always on my mind especially during the month of May. May is the month set aside for you, mother. May is the month that touches the hearts of all the boys in the service who are away from home on Mother's Day.

"Many things are sacrificed to have what we want on earth.

"When you brought me into this world, you underwent many hardships. Now you are having to sacrifice me to the service of my country in order to bring about world peace, so that we all may be free from harm and aggression.

"You are the one person I hold more dearly to my heart than anything else on earth. If it hadn't of been for you, I would of never been able to enjoy the great things of life.

"I have never before been away from you on Mother's Day. The world situation is keeping me from being with you. The financial and political status of Europe and other parts of the world is very poor. I am over here serving my country to protect the world from such evil forces bestowed on us from Russia.

"I want to wish you a very happy Mother's Day, and I hope I can be with you soon.

"Give my love to dad, and tell him I said, to take care of my wonderful mother."

THE CIRCLEVILLE soldier's letter won first prize, a free telephone call to his mother, on the basis of sincerity, love and the political situation of Europe today.

Elliott was graduated by Circleville high school and drafted into the Army Feb. 15, 1951. He underwent basic training in Ft. Knox, Ky., and was transferred overseas. He holds the European ribbon decoration.

Present service address for the Circleville soldier is: Hq. and Hq. Co., 14th Armored Cavalry Regiment, APO 46, care of Postmaster, New York City, N.Y.

Otterbein Grads To Hear Cordier

WESTERVILLE, May 26 — (P-

Dr. Andrew Cordier, executive assistant to the secretary-general of the United Nations, will be principal speaker at Otterbein College commencement exercises here June 2.

The school will grant honorary degrees to three men—Cordier; the Rev. E. E. Nietz, superintendent of the Ohio Southeast Conference of the Evangelical United Brethren Church, and Glenn G. Grabill, retired Otterbein music professor.

MAKE MONEY SPARE TIME OR START A BUSINESS

LEARN UPHOLSTERING

Easy to learn at home! Easy to start a shop, or earn spare-time profits! You can make money as you train. Our practical home study course shows you every step with many drawings and photographs. You also receive a complete set of upholsterer's tools, and all materials with frame to build a beautiful ottoman. Write for valuable FREE information on this money-making craft.

COMMERCIAL TRADES INSTITUTE
Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

2M-02-3M-56 CRISPY — Clean tailoring in a cool all rayon Jantzen boxer. Hidden drawstring keeps the 3-needle boxer waist snug... acetate-and-nylon supporter is ideal for swimming: full-size, elasticized legs. Keep your keys in the button-down flap pocket. 9 smart sun-and-watertested colors. 28-40. 3.50.

TEE SHIRT... smart 3-tone stripes, non-stretch crew neck. Full-cut of finest all-combed two-ply cotton yarn. 7 brilliant color combinations. S-M-L. 2.95.

KINSEY'S MEN'S SHOP

Grab Your Yardstick and Measure Your Rooms!

Griffith Floorcovering Brings You Tremendous Values!

CARPET BARGAINS

ENDS OF ROLLS—REMNANTS—ALL FIRST QUALITY!

All Wool Twist
Size 9 x 12 Foot

One of the finest twists made today. Beautiful decorator green. This piece remains from a roll we used to carpet a home.

Reg. Price $160.00

Sale $99.19

Here is your opportunity to make a real buy on carpet or rugs. Measure your rooms and then check the list and you may be the lucky one who has a room that one of these super-bargains will fit.

We cannot advertise the name of the manufacturer, for all of these carpets were sold at a set price per square yard, but we are allowed to reduce the price on remnants and roll ends and sell them out.

These pieces listed are naturally the patterns selling best today, notice the number of grey, green and beige listed.

Prices quoted as regular price is the price at which all the rest of the carpet in the roll was sold, so you can see what terrific buys they are.

Each remnant or roll end will be sold exactly as is as to size. We will not cut any piece, but you will notice that if a carpet is listed as 12 x 14 and you need a 12 x 12, you can buy the piece and have a 12 x 12 cut, then we can make you throw rugs or runner from the extra piece.

If you need carpet, and want a bargain don't miss these.

Red Self-Tone

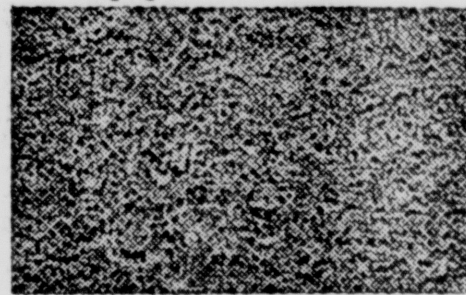

9 Foot x 11 Foot 10 Inch

Suitable for any room. Save almost half over what it sold for at fair trade price.

Reg. Price $72.00

Sale $41.00

Apple Green Famous Twist Carpet

One of the fastest selling twists sold today. The lustrous solid color provides ease in decorating with either harmonizing or contrasting shades. The entire roll sold at $10.95 a square yard.

Size 12 Foot By 13 Foot 3 Inch

Regular $193.75 SOLD

Textured Leaf Carpet

The best axminster. Unusually fine coloring in green, this year's best color.

Size 15 9 Foot x 12 Foot 10 Inches

Regular Price $136.50 Sale $89.12

Popular Floral Pattern

If you have a small room you can really save on this best quality carpet. Grey floral in height of fashion.

Size 9 Foot x 8 Foot

Regular $84.00 Sale $29.00

Grey Floral In Best Carpet

Cool grey damasked fern ground with white and rose colored flowers. Our best floral in this famous mills line.

Size 12 Foot x 11 Foot

Regular Fair Trade Price $154.00 Sale $99.16

Remnant Green Twist

Maybe you have a hall or small room where this would fit. You save plenty if you can use it.

Size 9 Foot x 5 Foot 6 Inches

Regular $54.72 Sale $19.21

Beige Sculptured Carpet

You couldn't want a better axminster than this to go with any color scheme. Best Quality.

Size 9 Foot x 12 Foot

Regular $130.40 Sale $96.00

Grey Carved Wilton

This is a real piece of carpet both in looks and wear. You'll have to feel this deep pile and see the beauty to appreciate it.

Size 9 Foot 9 Inch x 15 Foot

Regular $223.20 Sale $144.91

18th Century Floral

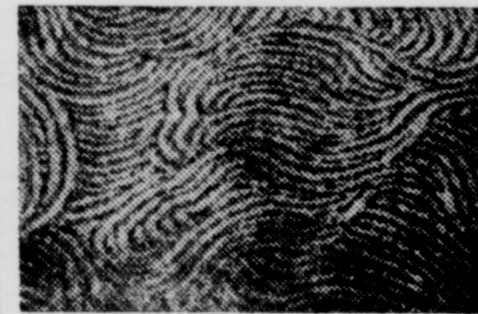

Rich pastel floral on warm beige ground. Best quality axminster.

Size 12 Foot x 10 Ft. 5 Inch

Regular $153.30

Sale $97.94

Tiber Green In Very Best Axminster

Textured and simulated embossed scroll features this finest of fast selling, top quality rugs. Today's price on everything but roll ends is $10.50 a square yard.

Size 9 Foot x 18 Foot

Regular $189.00 Sale $131.00

Green Carved Wilton

Deep piled carved wilton that is a terrific seller. This is one of the most popular types this year.

Size 9 Foot x 15 Foot 6 Inch

Regular $164.25 Sale $96.18

Green Tahitian Leaf

Self tone in cool refreshing green. In popular grade of good axminster.

Size 9 Foot x 8 Foot 6 Inches

Regular $76.37 Sale $28.42

Our Fastest Selling Green Twist

This entire roll sold at $10.95 a square yard. This last piece is going out at this low price.

Size 9 Foot 1 Inch x 12 Foot

Regular $119.40 Sale $79.71

18th Century Floral

Small remnant of a fine carpet. Check your rooms and halls for this.

Size 9 Foot x 5 Foot

Reg. $54.75 Sale $19.10

Just A Few Left! 9 x 2 Rug and Pad $59.00

Modern Pastel Floral

Overall versatility in a modern decorative approach with a large and bold modern floral. Best Quality.

Size 9 Foot x 8 Foot 9 Inch

Reg. $93.07 Sale $39.18

New Green Wilton

Three shades of green in a high-low loop pile rug. You'll love this carpet.

Size 9 Ft. x 10 Ft. 3 Inch

Regular Sale $101.00

Sale Price $59.12

Budget Terms Can Be Arranged!

Griffith Floorcovering

155 W. MAIN ST.

CIRCLEVILLE, O.

TODAY!

Get a Set of
GOOD YEAR
PUNCTURE SEAL TUBES

Pay Later!

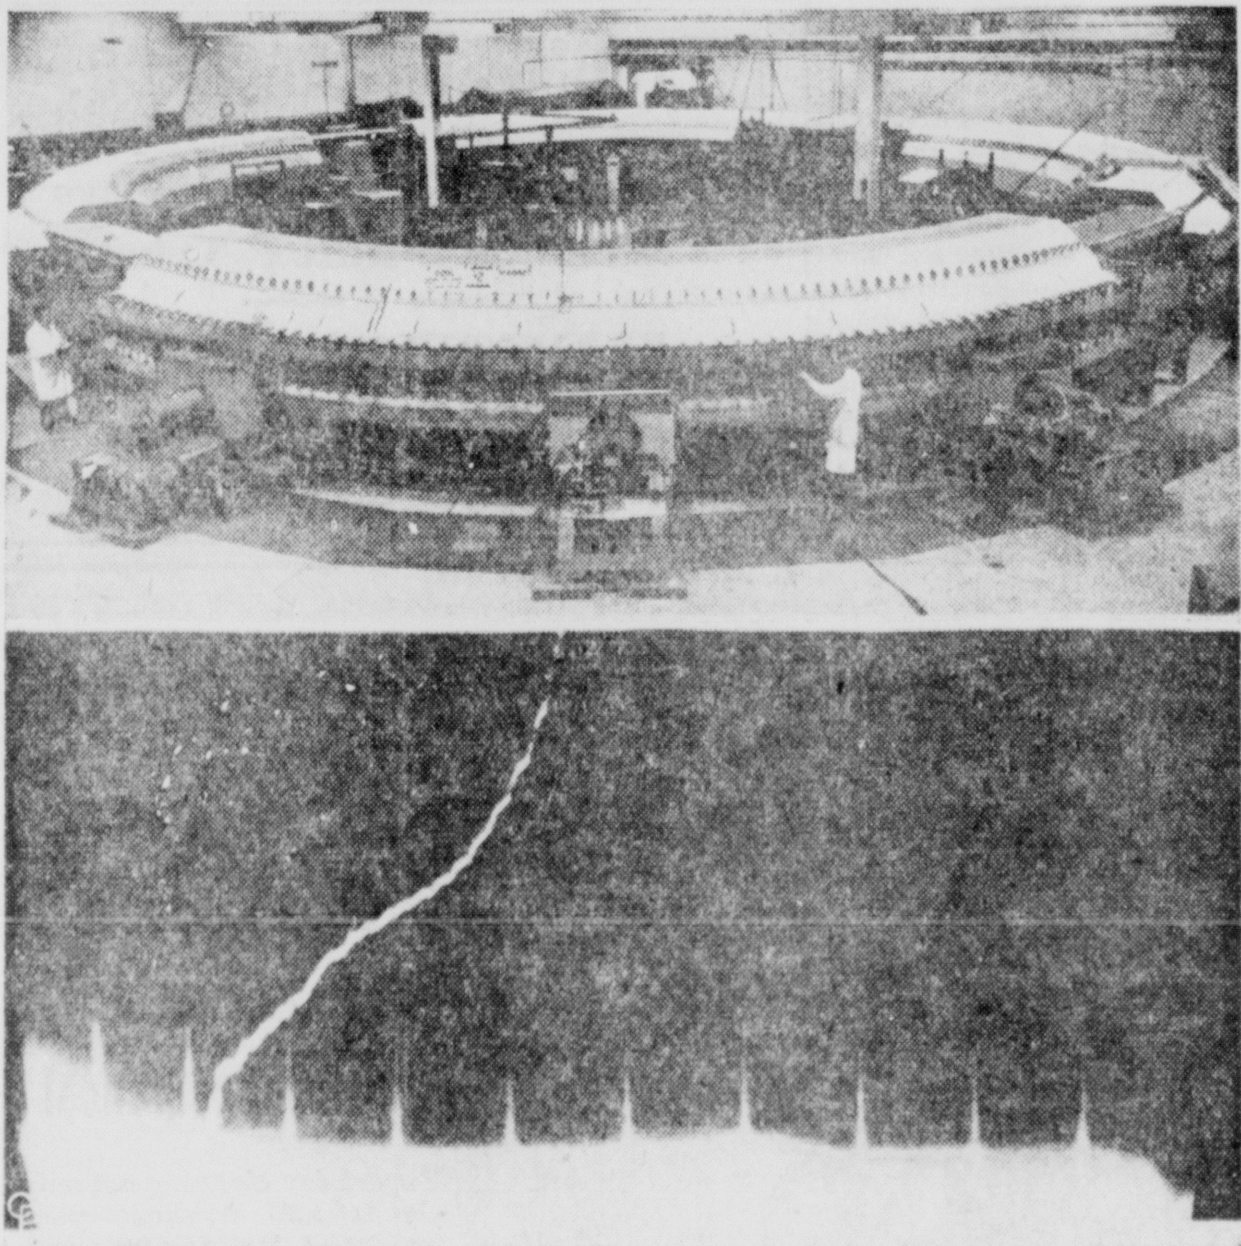

USE OUR

GOOD YEAR
EASY PAY PLAN

Terms as low as 1.25 a week

MAC'S
113 E. MAIN ST.
PHONE 689

PICTURED FOR THE FIRST TIME (top) is the revolutionary new cosmotron that generated the first billion-volt atomic bullets ever made by man during a test at the Brookhaven National Laboratory in Upton, N. Y. Scientists declared this marks a new era in physics and is considered more important than the historic experiment in 1942 when it was revealed that an atomic bomb was possible. Instead of converting matter into energy, however, the cosmotron will make possible the creation of matter out of energy. Photo at bottom shows the screen of an oscilloscope as it recorded the one billion, three-hundred million volts to which atomic particles were accelerated. Scientists hope to bring this up to two billion volts, an energy heretofore available only in cosmic rays. A $4,000,000 A.E.C. fund financed the huge project. (International)

Dallas Elliott Jr. Wins Prize For Best 'Letter To Mother'

Pfc. Dallas Elliott Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Elliott of 220 North Pickaway street, was winner of a recent "letter to mother" contest in Fulda, Germany.

The contest was sponsored by Elliott's 14th Armored Cavalry Regiment on Mother's Day. Elliott, mail clerk for his company, wrote the following prize-winning letter:

"Dearest Mother: Although I am thousands of miles away, you are always on my mind especially during the month of May. May is the month set aside for you, mother. May is the month that touches the hearts of all the boys in the service who are away from home on Mother's Day.

"Many things are sacrificed to have what we want on earth.

"When you brought me into this world, you underwent many hardships. Now you are having to sacrifice me to the service of my country in order to bring about world peace, so that we all may be free from harm and aggression.

"You are the one person I hold more dearly to my heart than any-

Otterbein Grads To Hear Cordier

WESTERVILLE, May 26 — Dr. Andrew Cordier, executive assistant to the secretary-general of the United Nations, will be principal speaker at Otterbein College commencement exercises here June 2.

The school will grant honorary degrees to three men—Cordier; the Rev. E. E. Nietz, superintendent of the Ohio Southeast Conference of the Evangelical United Brethren Church, and Glenn G. Grabill, retired Otterbein music professor.

"I have never before been away from you on Mother's Day. The world situation is keeping me from being with you. The financial and political status of Europe and other parts of the world is very poor. I am over here serving my country to protect the world from such evil forces bestowed on us from Russia.

"I want to wish you a very happy Mother's Day, and I hope I can be with you soon.

"Give my love to dad, and tell him I said, to take care of my wonderful mother."

THE CIRCLEVILLE soldier's letter won first prize, a free telephone call to his mother, on the basis of sincerity, love and the political situation of Europe today.

Elliott was graduated by Circleville high school and drafted into the Army Feb. 15, 1951. He underwent basic training in Ft. Knox, Ky., and was transferred overseas. He holds the European ribbon decoration.

Present service address for the Circleville soldier is: Hq. and Hq. Co., 14th Armored Cavalry Regiment, APO 46, care of Postmaster, New York City, N.Y.

COMMERCIAL TRADES INSTITUTE

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Dept. Chicago 26, Ill.

Grab Your Yardstick and Measure Your Rooms!

Griffith Floorcovering Brings You Tremendous Values!

CARPET BARGAINS

ENDS OF ROLLS—REMNANTS—ALL FIRST QUALITY!

All Wool Twist
Size 9 x 12 Foot

One of the finest twists made today. Beautiful decorator green. This piece remains from a roll we used to carpet a home.

Reg. Price $160.00
Sale $99.19

Here is your opportunity to make a real buy on carpet or rugs. Measure your rooms and then check the list and you may be the lucky one who has a room that one of these super-bargains will fit.

We cannot advertise the name of the manufacturer, for all of these carpets were sold at a set price per square yard, but we are allowed to reduce the price on remnants and roll ends and sell them out.

These pieces listed are naturally the patterns selling best today, notice the number of grey, green and beige listed.

Prices quoted as regular price is the price at which all the rest of the carpet in the roll was sold, so you can see what terrific buys they are.

Each remnant or roll end will be sold exactly as is as to size. We will not cut any piece, but you will notice that if a carpet is listed as 12 x 14 and you need a 12 x 12, you can buy the piece and have a 12 x 12 cut, then we can make you throw rugs or runner from the extra piece.

If you need carpet, and want a bargain don't miss these.

Red Self-Tone

9 Foot x 11 Foot 10 Inch

Suitable for any room. Save almost half over what it sold for at fair trade price.

Reg. Price $72.00
Sale $41.00

Apple Green Famous Twist Carpet

One of the fastest selling twists sold today. The lustrous solid color provides ease in decorating with either harmonizing or contrasting shades. The entire roll sold at $10.95 a square yard.

Size 12 Foot By 13 Foot 3 Inch
Regular $193.75 SOLD

Textured Leaf Carpet

The best axminster. Unusually fine coloring in green, this year's best color.

Size 12 Foot x 12 Foot 10 Inches
Regular Price $136.50 Sale $89.12

Popular Floral Pattern

If you have a small room you can really save on this best quality carpet. Grey floral in height of fashion.

Size 9 Foot x 8 Foot
Regular $84.00 Sale $29.00

Grey Floral In Best Carpet

Cool grey damasked fern ground with white and rose colored flowers. Our best floral in this famous mills line.

Size 12 Foot x 11 Foot
Regular Fair Trade Price $154.00 Sale $99.16

Remnant Green Twist

MIGHTY MO, AMERICA'S WILDEST RIVER; ALL AGREE IT MUST BE TAMED—BUT HOW?

(EDITOR'S NOTE—The first of three articles on problems created by America's rampaging river—the Missouri.)

By DAVID A. HELLER
Central Press Correspondent

WASHINGTON—“The Missouri river,” wrote author George Fitch way back in 1907, “is the only one that goes traveling sideways, interferes in politics, rearranges geography and dabbles in real estate.”

Fitch never knew how right he was.

What with going on two rampages in a little less than a year, and doing damage to property estimated at up to a billion and a half dollars in the last 12 months, the Mighty Mo has rearranged plenty of geography and kicked up a first class political row that promises to have an important bearing on who is elected President this fall.

Senator James E. Murray of Montana, aided by Senator Paul H. Douglas of Illinois and nine other U. S. senators, incensed over the recent floods and alleged failure of the Army Corps of Engineers to control the Missouri, has begun pressing for a bill to create a vast, 10-state Missouri Valley Authority.

The MVA, one of the most torrid political hot potatoes of all time, would be patterned after the Tennessee Valley Authority of New Deal days. Feeling for and against it runs high in Congress and residents of the 10 states concerned are up in arms demanding that steps be taken to prevent a repetition of the disasters of this year and last.

THE taxpayers have a big stake in flood control and irrigation plans in the Missouri Valley, too. The total cost may well run up as high as $20 billion. Even in this day of the inflated dollar, that's a lot of folding money. Three government agencies are now engaged in a battle royal over which will play the major role in the eventual harnessing of the Missouri river.

What are the facts?

The problem is so huge that it staggers the imagination. The Missouri basin extends from Montana to Missouri covering the states of Wyoming, North and South Dakota, Nebraska, Colorado, Kansas, Minnesota and Iowa as well.

This region, covering a vast 530,000 square miles of American soil — (the river is 1,300 miles long) suffers from a paradoxical problem. It has too much water and it has too little water.

Droughts and floods have alternated in wreaking havoc there for generations.

Who can't remember the terrible

The Missouri's raging waters have done vast damage to the midwest.

Missouri Valley dust storms, such as this, may plague us again.

dust storms of the 1930's, when swirling black clouds carried away tons of the best topsoil from the Great Plains and left it a parched, sun-baked desert?

The floods which washed more millions of tons of precious topsoil down the river, killed over 50 persons in a year, and submerged millions of acres of farmland, are the other side of the cycle.

On all sides insistent demands that something be done are heard. Everybody agrees that the price of inaction is too high to pay. The river must be harnessed. But how and by who?

AGREEMENT stops there. The 2,650-mile long Missouri forms the second biggest river basin in America and pegging it down has been compared to trying to grab and tame a big, ornery python.

Dozens of plans for taming America's wildest river have been advanced, but only three have a chance of being adopted. They are: the Pick-Sloan plan, the current favorite, named for Gen. Lewis A.

Pick of the Army Engineers Corps, and Glenn Sloan, formerly regional head of the Federal Bureau of Reclamation; the Department of Agriculture plan; and the Missouri Valley Authority, first advanced by President Franklin D. Roosevelt and now sponsored by Senators Murray and Douglas.

All three plans are scrambling for congressional approval. The Pick-Sloan plan is leading in the race. It already has partial congressional approval and the backing of President Truman. MVA advocates, however, are determined and include many influential congressmen.

Whatever plan is adopted, (and one will be soon), a vast portion of America is destined to be recast. The “lost frontier,” as the region has been called, will be transformed into a bustling new country, with abundant electric power, new water resources to help raise more farm crops, and many recreational paradises.

NEXT—High Cost of Reclamation.

Novelty Makers Seek Gadgets To Join With Kefauver's Cap

By JOHN F. SEMBOWER

CHICAGO—What symbols and slogans—such as the fabulous brown derby, full dinner pail, bull moose, log cabin and jug of hard cider, and the sunflower of past campaigns—will the burgeoning presidential race develop in the next few months?

Enterprising gadgeteers who are ready to put hundreds of thousands of dollars into souvenirs and campaign regalia for the national political convention here next July wish they knew.

So far, the one they feel certain about is Senator Kefauver's coonskin cap, and thousands of families are in the works without any apparent concern being felt for the fact that such a headdress is likely to be a little unseasonal for summertime.

This figures to be a boom year for such oddments of the political scene, considering the current tremendous popularity for no particular reason of Confederate and Union military caps and flags from the Civil war period.

“People just seem to go for such things in a big way,” a novelty manufacturer explained, as much at a loss as anyone to say exactly why some things—such as those fox tails for auto radiator caps a few years ago—catch on the way they do.

POLITICAL TRADE marks, however, have a much more logical foundation, and are an accepted part of the national scene in any election year. The candidate who has one is figured to have a head start on capturing the imagination of the voters.

Many seem to result from initially uncomplimentary remarks cleverly turned to good purpose by the intended victim. Among these were the log cabin and jug of hard cider which became the motif for William Henry Harrison's rousing Whig triumph in 1839. They set a mark for all candidates from that day to this.

It all started because a Democratic editor roasted Harrison with: “Give him a barrel of hard cider, settle a pension of $2,000 a year on him, and my word for it, he will sit for the remainder of his days in his log cabin by the side of a sea, coal fire, studying moral philosophy.”

Exuberant Whigs paraded log cabin floats at every rally and lived things with gallons of hard cider.

The rafters rang with the slogan,

Air Force OKs Navy Measures

WASHINGTON, May 26—The Air Force will start using Navy measurements—knots and nautical miles, instead of miles per hour and statute miles—on July 1.

The Defense Department said the change had been approved by the Air Coordinating Committee, established by President Truman in 1946, in an effort to eliminate confusion in aircraft traffic control.

A nautical mile measures 6,080 feet, as compared with 5,280 in the statute, or land, mile. The knot is a measure of speed, one knot equaling one nautical mile per hour.

“Tippecanoe and Tyler, too,” and Harrison, prosperous squire of a large Ohio farm, become a homespun hero.

Although Kefauver's coonskin cap often is mistakenly taken for a copy of the Harrison symbols, it actually arose when Ed Crump, Memphis boss, tried to portray the reform candidate for the Senate as a radical and called him “a pet coon of the Communists.”

The quiet and dignified Tennessee who promptly donned a coonskin hat and swept the election, still wears it with good effect wherever he campaigns for Democratic delegates to the presidential nomination and it looms as a “natural” the same as Al Smith's indigenous brown derby and Alf Landon's yellow sunflower.

Some makers of novelties here remember with homesickness the man they consider the greatest corner of symbols and slogans of the era—Theodore Roosevelt.

IN HIS TELEGRAM in 1900 to GOP chairman Mark Hanna accepting nomination as William McKinley's running mate, he announced that he felt “as strong as a bull moose.” Progressives who nominated him in 1912 as a third party candidate chose the bull moose as their emblem.

Roosevelt had many other indicia, however, including his Rough Rider campaign hat, the “big stick” he used in his trust busting, and even the nursery recreations of the bear cub he made a pet of on one of his hunting trips and which became a new dictionary word, the Teddy bear.

Not all symbols became cam-

NEED A GOOD USED CAR?

—See—

‘Wes’ Edstrom

150 E. Main St. Phone 321

FOR THE BEST BUY!

THOMPSON-LEACH CO.

Sales and Service

Dodge and Plymouth Cars
Dodge ‘Job-Rated’ Trucks

DEPENDABLE USED CARS

120 E. Franklin St.

Phone 361

Good Cleaning
Preserves A
Smart Appearance!

Expert dry cleaning not only cleans and freshens your wardrobe, it also revitalizes your clothing. “Tired” garments wake up to new life with our service.

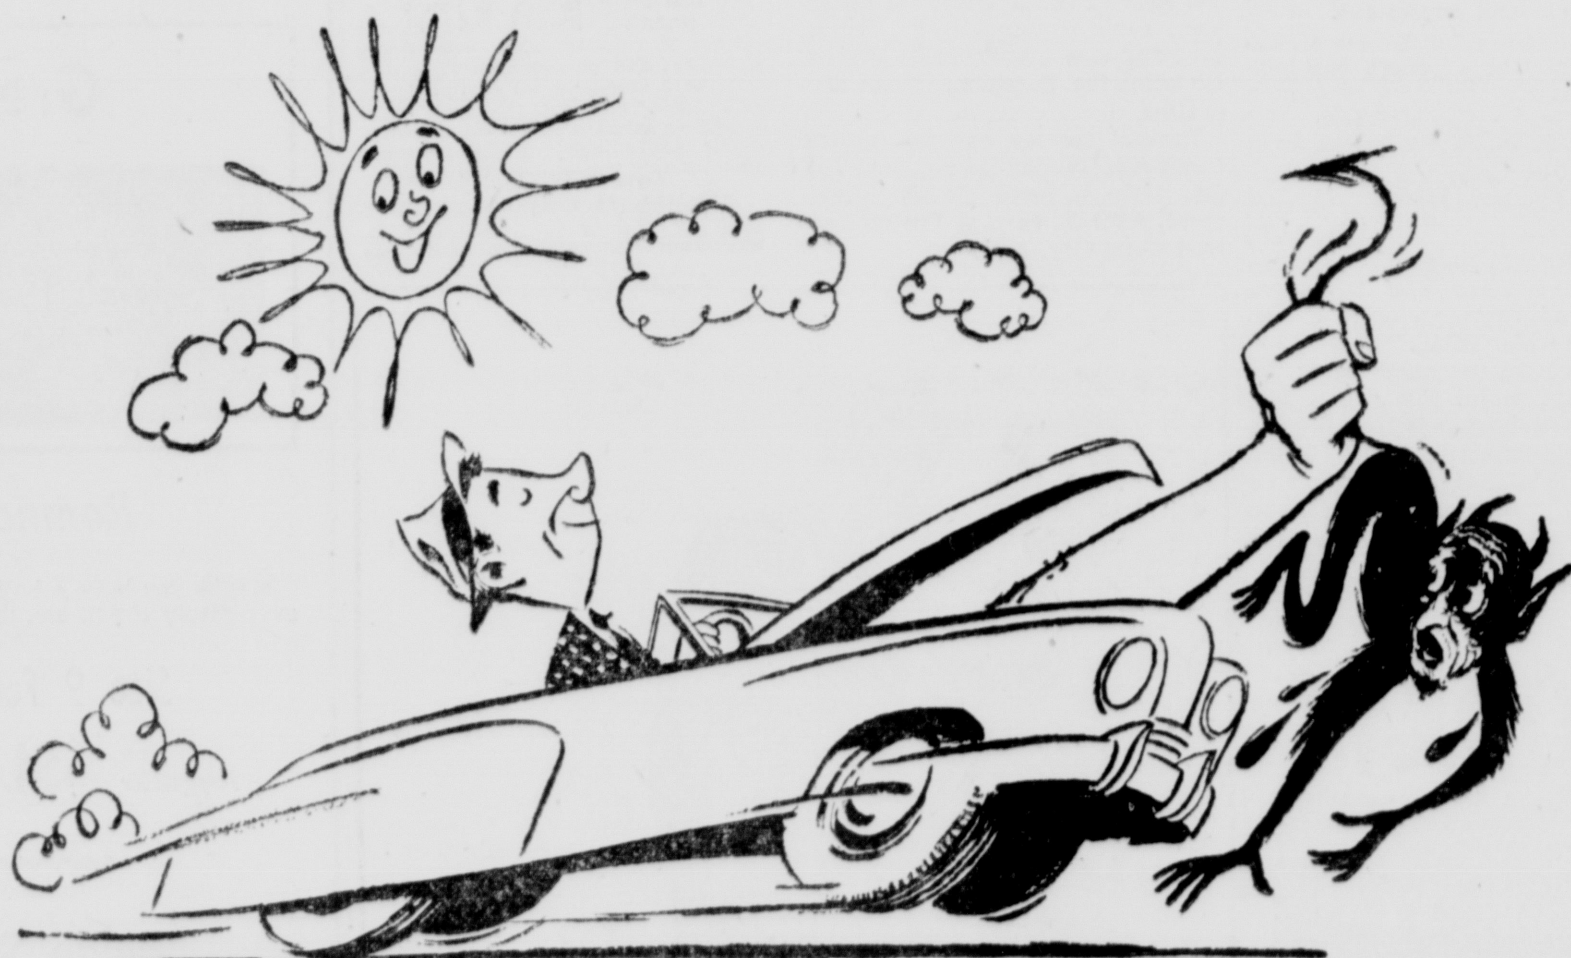

Phone
710

For Prompt Pickup Service

Barnhills'

Over 44 Years Your Cleaners In Circleville

Chases dirt... saves hurt!

New HQD cleans thoroughly while you drive!

Thomas R. Ford, Jr.—Orange Village, Ohio
'41 Hudson—87,000 miles

“We took the valve covers off the engine last June and you should have seen the sludge and corrosion—so I tried HQD, and by golly, you should see how clean it is now. I know I'm getting 2 to 3 miles more gas mileage—not using any oil now, was adding 2 quarts between changes. You can't sell me on HQD—I'm already sold!”

For a smoother running, longer lasting, more powerful engine... use Sohio HQD... the EXTRA DUTY Motor Oil that keeps your engine FREE of dirt and deposits.

Anti-acid... Anti-rust... High V.I... More than just a motor oil!

Eucharistic Congress Set For Opening

BARCELONA, May 26—(AP)—Hundreds of Catholic prelates and half a million pilgrims from almost every country on earth crowded this city for the opening Tuesday of the first World Eucharistic Congress in 14 years.

When the last such congress was held in Budapest in 1938, an uneasy world, then as now, was trying to avoid a war. The central theme of the prayers for this Congress is peace—peace of man with himself; peace in his home and the factory; peace among nations, and peace in the church of Christ.

Every non-Communist country in the world is represented among the host of pilgrims in this second city of Spain. The countries dominated by Soviet communism are represented only by their exiles.

The congress honors the Catholic belief in the holy eucharist, the belief that Jesus Christ is truly present in the bread and wine of the sacrament of holy communion. The first such celebration was held at Lille, France, in 1881. This week's gathering is the 35th.

Tremendous preparations have been made for the congress, one of the most spectacular events of the church. The Spanish government, the city of Barcelona and the Spanish church all have cooperated in the great effort.

Millions of pesetas have been spent for the five-day program. Special open-air altars, richly ornamented, have been erected throughout the city. Surpassing them all is a gigantic altar 146 feet high, topped by a 114-foot cross, in the heart of the city.

Farm Is Kept By Family

DES MOINES (AP)—Few farms have been kept in the family as long as a quarter section of land near Ft. Dodge owned by 81-year-old John Hogan.

The land was purchased in 1856

by Hogan's father for $1.25 an acre. The original deed was signed by President Franklin Pierce.

Hogan has lived on the farm all but two years of his life. His seven brothers and sisters were born and grew up there.

EXCITING NEW SCIENTIFIC DISCOVERY PERFORMS CARPET CLEANING MAGIC!!

Nationally Famous

GLAMORENE

the home beauty treatment for your rugs...
Quick—Safe—Easy! Completely Different! Not a liquid soap foam or powder! Packed ready to use! Sprinkle on, Brush in, Vacuum off. DIRTS GONE! CARPETS DRY, ready to walk on in 15 minutes. Removes Food Stains, Grease, Gum, Lipstick, Tar... even Shoe Polish. One Gallon Beautifully Cleans approximately Four 9x12 rugs. Half Gallon $2.29, Gallon $3.79.

at MASON FURNITURE

Satisfaction Guaranteed

MR. FARMER:

Does Your Farm Loan Have These Six Advantages?

1. Low interest rate for a long term?
2. Regular payments that cut down the principal as you go?
3. Permission to make extra payments in good years?
4. Privilege of arranging smaller payments in bad years?
5. A lender who will be in business for the life of the loan?
6. Small enough installments so you can pay them when your income drops?

You may secure a Federal Land Bank loan that has All of these features through the—

Pickaway County National Farm Loan Ass'n.

9 E. Main St. Circleville

FOR FUN-IN-THE-SUN

Glove leather in new attractive colors: Cream, Redwood Tan, Ginger Spice and Cherry Red. Sizes 4 to 9.

$3.98

GIRLS MOCS

HAND SEWN VAMP

Merit Shoes

114 W. MAIN ST.

MIGHTY MO, AMERICA'S WILDEST RIVER; ALL AGREE IT MUST BE TAMED--BUT HOW?

(EDITOR'S NOTE—The first of three articles on problems created by America's rampaging river—the Missouri.)

By DAVID A. HELLER
Central Press Correspondent
WASHINGTON—"The Missouri river," wrote author George Fitch way back in 1907, "is the only one that goes travelling sideways. Interfered in politics, rearranges geography and dabbles in real estate." Fitch never knew how right he was.

What with going on two rampages in a little less than a year, and doing damages to property estimated at up to a billion and a half dollars in the last 12 months, the Mighty Mo has rearranged plenty of geography and kicked up a first class political row that promises to have an important bearing on who is elected President this fall.

Senator James E. Murray of Montana, aided by Senator Paul H. Douglas of Illinois and nine other U. S. senators, incensed over the recent floods and alleged failure of the Army Corps of Engineers to control the Missouri, has begun pressing for a bill to create a vast, 10-state Missouri Valley Authority.

The MVA, one of the most torrid political hot potatoes of all time, would be patterned after the Tennessee Valley Authority of New Deal days. Feeling for and against it runs high in Congress and residents of the 10 states concerned are up in arms demanding that steps be taken to prevent a repetition of the disasters of this year and last.

THE taxpayers have a big stake in flood control and irrigation plans in the Missouri Valley, too. The total cost may well run up as high as $20 billion. Even in this day of the inflated dollar, that's a lot of folding money. Three government agencies are now engaged in a battle royal over which will play the major role in the eventual harnessing of the Missouri river.

What are the facts? The problem is so huge that it staggers the imagination. The Missouri basin extends from Montana to Missouri covering the states of Wyoming, North and South Dakota, Nebraska, Colorado, Kansas, Minnesota and Iowa as well.

This region, covering a vast 530,000 square miles of American soil (the river is 1,300 miles long) suffers from a paradoxical problem. It has too much water and it has too little water.

Droughts and floods have alternated in wreaking havoc there for generations.

Who can't remember the terrible

The Missouri's raging waters have done vast damage to the midwest.

Missouri Valley dust storms, such as this, may plague us again.

dust storms of the 1930's, when swirling black clouds carried away tons of the best topsoil from the Great Plains and left it a parched, sun-baked desert?

The floods which washed more millions of tons of precious topsoil down the river, killed over 50 persons in a year, and submerged millions of acres of farmland, are the other side of the cycle.

On all sides insistent demands that something be done are heard. Everybody agrees that the price of inaction is too high to pay. The river must be harnessed. But how and by who?

AGREEMENT stops there. The 2,650-mile long Missouri forms the second biggest river basin in America and pegging it down has been compared to trying to grab and tame a big, ornery python.

Dozens of plans for taming America's wildest river have been advanced, but only three have a chance of being adopted. They are: the Pick-Sloan plan, the current favorite, named for Gen. Lewis A.

lief that Jesus Christ is truly present in the bread and wine of the sacrament of holy communion. The first such celebration was held at Lille, France, in 1881. This week's gathering is the 35th.

Tremendous preparations have been made for the congress, one of the most spectacular events of the church. The Spanish government, the city of Barcelona and the Spanish church all have cooperated in the great effort.

Millions of pesetas have been spent for the five-day program. Special open-air altars, richly ornamented, have been erected throughout the city. Surpassing them all is a gigantic altar 146 feet high, topped by a 114-foot cross, in the heart of the city.

Farm Is Kept By Family

DES MOINES (AP)—Few farms have been kept in the family as long as a quarter section of land near Ft. Dodge owned by 81-year-old John Hogan.

The land was purchased in 1856

Pick of the Army Engineers Corps, and Glenn Sloan, formerly regional head of the Federal Bureau of Reclamation; the Department of Agriculture plan; and the Missouri Valley Authority, first advanced by President Franklin D. Roosevelt and now sponsored by Senators Murray and Douglas.

All three plans are scrambling for congressional approval. The Pick-Sloan plan is leading in the race. It already has partial congressional approval and the backing of President Truman. MVA advocates, however, are determined and include many influential congressmen.

Whatever plan is adopted, (and one will be soon), a vast portion of America is destined to be recast. The "lost frontier," as the region has been called, will be transformed into a bustling new country, with abundant electric power, new water resources to help raise more farm crops, and many recreational paradises.

NEXT—High Cost of Reclamation.

by Hogan's father for $1.25 an acre. The original deed was signed by President Franklin Pierce.

Hogan has lived on the farm all but two years of his life. His seven brothers and sisters were born and grew up there.

Novelty Makers Seek Gadgets To Join With Kefauver's Cap

By JOHN F. SEMBOWER

CHICAGO—What symbols and slogans—such as the fabulous brown derby, full dinner pail, bull moose, log cabin and jug of hard cider, and the sunflower of past campaigns—will the burgeoning presidential race develop in the next few months?

Enterprising gadgeteers who are ready to put hundreds of thousands of dollars into souvenirs and campaign regalia for the national political convention here next July wish they knew.

So far, the one they feel certain about is Senator Kefauver's coonskin cap, and thousands of facsimiles are in the works without any apparent concern being felt for the fact that such a headdress is likely to be a little unseasonal for summertime.

This figures to be a boom year for such oddments of the political scene, considering the current tremendous popularity for no particular reason of Confederate and Union military caps and flags from the Civil war period.

"People just seem to go for such things in a big way," a novelty manufacturer explained, as much at a loss as anyone to say exactly why some things—such as those fox tails for auto radiator caps a few years ago—catch on the way they do.

POLITICAL TRADE marks, however, have a much more logical foundation, and are an accepted part of the national scene in any election year. The candidate who has one is figured to have a head start on capturing the imagination of the voters.

Many seem to result from initially uncomplimentary remarks cleverly turned to good purpose by the intended victim. Among these were the log cabin and jug of hard cider which became the motif for William Henry Harrison's rousing Whig triumph in 1839. They set a mark for all candidates from that day to this.

It all started because a Democratic editor roasted Harrison with: "Give him a barrel of hard cider, settle a pension of $2,000 a year on him, and my word for it, he will sit for the remainder of his days in his log cabin by the side of a sea, coal fire, studying moral philosophy."

Exuberant Whigs paraded log cabin floats at every rally and lived things with gallons of hard cider.

The rafters rang with the slogan,

Air Force OKs Navy Measures

WASHINGTON, May 26—(AP)—The Air Force will start using Navy measurements—knots and nautical miles, instead of miles per hour and statute miles—on July 1.

The Defense Department said the change had been approved by the Air Coordinating Committee, established by President Truman in 1946, in an effort to eliminate confusion in aircraft traffic control.

A nautical mile measures 6,080 feet, as compared with 5,280 in the statute, or land, mile. The knot is a measure of speed, one knot equaling one nautical mile per hour.

"Tippecanoe and Tyler, too," and Harrison, prosperous squire of a large Ohio farm, become a homespun hero.

Although Kefauver's coonskin cap often is mistakenly taken for a copy of the Harrison symbols, it actually arose when Ed Crump, Memphis boss, tried to portray the reform candidate for the Senate as a radical and called him "a pet coon of the Communists."

The quiet and dignified Tennessee who promptly donned a coonskin hat and swept the election, still wears it with good effect wherever he campaigns for Democratic delegates to the presidential nomination and it looms as a "natural" the same as Al Smith's indigenous brown derby and Alf Landon's yellow sunflower.

Some makers of novelties here remember with homesickness the man they consider the greatest coiner of symbols and slogans of the era—Theodore Roosevelt.

IN HIS TELEGRAM in 1900 to GOP chairman Mark Hanna accepting nomination as William McKinley's running mate, he announced that he felt "as strong as a bull moose." Progressives who nominated him in 1912 as a third party candidate chose the bull moose as their emblem.

Roosevelt had many other indicia, however, including his Rough Rider campaign hat, the "big stick" he used in his trust busting, and even the nursery recreations of the bear cub he made a pet of on one of his hunting trips and which became a new dictionary word, the Teddy bear.

Not all symbols became cam-

NEED A GOOD USED CAR?

—See—

'Wes' Edstrom

150 E. Main St. Phone 321

FOR THE BEST BUY!

paign assets, however. Lincoln's stovepipe hat is symbolic of him today, but did not emerge in his campaigns. Like his log cabin origin, it was not enough of a novelty in his own time.

Wendell Willkie's rumpled shirt and habitually unpressed suit were colorful but not commercial to the novelty makers. And in 1896, while McKinley waged a "front porch campaign," energetic William Jennings Bryan toured the nation for more than 600 speeches in his famous private Pullman which bore a name that became an unhappy symbol—"The Idler."

The quiet and dignified Tennessee who promptly donned a coonskin hat and swept the election, still wears it with good effect wherever he campaigns for Democratic delegates to the presidential nomination and it looms as a "natural" the same as Al Smith's indigenous brown derby and Alf Landon's yellow sunflower.

Some makers of novelties here remember with homesickness the man they consider the greatest coiner of symbols and slogans of the era—Theodore Roosevelt.

IN HIS TELEGRAM in 1900 to GOP chairman Mark Hanna accepting nomination as William McKinley's running mate, he announced that he felt "as strong as a bull moose." Progressives who nominated him in 1912 as a third party candidate chose the bull moose as their emblem.

Roosevelt had many other indicia, however, including his Rough Rider campaign hat, the "big stick" he used in his trust busting, and even the nursery recreations of the bear cub he made a pet of on one of his hunting trips and which became a new dictionary word, the Teddy bear.

Not all symbols became cam-

THOMPSON-LEACH CO.

Sales and Service

Dodge and Plymouth Cars
Dodge 'Job-Rated' Trucks

DEPENDABLE USED CARS

120 E. Franklin St.

Phone 361

Good Cleaning

Preserves A

Smart Appearance!

Expert dry cleaning not only cleans and freshens your wardrobe, it also revitalizes your clothing. "Tired" garments wake up to new life with our service.

Phone

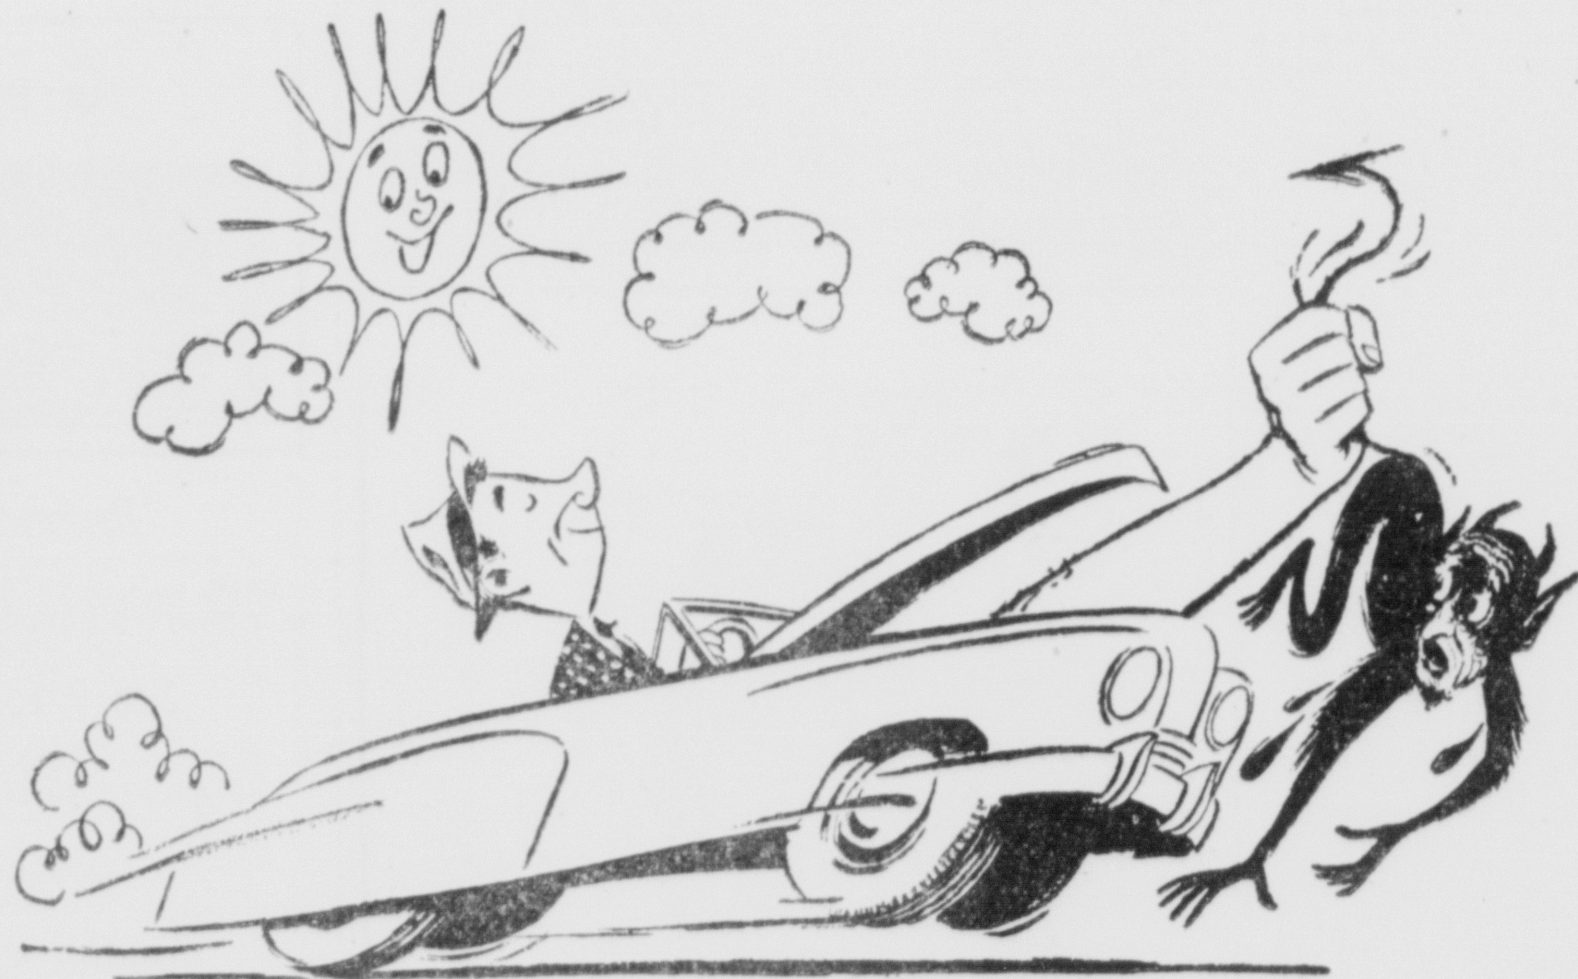

710

For Prompt Pickup Service

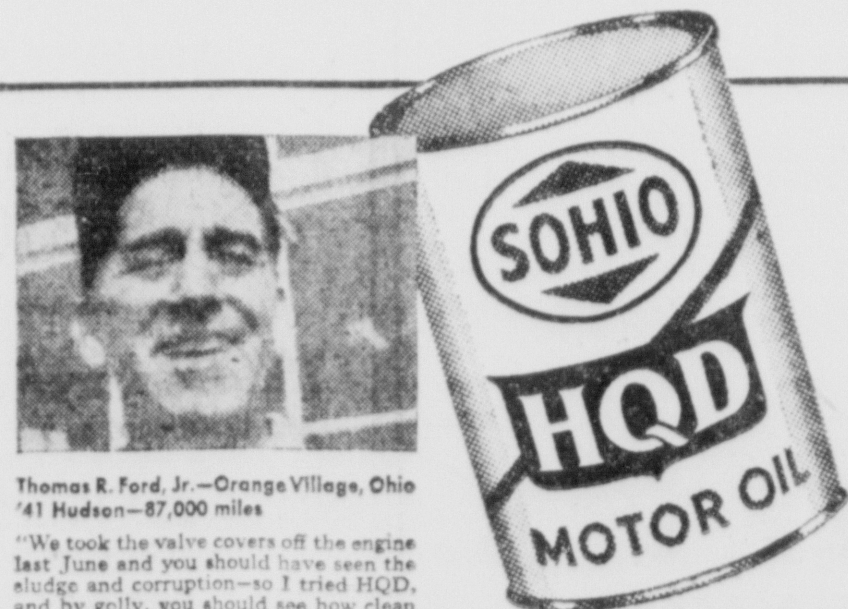

Barnhills'

Over 44 Years Your Cleaners in Circleville

Chases dirt... saves hurt!

New HQD cleans thoroughly while you drive!

For a smoother running, longer lasting, more powerful engine... use Sohio HQD... the EXTRA DUTY Motor Oil that keeps your engine FREE of dirt and deposits.

Anti-acid.. Anti-rust.. High V.I... More than just a motor oil!

Eucharistic Congress Set For Opening

BARCELONA, May 26—(AP)—Hundreds of Catholic prelates and half a million pilgrims from almost every country on earth crowded this city for the opening Tuesday of the first World Eucharistic Congress in 14 years.

When the last such congress was held in Budapest in 1938, an uneasy world, then as now, was trying to avoid a war. The central theme of the prayers for this Congress is peace—peace of man with himself; peace in his home and the factory; peace among nations, and peace in the church of Christ.

Every non-Communist country in the world is represented among the host of pilgrims in this second city of Spain. The countries dominated by Soviet communism are represented only by their exiles.

The congress honors the Catholic belief in the holy eucharist, the be-

FOR FUN IN THE SUN

Glove leather in new attractive colors: Cream, Redwood Tan, Ginger Spice and Cherry Red. Sizes 4 to 9.

$3.98

GIRLS MOCS HAND SEWN VAMP

Merit Shoes

114 W. MAIN ST.

EXCITING NEW SCIENTIFIC DISCOVERY PERFORMS CARPET CLEANING MAGIC!

Nation's Famous GLAMORENE

The home beauty treatment for your rugs... Quick-Safe-Easy! Completely Different! Not a liquid soap foam or powder. Packed ready to use. Sprinkle on. Brush in. Vacuum off. DIRTS GONE. CARPETS DRY, ready to walk on in 15 minutes. Removes Food Stains, Grease, Gum, Lipstick, Tar... even Shoe Polish. One Gallon Beautifully Cleans approximately Four 9x12 Rugs. Half Gallon $2.29, Quilted $3.79.

at MASON FURNITURE Satisfaction Guaranteed

MR. FARMER:

Does Your Farm Loan Have These Six Advantages?

1. Low interest rate for a long term?
2. Regular payments that cut down the principal as you go?
3. Permission to make extra payments in good years?
4. Privilege of arranging smaller payments in bad years?
5. A lender who will be in business for the life of the loan?
6. Small enough installments so you can pay them when your income drops?

You may secure a Federal Land Bank loan that has All of these features through the—

Pickaway County National Farm Loan Ass'n.

10 E. Main St. Circleville

ST. LOUIS LINDBERGH TROPHY COLLECTION RECALLS FAMED FLIGHT OF 25 YEARS AGO

By BILL BOYNE
Central Press Correspondent
ST. LOUIS, Mo.—More than 75 million persons will have visited the Charles A. Lindbergh trophy collection here by May 20, the 25th anniversary of a flight that started a new age in aviation.

A world's hero worship is enshrined in the collection—medals, gifts, trinkets and mementoes from every state and almost every nation. They range from a lifetime membership in the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues to the United States Distinguished Flying Cross and the Congressional Medal of Honor.

The collection contains virtually everything connected with Lindbergh's transatlantic flight except the plane itself—the Spirit of St. Louis—which hangs in the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D. C. Even parts of that are here—an altitude meter and a quart of oil drained from the engine after the plane landed in Paris.

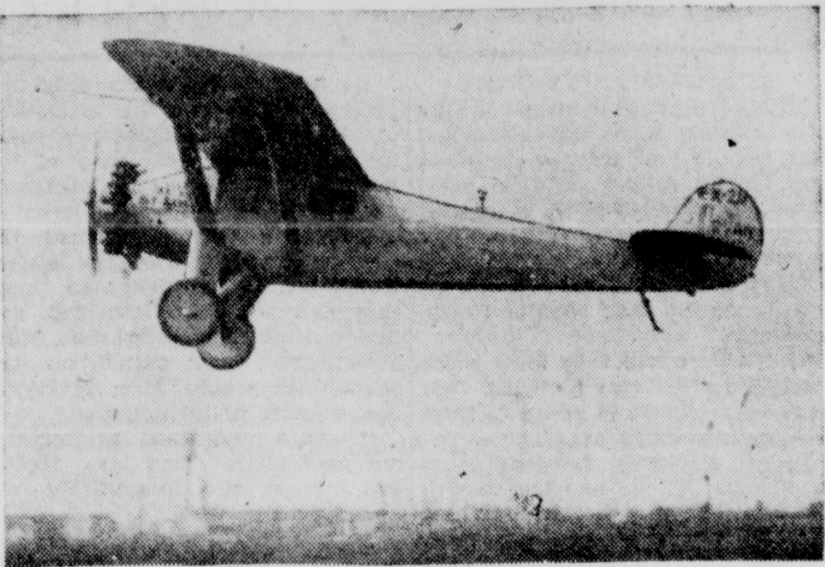

The flying suit which Lindbergh wore on the New York to Paris flight is kept in a separate case along with a pair of boots which he designed himself when he was unable to buy a pair sufficiently light for his purposes.

Visitors to the collection, which is housed in the Jefferson Memorial in Forest park, can trace the route of the famous flight on the very chart which Lindbergh used. The route is sketched on the chart in a precise semicircle ending at LeBourget field, Paris.

ONE item in the collection was worth $25,000 to Lindbergh—the Raymond Orteig award which led him to undertake the flight. Orteig offered in 1919 a prize of $25,000 to the first man to fly non-stop between New York and Paris. The thought of attempting the flight occurred to Lindbergh one night in the fall of 1926 when he was flying an air mail route.

Lindbergh obtained backing from nine prominent St. Louisans, ordered construction of a Ryan monoplane, and a few months later the prize was his.

The certificate of award records that Capt. Charles A. Lindbergh completed the flight on the "21st day of May, 1927, after a flight of 3,600 miles in an elapsed time of 33 hours and 33 minutes at an average speed of 107½ miles an hour."

The Spirit of St. Louis winging on its way to Paris in 1927.

Lindbergh before flight.

ters and telegrams bearing on the construction of the Spirit of St. Louis.

Miss Esther Mueller, custodian of the collection, said Lindbergh has requested that these papers be withheld from publication until after the death of those concerned.

In addition to the papers and trophies directly related to the flight, the collection includes hundreds of gifts to the flyer-hero.

SOME of the gifts are highly irrelevant—a kayak from Greenland, a knife belt from Alaska, a pillow case crocheted by an 80-year-old admirer in San Diego, Cal., and a portrait made from a tobacco leaf by a Cuban artist. Some of the gifts honored Lindbergh for his later flights.

There are keys to dozens of cities and medals, scrolls, and tributes from foreign governments around the globe.

Flanking the entrance to the collection are oil paintings of Lindbergh's mother, Mrs. Evangeline Lodge Lindbergh, and his father, Charles A. Lindbergh, Sr., congressman from Minnesota in 1908-08.

The collection was started by the Missouri Historical society as a 10-day exhibit beginning June 25, 1927. After 80,000 persons visited the collection in that period, Lindbergh permitted the society to display the trophies for "an indefinite period."

They have been on display ever since, and the crowds are still growing.

Elinor Williams' Teen Tips

Lest we forget, now that the weather is warmer—the most important good-grooming aid of all is a deodorant.

It's not a bit glamorous itself, but if you use it daily, it will "up" your date-rating like a charm. In fact, it helps to enhance one of your charms—daintiness in a girl, attractive cleanliness for a boy.

There are several different types of deodorants for daily underarm use. One of the most satisfactory is a soft white cream, unscented, so it's for masculine use, too. Don't overlook this, boys, because you wear heavier clothes than girls do and perspire more. The most fastidious men use deodorants nowadays and everybody who works near them or dances with them is glad that they do.

Just apply a fingertipful of the cream deodorant to the underarms after bathing and it disappears into the skin instantly. It gives day-long protection against perspiration odor, no matter how hot the weather is.

For girls only, there are also anti-perspirants. These are usually liquids and they serve an additional purpose. Besides deodorizing, they check or stop perspiration temporarily so there is little or no underarm moisture. These are used mainly to protect fragile fabrics in your daytime and evening

DP Girl Finds New Home Here

SOUTH BEND, Ind.—(AP)—After wandering two-thirds of the way around the world since she was 9, a South Bend housewife now has a home and family of her own.

Mrs. Wanda Zmyslo, 20, became dresses. But test it before you trust it completely by donning a new dress without underarm shields.

a displaced person in 1940 when the Russians forced her family from their home in Poland and into a Siberian labor camp. Her father was eventually shot and her mother poisoned.

After many trials she entered the United States from a Mexican orphanage in 1948, under the sponsorship of distant relatives. Mrs. Zmyslo recently became a mother on the first anniversary of her marriage.

Hurry! ONLY 4 MORE DAYS TO BUY AT THESE EXTRA LOW PRICES

Bringing You Terrific Savings for 1952, While Quantities Last!

CUSSINS & FEARN Stores ANNIVERSARY Sale

OPEN ALL DAY WEDNESDAY

1893 1952 59th Anniversary Your BEST BUYS of 1952

WOVEN SPLIT CLOTHES BASKETS $4.45
Sturdy, hard maple splint square baskets, with strong elm hoops and straps. Web handles.

NEW! HIGH BROILER WHITEHOUSE GAS RANGE
With 2 Broilers, Timer, and 2 Lights
$139.95
WITH YOUR TRADE-IN
De Luxe, Two-Broiler Range! With waist-high, pull-out broiler and a second utility broiler for large family cooking. Electric Clock, Minute-Minder and Twin Lamps included. Automatic Oven Heat Control. Chrome trim. Glass See-Through Oven door and all de luxe equipment. 27 1/2" wide.
ONLY 10% DOWN Delivers Now! Easy Monthly Payments.

Only 10% Down, Now Delivers this 1952 Streamlined ALL WHITE $99.95 Whitehouse ELECTRIC WASHER $89.95
With Your Trade-In! M.P. Rubber Mounted Motor
Completely Sealed-in Oil Transmission
Anniversary Sale priced to save you BIG money. If you need a new washer, you get a liberal trade-in for your refrigerator, washer, radio, sweeper, any range or heater. If you buy now, built for long life with gears sealed-in-oil, in fully enclosed base. Beautiful all white enamel and porcelain tub and baked white enamel skirt.

4.30 STEEL CLOTHES LINE POSTS $3.89
• With Ground Box
Strong tubular steel in rust-resistant finish. "T" style cross-bar is fitted with four Rap-Loc hooks. Post is 1 1/2"x7".

GREEN & WHITE 2 1/2' AWNINGS $2.99
3'-$3.25, 3 1/2'-$3.49, 4'-$3.79. Complete with all fittings, ready to hang.
24" Valance, yard65c
30" Bolt Cloth, yard54c

ALUMINUM LINES $1.99
While Quantities Last!
100 ft. No more rust spots on your clothes if you use aluminum outdoor lines.

10-GALLON GARBAGE CANS $1.89
Sturdily built from strong corrugated galvanized sheets, with galvanized lid. Replace old cans, NOW!
$5.44, 20-Gallon Cans$8.19

$3.49 ALL STEEL VENETIAN BLINDS $2.39
18 to 24 Width, 64" Long 25 to 36 Widths, $2.79
Baked enamel finish. Easy to clean. Slip-proof, self-equalizing tilter. Woven tapes and cords, cleanable, fade resistant.

85c WIDE TOP SCRUB TUBS 69c
Wide top takes brooms, with handle, 5 1/2 gallons.
10-Qt. Pails49c
Reg. 75c hot dipped galvanized.

ROLL-AWAY 30" COTS $16.95
Folds and rolls easily into closet on big casters. Double strand steel wire fabric and helical springs for greater comfort.

$4.20 5' RELIANCE STEP LADDERS $2.79
While Quantities Last!
Full rodded under every step for greater strength. Steel riveted ear braces at top. Wide bucket shelf, riveted hinge.

FOLDING YACHT OR LAWN CHAIRS $3.29
With Water-Repellent Seat! Double reinforced and comfortable back. Hard maple frames. Folds small. Fine for lawns or porches.

SUPER COVER HOUSE PAINT $4.19
Reg. $4.69 Per Gallon in 5's $4.79 Single Gallon—$4.29
Self-cleaning paint, it comes up amazingly clean after every rain and holds its natural beauty years longer.

$3.49 ONE COAT WALL PAINT, Gal. $3.19
98c Quart Now 89c
So easy to change old room walls to things of beauty with Liquid Silk, washable oil paint. One coat covers wallpaper or plaster.

$2.89 LIQUID ROOF COATING, 5 Gal. $1.98
Renew old roofs! Made of long fibre asbestos and pure asphaltum. Paint leaky roofs now.
Roofing Cement, 5 lbs. 49c

$3.26 90-LB. ROLL SLATE ROOFING $2.79
Roll Covers 100 Square Feet
Price Includes Nails, Cement
From the premium Quality Felt Base to the Final Fire Resisting Shield of color granules, it offers REAL value!

$2.05 45-LB. ASPHALT ROLL ROOFING $1.69
A superior smooth, mica coated asphalt roofing super-saturated with 15% more pore spaces filled with asphalt for longer life. Covers 100 sq. ft., applying cement included.

$19.25 EASY GLIDING 16" BALL BEARING $17.95
Ball bearing, automatic adjusting, 5 hardened, 16" steel blades. Big 10 1/2" drive wheels, full speed gear ring, and non-puncture tires. Shockproof frame.

SPECIAL, Reg. $1.99 98c TOTEM TRILLIES
17x94 inches. Wood trellis, firmly nailed, painted white. Adds charm to your lawn or garden.

$18.50 STORM & SCREEN DOORS $14.95
While Quantities Last!
Choice of all sizes, first quality ponderosa pine with galvanized wire and glass panels for year around use.

SCREEN DOORS REDWOOD FRAMES $4.99
Reg. $5.98 Value
4-Inch Stile, 1/2-Inch Thick
A strongly braced door with fine mesh galvanized wire. All sizes, same low price.

GALVANIZED WIRE CLOTH 13 1/2c
24-in. Wide, Per Foot—18-24 Mesh, Cut Any Length
24" Fl.13c 36" Fl.20 1/2c
36" Fl.17 1/2c 48" Fl.21 1/2c
36" Fl.19c 60" Fl.24c
Aluminum Wire Available, too.

'Ghost' Community Of Auburn Fights Way Back Out Of Grave

By HAL BOYLE
AUBURN, N. Y.—(AP)—Some American communities, on losing their chief industry, dwindle until they become little more than ghost towns.

Auburn is an example of a town that faced this problem and fought back.

As a result of inspired action by its citizenry, this Central New York farm trading and manufacturing center of 36,500 population today faces a more prosperous future than ever.

In more than 150 years Auburn had grown from a pioneer village to a well-balanced, pleasant community with some 26 varied industries. It also is the site of a state prison, where in the 1820s the first cell blocks were built that later become the pattern of American prison architecture.

Disaster threatened the town when its leading industry, the International Harvester Co., decided to pull out. That meant the loss of 1,500 jobs and a $5 million annual blow.

The firm gave 18-months' notice of its intentions. Every civic attempt to save it proved futile. In 1950 International Harvester shut down its plant here, and as a gesture of good will sold its buildings for $1 to a group of citizens who organized an industrial development committee.

Local leaders raised $50,000 to finance the committee's effort to lure new industries. At first some businessmen held back, saying, "why should we help get new firms here that will compete with us for the labor supply?" But they soon decided they didn't want to be part of a dying community. They pitched in, too.

"There wasn't anybody to sell our community except ourselves," recalled Frank S. Smith, utilities executive who headed the committee.

"We couldn't afford just to sit back and wait for the right guy to come along. One of our handicaps was that we were known as "that place where the prison is." But the committee swung into action. Sparkplugged by Smith and Karl A. Adams, head of the Chamber of Commerce, it contacted scores of outside manufacturers, hundreds of industrial realty dealers.

Resolutely the committee avoided the temptation of selling space to fly-by-night small concerns that paid small wages; stubbornly fought to get the kind of firms it wanted.

The expansion drive has paid.

General Electric has built a new plant here. A laundry machinery firm took over much of the old, abandoned plant and spent millions to renovate it. Three other industries have located here. Railroad freight traffic is higher than ever.

In a recent victory dinner Smith announced that the new firms were hiring 1,800 workers, more than replacing the lost 1,500 jobs, and that they had a potential of 3,000 jobs and an annual payroll of nearly $14 million.

When the development committee attempted to return $10,000 remaining from the $50,000 expansion fund, most contributors said, "keep the money and continue your work."

Smith gave this summary of Auburn's successful fight against economic disaster:

"It took a major jolt to rouse our community out of a false sense of security. It brought the people together as nothing else could."

JOE MOATS MOTOR SALES

DESOTO and PLYMOUTH SALES & SERVICE

Now Located At 213 LANCASTER PIKE PHONE 301

Rx for summer comfort...

THE STETSON

Straws $5.00 up

Other Straw Hats from $2.95

Caddy Miller's HAT SHOP

DEAD STOCK

ALL SIZE STOCK

Removed Free of Charge

Phone Collect Circleville 104

A. JAMES and SONS

CHILLICOTHE, OHIO

ST. LOUIS LINDBERGH TROPHY COLLECTION RECALLS FAMED FLIGHT OF 25 YEARS AGO

By BILL BOYNE
Central Press Correspondent
ST. LOUIS, Mo.—More than 75 million persons will have visited the Charles A. Lindbergh trophy collection here by May 20, the 25th anniversary of a flight that started a new age in aviation.

A world's hero worship is enshrined in the collection—medals, gifts, trinkets and mementoes from every state and almost every nation. They range from a lifetime membership in the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues to the United States Distinguished Flying Cross and the Congressional Medal of Honor.

The collection contains virtually everything connected with Lindbergh's transatlantic flight except the plane itself—the Spirit of St. Louis—which hangs in the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D. C. Even parts of that are here—an altitude meter and a quart of oil drained from the engine after the plane landed in Paris.

The flying suit which Lindbergh wore on the New York to Paris flight is kept in a separate case along with a pair of boots which he designed himself when he was unable to buy a pair sufficiently light for his purposes.

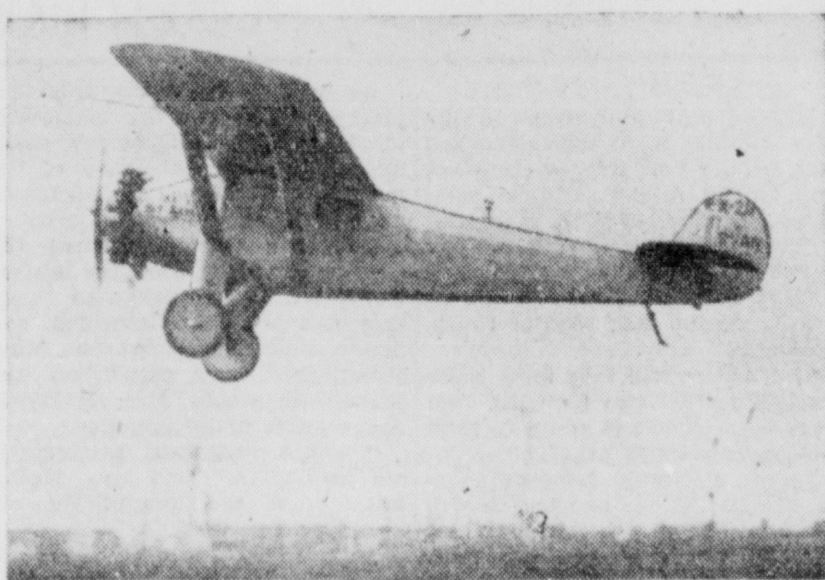

Visitors to the collection, which is housed in the Jefferson Memorial in Forest park, can trace the route of the famous flight on the very chart which Lindbergh used. The route is sketched on the chart in a precise semicircle ending at Le Bourget field, Paris.

ONE item in the collection was worth $25,000 to Lindbergh—the Raymond Orteig award which led him to undertake the flight.

Orteig offered in 1919 a prize of $25,000 to the first man to fly non-stop between New York and Paris. The thought of attempting the flight occurred to Lindbergh one night in the fall of 1926 when he was flying an air mail route.

Lindbergh obtained backing from nine prominent St. Louisans, ordered construction of a Ryan monoplane, and a few months later the prize was his.

The certificate of award records that Capt. Charles A. Lindbergh completed the flight on the "21st day of May, 1927, after a flight of 3,600 miles in an elapsed time of 33 hours and 53 minutes at an average speed of 107 1/2 miles an hour."

The Spirit of St. Louis winging on its way to Paris in 1927.

Lindbergh before flight.

Part of the collection, not open to the public, is being preserved for future historians. It includes Lindbergh's own log of the flight, his correspondence with backers of the venture, and hundreds of letters and telegrams bearing on the construction of the Spirit of St. Louis.

Miss Esther Mueller, custodian of the collection, said Lindbergh has requested that these papers be withheld from publication until after the death of those concerned.

In addition to the papers and trophies directly related to the flight, the collection includes hundreds of gifts to the flyer-hero.

SOME of the gifts are highly irrelevant—a kayak from Greenland, a knife belt from Alaska, a pillow case crocheted by an 80-year-old admirer in San Diego, Cal., and a portrait made from a tobacco leaf by a Cuban artist. Some of the gifts honored Lindbergh for his later flights.

There are keys to dozens of cities and medals, scrolls, and tributes from foreign governments around the globe.

Flanking the entrance to the collection are oil paintings of Lindbergh's mother, Mrs. Evangeline Lodge Lindbergh, and his father, Charles A. Lindbergh, Sr., congressman from Minnesota in 1908-08.

The collection was started by the Missouri Historical society as a 10-day exhibit beginning June 25, 1927. After 80,000 persons visited the collection in that period, Lindbergh permitted the society to display the trophies for "an indefinite period."

They have been on display ever since, and the crowds are still growing.

'Ghost' Community Of Auburn Fights Way Back Out Of Grave

By HAL BOYLE
AUBURN, N. Y.—Some American communities, on losing their chief industry, dwindle until they become little more than ghost towns.

Auburn is an example of a town that faced this problem and fought back.

As a result of inspired action by its citizenry, this Central New York farm trading and manufacturing center of 36,500 population today faces a more prosperous future than ever.

In more than 150 years Auburn had grown from a pioneer village to a well-balanced, pleasant community with some 26 varied industries. It also is the site of a state prison, where in the 1820s the first cell blocks were built that later became the pattern of American prison architecture.

Disaster threatened the town when its leading industry, the International Harvester Co., decided to pull out. That meant the loss of 1,500 jobs and a $5 million annual blow.

The firm gave 18-months' notice of its intentions. Every civic attempt to save it proved futile. In 1950 International Harvester shut down its plant here, and as a gesture of good will sold its buildings for $1 to a group of citizens who organized an industrial development committee.

Local leaders raised $50,000 to finance the committee's effort to lure new industries. At first some businessmen held back, saying, "why should we help get new firms here that will compete with us for the labor supply?" But they soon decided they didn't want to be part of a dying community. They pitched in, too.

"There wasn't anybody to sell our community except ourselves," recalled Frank S. Smith, utilities executive who headed the committee.

"We couldn't afford just to sit back and wait for the right guy to come along. One of our handicaps was that we were known as 'that place where the prison is.'"

But the committee swung into action. Sparkplugged by Smith and Karl A. Adams, head of the Chamber of Commerce, it contacted scores of outside manufacturers, hundreds of industrial reality dealers.

Resolutely the committee avoided the temptation of selling space to fly-by-night small concerns that paid small wages; stubbornly fought to get the kind of firms it wanted.

The expansion drive has paid.

General Electric has built a new plant here. A laundry machinery firm took over much of the old, abandoned plant and spent millions to renovate it. Three other industries have located here. Railroad freight traffic is higher than ever.

In a recent victory dinner Smith announced that the new firms were hiring 1,800 workers, more than replacing the lost 1,500 jobs, and that they had a potential of 3,000 jobs and an annual payroll of nearly $14 million.

When the development committee attempted to return $10,000 remaining from the $50,000 expansion fund, most contributors said, "keep the money and continue your work."

Smith gave this summary of Auburn's successful fight against economic disaster:

"It took a major jolt to rouse our community out of a false sense of security. It brought the people together as nothing else could."

JOE MOATS MOTOR SALES

DESOTO and PLYMOUTH
SALES & SERVICE

Now Located At 213 LANCASTER PIKE
PHONE 301

R
for summer comfort...

Stay as fresh as a daisy this Summer in cooling Panalite. The Stetson Panama lets those breezes in—keeps the hot sun out. Stop in and see it soon.

THE STETSON

Straws
$5.00 up

Other Straw Hats
from $2.95

Caddy Miller's HAT SHOP

Elinor Williams'

Teen Tips

Let's we forget, now that the weather is warmer—the most important good-grooming aid of all is a deodorant.

It's not a bit glamorous itself, but if you use it daily, it will "up" your date-rating like a charm. In fact, it helps to enhance one of your charms—daintiness in a girl, attractive cleanliness in a boy.

There are several different types of deodorants for daily underwear use. One of the most satisfactory is a soft white cream, unscented, so it's for masculine use, too. Don't overlook this, boys, because you wear heavier clothes than girls do and perspire more. The most fastidious men use deodorants nowadays and everybody who works near them or dances with them is glad that they do.

Just apply a fingertipful of the cream deodorant to the underarms after bathing and it disappears into the skin instantly. It gives day-long protection against perspiration odor, no matter how hot the weather is.

For girls only, there are also antiperspirants. These are usually liquids and they serve an additional purpose. Besides deodorizing, they check or stop perspiration temporarily so there is little or no underarm moisture. These are used mainly to protect fragile fabrics in your daytime and evening

DP Girl Finds New Home Here

SOUTH BEND, Ind.—After wandering two-thirds of the way around the world since she was 9, a South Bend housewife now has a home and family of her own.

Mrs. Wanda Zmyslo, 20, became dresses. But test it before you trust it completely by donning a new dress without underarm shields.

a displaced person in 1940 when the Russians forced her family from their home in Poland and into a Siberian labor camp. Her father was eventually shot and her mother poisoned.

After many trials she entered the United States from a Mexican orphanage in 1948, under the sponsorship of distant relatives. Mrs. Zmyslo recently became a mother on the first anniversary of her marriage.

ONLY 4 MORE DAYS TO BUY AT THESE EXTRA LOW PRICES

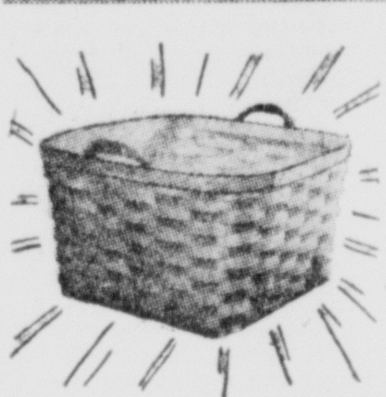

Bringing You Terrific Savings for 1952, While Quantities Last!

CUSSINS & FEARN Stores

ANNIVERSARY Sale

OPEN ALL DAY WEDNESDAY

1893
1952
59th
Your BEST BUYS of 1952

WOVEN SPLINT
CLOTHES BASKETS... $1.45

Sturdy, hard maple splint square baskets, with strong elm hoops and straps. Web handles.

NEW! HIGH BROILER
WHITEHOUSE
GAS RANGE
With 2 Broilers,
Timer, and 2 Lights

$139⁹⁵

WITH YOUR TRADE-IN
De Luxe, Two-Broiler Range! With waist-high, pull-out broiler and a second utility broiler for larger family cooking. Electric Clock, Minute-Minder and Two Lamps included. Automatic Oven Heat Control. Chrome trim. Glass see-through oven door and all de luxe equipment.

ONLY 10% DOWN Delivers Now!
Easy Monthly Payments.

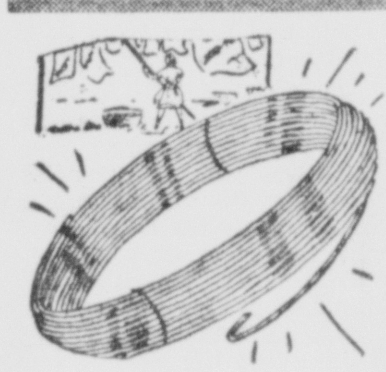

Only 10% Down, Now Delivers this 1952 Streamlined

ALL WHITE $99⁹⁵
Whitehouse
ELECTRIC
WASHER $89⁹⁵

With Your Trade-In!
N.P. Rubber Mounted Motor

Completely Sealed-in Oil Transmission
Anniversary Sale priced to save you BIG money. If you need a new washer, you get a liberal trade-in for your refrigerator, washer, radio, sweeper, any range or heater if you buy now. Built for long life with gears sealed-in in fully enclosed base. Beautiful all white enamel porcelain tub and baked white enamel steel.

ALUMINUM
LINES... $1.59

While Quantities Last!
100 ft. No more rust spots on your clothes if you use aluminum outdoor lines.

10-GALLON
GARBAGE CANS... $1.99

Sturdily built from strong corrugated galvanized sheets, with galvanized lid. Replace old cans, NOW!

$3.44, 20-Gallon Cans... $3.19

$6.70 WOVEN
CLOTHES HAMPER... $4.98

While Quantities Last!
Your choice of bench or upright in white woven fibre with colorful rose, blue or black tops.

$4.30 STEEL CLOTHES
LINE POSTS... $3.89

With Ground Box
Strong tubular steel in rust-resistant finish. "T" style crossbar is fitted with four Rep-Loc hooks. Post is 1 1/2" x 7'.

GREEN & WHITE
2 1/2' AWNINGS... $2.58

Complete with all fittings, ready to hang.
24" Valance, yard... $5.50
30" Bolt Cloth, yard... $4.50

$3.49 ALL STEEL
VENETIAN BLINDS... $2.39

18 to 24 Width, 64" Long
25 to 36 Widths, $2.79
Baked enamel finish. Easy to clean. Slip-proof, self-equalizing filter. Woven tapes and cords, cleanable, fade resistant.

85c WIDE TOP
SCRUB TUBS... 69c

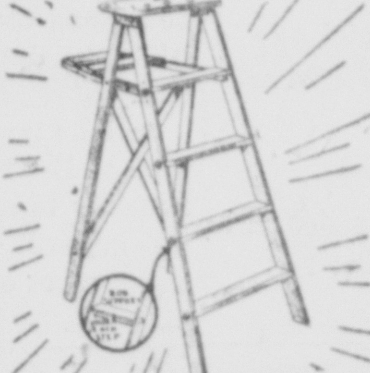

Wide top takes brooms, with handle, 5 1/2 gallons.

10-Qt. Pails... 49c
Reg. 75c hot dipped galvanized.

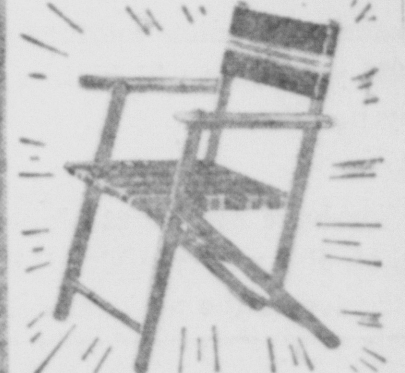

ROLL-AWAY
30" COTS... $16⁹⁵

Folds and rolls easily into closet on big casters. Double strand steel wire fabric and helical springs for greater comfort.

$4.20 5' RELIANCE
STEP LADDERS... $2.79

While Quantities Last!
Full rodded under every step for greater strength. Steel riveted ear braces at top. Wide bucket shelf, riveted hinge.

FOLDING YACHT
OR LAWN CHAIRS... $3.29

With Water-Repellent Seat!
Double reinforced and comfortable back. Hard maple frames. Folds small. Fine for lawns or porches.

SUPER COVER
HOUSE PAINT... $4.19

Reg. $4.99 Per Gallon in 5's
$4.79 Single Gallon—$4.29
Self-cleaning paint, it comes up amazingly clean after every rain and holds its natural beauty years longer.

$3.49 ONE COAT
WALL PAINT, Gal... $3.19

98c Quart Now 89c
So easy to change old room walls to things of beauty with Liquid Silk, washable oil paint. One coat covers wallpaper or plaster.

$2.89 LIQUID ROOF
COATING, 5 Gal... $1.98

Renew old roofs! Made of long fibre asbestos and pure asphaltum. Paint leaky roofs now.

Roofing Cement, 5 lbs. 49c

$3.26 90-LB. ROLL
SLATE ROOFING... $2.79

Roll Covers 100 Square Feet
Price Includes Nails, Cement
From the premium Quality Felt Base to the Final Fire Resisting Shield of color granules, it offers REAL value!

$2.05 45-LB. ASPHALT
ROLL ROOFING... $1.99

A superior smooth, mica coated asphalt roofing super-saturated with 15% more pore spaces filled with asphalt for longer life. Covers 100 sq. ft., applying cement included.

$19.25 EASY GLIDING
16" BALL BEARING... $17⁹⁵

Ball bearing, automatic adjusting, 5 hardened, 16" steel blades. Big 10 1/2" drive wheels, full speed gear ring and non-puncture tires. Shockproof frame.

SPECIAL, Reg. $1.89
TOTEM TRELLIS... 98c

17x94 inches. Wood trellis, firmly nailed, painted white. Adds charm to your lawn or garden.

$18.50 STORM &
SCREEN DOORS... $14⁹⁵

While Quantities Last!
Choice of all sizes, first quality ponderosa pine with galvanized wire and glass panels for year around use.

SCREEN DOORS
REDWOOD FRAMES... $4.99

Reg. $5.98 Value
4-Inch Style, 1/2-Inch Thick
A strongly braced door with fine mesh galvanized wire. All sizes, same low price.

GALVANIZED
WIRE CLOTH... 13^{1/2}

24-in. Wide, Per Foot—
18-24 Mesh, Cut Any Length
24" ft. ... 15c 36" ft. ... 20c
36" ft. ... 25c 48" ft. ... 30c
60" ft. ... 40c 72" ft. ... 50c
84" ft. ... 60c 108" ft. ... 80c
126" ft. ... 100c 150" ft. ... 120c
180" ft. ... 150c 216" ft. ... 180c
252" ft. ... 200c 306" ft. ... 240c
378" ft. ... 300c 450" ft. ... 360c
540" ft. ... 500c 630" ft. ... 420c
720" ft. ... 540c 840" ft. ... 600c
1080" ft. ... 800c 1260" ft. ... 960c
1512" ft. ... 1080c 1890" ft. ... 1260c
2268" ft. ... 1500c 2700" ft. ... 1800c
3780" ft. ... 2400c 4500" ft. ... 2800c
5400" ft. ... 3600c 6300" ft. ... 4200c
7200" ft. ... 4800c 8400" ft. ... 5400c
10800" ft. ... 7200c 12600" ft. ... 8400c
15120" ft. ... 9600c 18900" ft. ... 10800c
22680" ft. ... 12600c 27000" ft. ... 15000c
37800" ft. ... 18000c 45000" ft. ... 21000c
54000" ft. ... 24000c 63000" ft. ... 28000c
72000" ft. ... 30000c 84000" ft. ... 36000c
108000" ft. ... 48000c 126000" ft. ... 54000c
151200" ft. ... 72000c 189000" ft. ... 84000c
226800" ft. ... 108000c 270000" ft. ... 126000c
378000" ft. ... 150000c 450000" ft. ... 210000c
540000" ft. ... 240000c 630000" ft. ... 280000c
720000" ft. ... 300000c 840000" ft. ... 360000c
1080000" ft. ... 480000c 1260000" ft. ... 540000c
1512000" ft. ... 720000c 1890000" ft. ... 840000c
2268000" ft. ... 1080000c 2700000" ft. ... 1260000c
3780000" ft. ... 1500000c 4500000" ft. ... 2100000c
5400000" ft. ... 2400000c 6300000" ft. ... 2800000c
7200000" ft. ... 3000000c 8400000" ft. ... 3600000c
10800000" ft. ... 4800000c 12600000" ft. ... 5400000c
15120000" ft. ... 7200000c 18900000" ft. ... 8400000c
22680000" ft. ... 10800000c 27000000" ft. ... 12600000c
37800000" ft. ... 15000000c 45000000" ft. ... 21000000c
54000000" ft. ... 24000000c 63000000" ft. ... 28000000c
72000000" ft. ... 30000000c 84000000" ft. ... 36000000c
108000000" ft. ... 48000000c 126000000" ft. ... 54000000c
151200000" ft. ... 72000000c 189000000" ft. ... 84000000c
226800000" ft. ... 108000000c 270000000" ft. ... 126000000c
378000000" ft. ... 150000000c 450000000" ft. ... 210000000c
540000000" ft. ... 240000000c 630000000" ft. ... 280000000c
720000000" ft. ... 300000000c 840000000" ft. ... 360000000c
1080000000" ft. ... 480000000c 1260000000" ft. ... 540000000c
1512000000" ft. ... 720000000c 1890000000" ft. ... 840000000c
2268000000" ft. ... 1080000000c 2700000000" ft. ... 1260000000c
3780000000" ft. ... 1500000000c 4500000000" ft. ... 2100000000c
5400000000" ft. ... 2400000000c 6300000000" ft. ... 2800000000c
7200000000" ft. ... 3000000000c 8400000000" ft. ... 3600000000c
10800000000" ft. ... 4800000000c 12600000000" ft. ... 5400000000c
15120000000" ft. ... 7200000000c 18900000000" ft. ... 8400000000c
22680000000" ft. ... 10800000000c 27000000000" ft. ... 12600000000c
37800000000" ft. ... 15000000000c 45000000000" ft. ... 21000000000c
54000000000" ft. ... 24000000000c 63000000000" ft. ... 28000000000c
72000000000" ft. ... 30000000000c 84000000000" ft. ... 36000000000c
108000000000" ft. ... 48000000000c 126000000000" ft. ... 54000000000c
151200000000" ft. ... 72000000000c 189000000000" ft. ... 84000000000c
226800000000" ft. ... 108000000000c 270000000000" ft. ... 126000000000c
378000000000" ft. ... 150000000000c 450000000000" ft. ... 210000000000c
540000000000" ft. ... 240000000000c 630000000000" ft. ... 280000000000c
720000000000" ft. ... 300000000000c 840000000000" ft. ... 360000000000c
1080000000000" ft. ... 480000000000c 1260000000000" ft. ... 540000000000c
1512000000000" ft. ... 720000000000c 1890000000000" ft. ... 840000000000c
2268000000000" ft. ... 1080000000000c 2700000000000" ft. ... 1260000000000c
3780000000000" ft. ... 1500000000000c 4500000000000" ft. ... 2100000000000c
5

The Circleville Herald

Consolidation of The Circleville Herald, Established 1883 and The Daily Union Herald Established 1894.

Published Evenings Except Sunday By
THE CIRCLEVILLE PUBLISHING COMPANY
210 N. Court Street, Circleville

T. E. WILSON PUBLISHER
Member Ohio Newspaper Association, Associated Press, Central Press Association and the Ohio Select List.

NATIONAL ADVERTISING REPRESENTATIVES,
JOHN W. CULLEN COMPANY
230 N. Michigan Avenue, Chicago, 630 Fifth Avenue, New York, 3044 N. Grand Blvd., Detroit

SUBSCRIPTION
Pickaway County and Circleville trading territory. By carrier in Circleville, 30c per week. By mail per year, $6 in advance. Zones one and two, $7 per year in advance. Beyond first and second postal zones, per year $8 in advance.

Entered at Postoffice at Circleville, Ohio, as Second Class Matter.

TOO STRONG MEDICINE

THERE IS AN easy assumption in the public mind that the oil strike will be settled before a critical shortage of gasoline and other petroleum products develops. But suppose this strike isn't settled for many weeks? The imagination can scarcely grasp the consequences to American life. There would be no certainty about anything, including essentials such as food and health safeguards.

Wage Stabilization Board, now thoroughly discredited, made a bid for a settlement, apparently to no effect. If a settlement is not reached, President Truman will have his choice of taking some dubious action or invoking the Taft-Hartley Act which he despises. That law would provide an 80-day injunction against the strike, with some chance of a settlement being reached before the expiration of that period.

Leaders of organized labor are determined to put wages as high as possible before Congress makes sweeping changes in the controls system. It may be helpful, too, in their view, to cut petroleum supplies back so that a developing over-supply situation is eliminated.

But the throttling of America through industry-wide strikes is too strong a medicine for the country to swallow, dose after dose. The problem demands a solution, and it is up to Congress to supply it.

Six thousand persons will soon be engaged in making powder in Kansas City. But how are they going to keep it dry in that flood-ridden city?

Whatever else may be charged to the year 1951, it should be given credit for heading off the chain letter fad.

Scientist predicts another glacial age in 20,000 years, by which time the cold war may be over.

Mice have been sent aloft 40 miles in a rocket. But why would mice want to look at the top of the national debt?

These Days

During China's past century of civil war and tribulation, it has been British policy to bend to local conditions rather than to insist upon general principles. In pursuit of this policy they promoted their trade.

This goes back a distance in the history of China. For instance, during the Taiping Rebellion (1848-1865), it was British policy to support the Manchu dynasty against the rebels, but Shanghai, Hongkong and Nanking did business with the Taipings in spite of their peculiarities. During Sun Yat-sen's first successful revolution (1911), the same program was followed, a thriving business being done with the revolutionary forces, who were almost immediately recognized upon their victory. Similarly, when Chiang Kai-shek established his government in Nanking in 1927, the British vied with the Americans as to who would be the first to recognize Chiang.

Even when local governments came into power during the period of the Tutchuns (1916-1927), although these warlords could not be recognized, close relations were established by all countries with them and the British were particularly adept in their handling of some of them. For instance, Chang Tso-lin was for many years the master of Manchuria, ignoring the authority of the recognized national government. All foreign powers paid court to him.

Thus, when the Communists conquered China in 1949, the British position simplified itself to the fact that the area was held by the blighters and they might just as well get on with business. They swiftly recognized Mao-Tze-tung's government to the disadvantage of the United States. Hongkong in 1950 and 1951 did such a thriving business as it had never known before and for a time it was British policy to describe Mao as an Oriental Tito.

But toward the end of 1951, the business tapered off, principally because the United States could not understand how the British could sell materials useful in war which the Chinese Communists were using not only to kill Americans but some British.

Besides, the Chinese Communists were treating the British badly. It was a queer situation: while Downing Street rushed to recognize Mao Tze-tung, he never recognized the British. He permitted trade with them through Hongkong and Shanghai, but he would not write a treaty or even negotiate one.

The tribulations of the British merchant can only be understood by one who had lived among them in the days of their greatness. The British firms were the principal centers of trade in each city. The lions of the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank, one smiling, one frowning, were marks of wealth and power. Each Taipan lived in a great house in which he entertained like a king. His Chinese comprador was likely to be among the richest of Chinese. The British clubs determined the social life of the city.

And I must say that, man for man, the type of Britisher who came to China to trade or to serve as a government official was generally superior in quality and training to most other Europeans. If he was not

(Continued on Page Eleven)

LAFF-A-DAY

"She walked in with a poodle haircut, and I said, 'Did you get a distemper shot yet?'"

DIET AND HEALTH

Early Care Is Important for Youngster Who Is Cross-Eyed

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

SOME conditions of the body correct themselves with time, but cross-eye is not one of them. The time to begin correcting cross-eye is as soon as it is noticed, even in a small child or baby.

Many children are born with this defect, and even more become cross-eyed when they are two or three years old. Treatment started as soon as the condition is detected will save much effort and hardship later on.

Cross-eye, or squint, refers to any condition in which the eyes do not have the normal relationship to each other. That is, they do not actually have to cross. About two out of every hundred children in the United States develop the defect.

The commonest types of cross-eye are those that turn in and those that turn out; of these two, there are more that turn in. The defect may be in a single eye or in both.

In some children, the eyes are always crossed. In other cases, parents may notice that the child's eyes are straight at certain times. Most often, the eyes cross late in the day or in the evening, when the child is tired.

Well-wishing friends sometimes tell parents that a child's eyes will straighten themselves in time. An eye specialist, however, would not give them this advice. In fact, it is definitely bad to neglect cross-eye for any length of time. If it is neglected completely, the child can reach adulthood with the squint. When this occurs, he has a tendency not to use the squinting eye, and this can result in loss of eyesight in that eye.

Psychological Effect
In addition, the cross-eyed child often suffers from the taunts of his playmates. The resulting tensions can sometimes bring on more or less serious psychological disturbances.

Usually, when the family doctor detects cross-eye in a child, he will advise the parents to take him to an eye specialist as soon as possible. Glasses, followed by eye exercises, may be all that is needed to correct a severe case of cross-eye. In this condition, we usually do not fall back on surgery until all other methods have failed.

Remember that cross-eye is like defective teeth—it won't cure itself, and it can leave its mark on the adult.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Mrs. G. F.: What causes multiple boils on the skin?

Answer: Boils or furuncles are caused by the entrance of certain bacteria into the hair follicles of the skin. The type of bacteria which usually causes this infection is known as the staphylococcus. Good hygiene, with frequent washing of the skin, will often keep this condition from occurring.

Looking Back In Pickaway County

FIVE YEARS AGO
Mr. and Mrs. Robert Seward, East Mound street, are parents of a son born in Berger hospital.

Roy E. Thompson, Jr. of Circleville Route 3, is serving with the US Navy aboard the USS Toledo.

River again overflows banks here, 15 foot stage is feared.

TEN YEARS AGO
Private Robert Adkins has been recently assigned to a Fighter Squadron base at San Bruno, California.

Miss Virginia Nelson of Dayton, has been the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Nelson, South Court street.

Excitement over the possibility of a "second front" rose to fever pitch today with the arrival in London of high ranking United States air, tank and ground force commanders.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
Help wanted for trimming spinach by the Sears and Nichols corporation.

The Royal Neighbors of America royally entertained in their hall on West Main street in honor of their second anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sensenbrenner spent the day in Mansfield visiting relatives.

You're Telling Me!

By William Ritt
Central Press Writer

The only time the English open their Bibles these days is to find answers to crossword puzzle questions, complains the Archbishop of York. If this keeps up, he apparently fears, they'll never get to a six-letter word meaning the celestial abode.

In Alabama a dog has been taught to turn doorknobs with its paws. Fine—but does it greet visitors with outstretched teeth?

The dandelion is a paradox. It's the yellowest of weeds and, at the same time, the toughest.

Italian highways are becoming cluttered with billboards, according to a magazine article. The Roman poet Livy once said: "Beyond the Alps lies Italy." Today, he could add: "But you can't see it!"

For the political conventions Chicago cops are ordered to be extra polite. Just call every stranger "Senator"?

A Pennsylvanian celebrated his 65th birthday by walking 65 miles.

Pound Foolish

Copyright 1950 by Robert Molloy.
Distributed by King Features Syndicate.

CHAPTER FIFTY-ONE

HENRI HAD skirmished briefly with Leonie, who had remarked that Estella and Ursula McDewitt would have plenty of male companionship wherever they went.

"Their father is having the car shipped," she said, "and in a couple of days Estella and Ursula will be driving around with boys or I miss my guess."

"But where will they meet these young men?" Henri inquired. "Of course Antoinette is going to have the Eastman boys over."

Leonie snickered contemptuously. "Uncle, Estella and Ursula will never worry about introductions. They'll have company and don't you worry about it. They'll visit all the shops, and some of the nicest young men in Charleston are clerks. Such as they are."

"You make them sound very bold."

"They are, if that's the word you want to use."

"I don't know what Antoinette will think."

"It's none of her business," Leonie said decisively.

"I don't see how you can say that, Leonie. She's their hostess."

"Hostess, my foot. They're renting rooms from her, Uncle, and you know that perfectly well."

When are people going to stop all this stupid pretense? Miss Antoinette has no control over what Ursula and Estella do."

"It's a matter of principle," Henri said. "I gave my personal approval to those people on the strength of having met them just once, and what you had told us about them and the fact that they were from Virginia—which, after all, is not much of a guarantee. I feel that I am personally responsible."

"If they don't decamp without paying their room rent," Leonie said stoutly, "I think you've fulfilled your obligation. You don't seem to think that I took a good deal of responsibility, too, recommending that old broken-down barn to people who are used to living in well-heated houses with modern plumbing."

"What possible fault could they find with the Fiedling House?" Henri demanded, noisier with outrage.

Leonie appeared determined to twist him. "Only that you could choke on the dust, and that the windows are loose and rattle every time somebody takes a good heavy step, and that the plaster falls if you so much as sneeze."

Henri was by this time reduced to snorting indignantly.

"Leonie!" Heloise said. "That will do."

Leonie assured them that she was only joking.

Later Antoinette had expressed herself as entirely pleased with the McDewitt girls and Henri had ceased to worry about their behavior.

Everything went well, from the prompt arrival of the McDewitts at two o'clock to Queenie's cooking and to the sufficiency of the victuals. The McDewitts professed themselves already enamored of Charleston; they had spent the morning looking over the waterfront, which had delighted them. They had seen the Cathedral, had done some shopping on King street, and had called on the Bishop, to whom Mrs. McDewitt had a letter of introduction.

"Such a delightful aristocratic old gentleman," said Mrs. McDewitt. "And the magnificent old house he lives in."

That, Henri was able to explain promptly, was one of the fabled houses, formerly the property of the distinguished Thomas Pinckney.

Mr. McDewitt now seemed to take a more hearty interest in the conversation which he had been neglecting for his dinner. Henri named some of the families who were still quite prosperous.

"But of course nothing like the wealth you'll find in New York and Philadelphia and Boston," he said.

"Or Chicago," said Mr. McDewitt. "Or Denver. I spent a good deal of time in Denver."

"Dad's been everywhere," Estella explained.

"Well, I have traveled," said Mr. McDewitt. "In my time. Business, you know, Mr. Lemay. That's really why we're in Charleston, except that Mother and the girls thought it would be nice to come along. To spend some money," he added.

"That, after all, is a lady's privilege," Henri said.

"Sometimes," said Mr. McDewitt. "They abuse it." But he looked pleased at the idea that they should.

He turned to Henri. "Yes," he said, "my associates and I are much interested in Charleston. The Panama Canal," he explained. "I know that some efforts are being made to show the rest of the country what importance Charleston has as a port so convenient to the Canal, but we thought we might interest some of your citizens in a bigger bit of advertising."

"Charleston," Henri said politely, "is not very progressive, Mr. McDewitt. I wish you all the success possible, sir, but I'm afraid you'll find our business men hard to convince. There was a great deal of trouble getting them to put up money for the Exposition some years ago."

Mr. McDewitt laughed. "Charleston's reputation for being conservative is well known, huh," he said. "You forget that the rest of the South is very jealous of your native city and likes to talk about its faults. But I think the gentlemen of Charleston will be interested in our proposition. We aren't going to be in a hurry or pushing, like a lot of Yankees. We Southerners understand each other better than that."

Henri nodded. "Maybe," Mr. McDewitt said, "you wouldn't mind giving me the benefit of your advice on the best way to go about renting space. Is there a man you'd especially recommend?"

Henri thought rapidly. "I could recommend several people," he said. "I was wondering, however, if you would prefer to deal with someone who has some influence."

"Wouldn't matter to me in the least," said Mr. McDewitt. "I know the old law of tit for tat pretty well but I'm not going to be led by it. So long as the man is reliable and honest—and I know, of course, that anyone you saw fit to suggest would be both."

"My friend Mr. Desfontaines," Henri said, "has an office on Broad street, a few doors from the City Hall. He'd be delighted to do anything he could for you."

"I'll remember his name," said Mr. McDewitt. "And the matter of furnishings and so forth. I want it to be simple, you know, but nice."

"Mr. McDewitt," Henri said, "to be very frank with you, I hesitate about recommending friends, because I feel that I ought not to consider such matters... but there's a store with which my relations have always been very pleasant. Haverly's, on the corner of King and Society. I think you'd find good treatment there."

"And of course, although there's no hurry," said Mr. McDewitt, "there will be stationery. I believe you are in the business, Mr. Lemay?"

Henri now felt really uncomfortable. "I was in the business for a short while," he said, "but my plans didn't work out very well. At present I'm simply a bookkeeper for a stationery firm. I'd like to assure you that I myself will derive no personal advantages whatever from recommending it."

"Oh, no matter," said Mr. McDewitt. "No reason why you shouldn't."

"Perhaps not," Henri said. "But I shouldn't recommend the firm if that were the case. However, you will not find a fairer man to deal with anywhere than Mr. Peterson. He is scrupulously honest."

"Men like that," said Mr. McDewitt, "are not too plentiful nowadays. He shook his head regretfully. "I think, Mr. Lemay, that I could do better than follow your recommendations. If you would be so kind, huh, as to write down, at some time, the names of the companies and the gentlemen you think I ought to discuss the business with, I'd be much obliged."

"I'll do it this very evening," Henri said, "and it will be delivered to you in the morning mail."

(Continued on Page Eight)

Grab Bag

THE ANSWER QUICK!

1. Who wrote, "My heart leaps up when I behold a rainbow in the sky"?
2. What is a straw vote?
3. Do United States ships have to pay toll when they pass through the Panama Canal?
4. In what motion picture did Paul Muni play a Chinaman?
5. What are stratified rocks?

FOLKS OF FAME—GUESS THE NAME

1—This may be a tough one. He is a Bolivian political economist and statesman. He was born on Oct. 2, 1907, in Tarija, Bolivia, was educated in the law, and was secretary of the directorate of financial statistics; attorney of the permanent fiscal council, superior officer, department of finance, etc. He has also been vice-president of the chamber of deputies, ministry of economy and minister of finance of his country. He was a contributor to The Development of Thought in the Western Hemisphere. Recently he returned from exile in Argentina to lead a three-day revolt against the military junta of Gen. Hugo Ballivian which had nullified results of the May election which had named him president. Can you tell his name?

2—Now this is an easy one because he's a radio and television favorite. He was born in New York city, on Dec. 21, 1924, and attended public school and the school of industrial arts. He won a first prize on the late Major Bowes' Amateur Hour and then began playing vaudeville dates at 16, when he was playing benefits for crippled children. Ted Weems saw him and signed him up. He had taken a course in ventriloquism when he was con-

Blowing out birthday cake candles is easier on the feet.

Passengers in Australian transport planes must sit backward, facing the tail. This should afford them a good view of the weather it's now too late for them to have.

For the political conventions Chicago cops are ordered to be extra polite. Just call every stranger "Senator"?

A Pennsylvanian celebrated his 65th birthday by walking 65 miles.

Italian highways are becoming cluttered with billboards, according to a magazine article. The Roman poet Livy once said: "Beyond the Alps lies Italy." Today, he could add: "But you can't see it!"

The dandelion is a paradox. It's the yellowest of weeds and, at the same time, the toughest.

In Alabama a dog has been taught to turn doorknobs with its paws. Fine—but does it greet visitors with outstretched teeth?

The Royal Neighbors of America royally entertained in their hall on West Main street in honor of their second anniversary.

Excitement over the possibility of a "second front" rose to fever pitch today with the arrival in London of high ranking United States air, tank and ground force commanders.

Help wanted for trimming spinach by the Sears and Nichols corporation.

SALLY'S SALLIES

"I just added an 'M' for my new boy-friend."

valescing from polio, and now he and his wooden pal, Jerry Malone, are popular on both the radio and TV. Who is he?

IT'S BEEN SAID
Silence is the perfectest herald of joy; I were but little happy, if I could say how much.—William Shakespeare, Much Ado About Nothing.

IT HAPPENED TODAY
1819—Alexander Pushkin, Russian poet and story writer, was born. 1943—Edsel Ford, son of the late Henry Ford, Sr., died. 1947—Revolution in Nicaragua, Gen. Anastasio Somoza seized power.

HOW'D YOU MAKE OUT?
1. William Wordsworth.
2. An unofficial vote taken before a regular vote to determine the direction of popular sympathy.
3. Yes.
4. The Good Earth.
5. Rocks composed of layers.

Benett Ceri's
Try, Stop Me
A tight-lipped general, obviously a martinet, descended upon a drabtee camp in New England on an inspection tour, and a regimental parade was arranged in his honor. As the band marched by the reviewing stand, the general emitted a snort of disgust and roared, "Halt!" Three battalions stopped in their tracks. "Now back up," hollered the general, "and the next time that band marches past me I want to see the slides of those trombones going in and out together!"

The news some time back that Pakistan's able Prime Minister Liaquat Ali Khan had been assassinated caused perturbation in official circles in Washington. Senator Kenneth McKellar, venerable politician from Tennessee, was particularly ruffled. "How's that what's-her-name movie star who's been trying to divorce him going to feel about this?" he demanded.

Removed Promptly
With Sanitary Equipment
Call Collect Circleville 31
Darling & Company

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

news behind the news

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, May 26—"The American people never shoot Santa Claus!"

The late Alfred E. Smith's homely analysis of the motivating forces in American politics, especially in a national election, underlies Harry S. Truman's basic strategy for insuring a Democratic triumph next November.

The departing party leader is confident that "good times" on farms and in the factories will offset GOP attacks on foreign policy failures, peak taxes and corruption at Washington.

STIMULUS—He has removed ceilings from many basic commodities in order to foster price increases from existing low levels. He has released many materials from federal controls as stimulus to construction and production in all lines. Simultaneously, in the steel dispute he has intervened to boost wages so that they will keep pace with skyrocketing costs of living.

Between now and November, the Pentagon will spend from $500 million to $1 billion more a month on weapons and supplies than it has been pouring out since the North Koreans' invasion. Federal Reserve removal of curbs on credit, which was extremely satisfactory to the White House, has already had the effect of increasing retail sales.

GENEROUS—Although controlled by a hostile coalition, congress marches along in the inflationary parade. In the current session it has upped federal salaries and it has boosted the pay of the armed forces. It may tighten the old age benefit payments, although the proposal is now bogged down in a partisan row.

In short, the politicians at Washington are in a "gimme" re-election mood. For that reason, every group which gathers gravy from the government is out to collect while the collecting is good.

They have no assurance that the next administration, whether Democratic or Republican, will be so generous with the taxpayers' money as the outbound ship of state.

EXAMPLE—The most spectacular example of Truman's "good times" complex appears in the food situation. Although Price Administrator Ellis Arnall and the president himself have warned of possible increases for these commodities, blaming the prospect on Congress, the Administration deliberately pursues a policy of high food costs.

The Defense Production Act, with amendments, authorizes the Department of Agriculture to buy foodstuffs so as to divert them from the market, if temporary surpluses threaten unfavorable prices to the producers.

is nothing more than an artificial price-lifting proposition.

LIST—Here is a partial list of essential food items taken out of the channels of trade under this scheme since January 1, 1952:

26,400,000 pounds of smoked pork products, including 18,200,000 pounds of smoked skinned hams, 4,500,000 pounds of picnic hams, 2,000,000 pounds of bacon; 500,000 cases of eggs in the shell; 4,999,350 pounds of dried eggs; 100,000 pounds of dried edible beans; 20,417,905 pounds of dried milk; 173,740 cases of concentrated orange juice; 7,300,000 pounds of shelled almonds; 9,500,760 pounds of extracted honey; 2,083,127 pounds of shelled pecans.

EXPORT—The government is also subsidizing exporters to encourage export of foodstuffs, thus thinning the supply side of the American market. It has helped to finance the foreign shipment of 6,000,000 cases or boxes of fresh or processed fruit, including oranges, grapefruit, apples, pears, lemons, prunes and raisins.

In addition, it has bought up several hundred tank cars of cottonseed oil, which is a basic ingredient for shortening, margarine, salad dressing, etc.

And yet, Washington warns against higher prices on these same items!

ILLOGICAL—The hard liquor crisis demonstrates that excessive and illogical taxes will produce a buyers' revolt in this and other lines of taxable commodities. It substantiates every warning against the Treasury's demand for the highest duties it erroneously thought the traffic would bear.

As a result of the increase from $9 to $10.50 on a gallon of liquor, Uncle Sam will probably lose at least $300,000,000 in expected revenue in full fiscal years, judging from the present sag in sales. Federal, state and local taxes now amount to almost $3 a quart. Thus, it is almost impossible to cut retail prices in order to stimulate business.

DISCRIMINATORY—Many distillers, distributors and retailers face bankruptcy, unless vast surpluses now in stock can be moved. There will be resulting unemployment. Bootlegging will increase beyond current high levels.

The crisis in this field is symptomatic, and it is chiefly significant for this reason. Although to a less degree, the same situation exists with respect to many other consumer goods, travel, entertainment, sports equipment etc.

Under present peak expenditures, taxes are so high that they defeat their purpose, which should be only to

The Circleville Herald

Consolidation of The Circleville Herald, Established 1883 and The Daily Union Herald Established 1894.

Published Evenings Except Sunday By
THE CIRCLEVILLE PUBLISHING COMPANY
210 N. Court Street, Circleville

T. E. WILSON PUBLISHER

Member Ohio Newspaper Association, Associated Press, Central Press Association and the Ohio Select List.

NATIONAL ADVERTISING REPRESENTATIVES,
JOHN W. CULLEN COMPANY
230 N. Michigan Avenue, Chicago, 630 Fifth Avenue, New York, 3044 N. Grand Blvd., Detroit

SUBSCRIPTION
Pickaway County and Circleville trading territory. By carrier in Circleville, 30c per week. By mail per year, $6 in advance. Zones one and two, $7 per year in advance. Beyond first and second postal zones, per year $8 in advance.

Entered at Postoffice at Circleville, Ohio, as Second Class Matter.

TOO STRONG MEDICINE

THERE IS AN easy assumption in the public mind that the oil strike will be settled before a critical shortage of gasoline and other petroleum products develops. But suppose this strike isn't settled for many weeks? The imagination can scarcely grasp the consequences to American life. There would be no certainty about anything, including essentials such as food and health safeguards.

Wage Stabilization Board, now thoroughly discredited, made a bid for a settlement, apparently to no effect. If a settlement is not reached, President Truman will have his choice of taking some dubious action or invoking the Taft-Hartley Act which he despises. That law would provide an 80-day injunction against the strike, with some chance of a settlement being reached before the expiration of that period.

Leaders of organized labor are determined to put wages as high as possible before Congress makes sweeping changes in the controls system. It may be helpful, too, in their view, to cut petroleum supplies back so that a developing over-supply situation is eliminated.

But the throttling of America through industry-wide strikes is too strong a medicine for the country to swallow, dose after dose. The problem demands a solution, and it is up to Congress to supply it.

Six thousand persons will soon be engaged in making powder in Kansas City. But how are they going to keep it dry in that flood-ridden city?

Whatever else may be charged to the year 1951, it should be given credit for heading off the chain letter fad.

Scientist predicts another glacial age in 20,000 years, by which time the cold war may be over.

Mice have been sent aloft 40 miles in a rocket. But why would mice want to look at the top of the national debt?

George E. Sokolsky's

These Days

During China's past century of civil war and tribulation, it has been British policy to bend to local conditions rather than to insist upon general principles. In pursuit of this policy they promoted their trade.

This goes back a distance in the history of China. For instance, during the Taiping Rebellion (1848-1865), it was British policy to support the Manchu dynasty against the rebels, but Shanghai, Hongkong and Nanking did business with the Taipings in spite of their peculiarities. During Sun Yat-sen's first successful revolution (1911), the same program was followed, a thriving business being done with the revolutionary forces, who were almost immediately recognized upon their victory. Similarly, when Chiang Kai-shek established his government in Nanking in 1927, the British vied with the Americans as to who would be the first to recognize Chiang.

Even when local governments came into power during the period of the Tachuns (1916-1927), although these warlords could not be recognized, close relations were established by all countries with them and the British were particularly adept in their handling of some of them. For instance, Chang Tso-lin was for many years the master of Manchuria, ignoring the authority of the recognized national government. All foreign powers paid court to him.

Thus, when the Communists conquered China in 1949, the British position simplified itself to the fact that the area was held by the blighters and they might just as well get on with business. They swiftly recognized Mao-Tse-tung's government to the disadvantage of the United States. Hongkong in 1950 and 1951 did such a thriving business as it had never known before and for a time it was British policy to describe Mao as an Oriental Tito.

But toward the end of 1951, the business tapered off, principally because the United States could not understand how the British could sell materials useful in war which the Chinese Communists were using not only to kill Americans but some British.

Besides, the Chinese Communists were treating the British badly. It was a queer situation: while Downing Street rushed to recognize Mao Tse-tung, he never recognized the British. He permitted trade with them through Hongkong and Shanghai, but he would not write a treaty or even negotiate one.

The tribulations of the British merchant can only be understood by one who had lived among them in the days of their greatness. The British firms were the principal centers of trade in each city. The lions of the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank, one smiling, one frowning, were marks of wealth and power. Each Taipan lived in a great house in which he entertained like a king. His Chinese comprador was likely to be among the richest of Chinese. The British clubs determined the social life of the city.

And I must say that, man for man, the type of Britisher who came to China to trade or to serve as a government official was generally superior in quality and training to most other Europeans. If he was not

(Continued on Page Eleven)

LAFF-A-DAY

Copyright 1952, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved.

"She walked in with a poodle haircut, and I said, 'Did you get a distemper shot yet?'"

DIET AND HEALTH

Early Care Is Important for Youngster Who Is Cross-Eyed

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

SOME conditions of the body correct themselves with time, but cross-eye is not one of them. The time to begin correcting cross-eye is as soon as it is noticed, even in a small child or baby.

Many children are born with this defect, and even more become cross-eyed when they are two or three years old. Treatment started as soon as the condition is detected will save much effort and hardship later on.

Cross-eye, or squint, refers to any condition in which the eyes do not have the normal relationship to each other. That is, they do not actually have to cross. About two out of every hundred children in the United States develop the defect.

The commonest types of cross-eye are those that turn in and those that turn out; of these two, there are more that turn in. The defect may be in a single eye or in both.

In some children, the eyes are always crossed. In other cases, parents may notice that the child's eyes are straight at certain times. Most often, the eyes cross late in the day or in the evening, when the child is tired.

Well-wishing friends sometimes tell parents that a child's eyes will straighten themselves in time. An eye specialist, however, would not give them this advice. In fact, it is definitely bad to neglect cross-eye for any length of time. If it is neglected completely, the child can reach adulthood with the squint. When this occurs, he has a tendency not to use the squinting eye, and this can result in loss of eyesight in that eye.

Psychological Effect
In addition, the cross-eyed child often suffers from the taunts of his playmates. The resulting tensions can sometimes bring on more or less serious psychological disturbances.

Usually, when the family doctor detects cross-eye in a child, he will advise the parents to take him to an eye specialist as soon as possible. Glasses, followed by eye exercises, may be all that is needed to correct a severe case of cross-eye. In this condition, we usually do not fall back on surgery until all other methods have failed.

Remember that cross-eye is like defective teeth—it won't cure itself, and it can leave its mark on the adult.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Mrs. G. F.: What causes multiple boils on the skin?

Answer: Boils or furuncles are caused by the entrance of certain bacteria into the hair follicles of the skin. The type of bacteria which usually causes this infection is known as the staphylococcus. Good hygiene, with frequent washing of the skin, will often keep this condition from occurring.

Looking Back In Pickaway County

FIVE YEARS AGO
Mr. and Mrs. Robert Seward, East Mount street, are parents of a son born in Burger hospital.

Roy E. Thompson, Jr. of Circleville Route 3, is serving with the US Navy aboard the USS Toledo.

River again overflows banks here, 15 foot stage is feared.

TEN YEARS AGO
Private Robert Adkins has been recently assigned to a Fighter Squadron base at San Bruno, California.

Miss Virginia Nelson of Dayton, has been the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Nelson, South Court street.

Excitement over the possibility of a "second front" rose to fever pitch today with the arrival in London of high ranking United States air, tank and ground force commanders.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
Help wanted for trimming spinach by the Sears and Nichols corporation.

The Royal Neighbors of America royally entertained in their hall on West Main street in honor of their second anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sensenbrenner spent the day in Mansfield visiting relatives.

You're Telling Me!

By William Ritt
Central Press Writer

The only time the English open their Bibles these days is to find answers to crossword puzzle questions, complains the Archbishop of York. If this keeps up, he apparently fears, they'll never get to a six-letter word meaning the celestial abode.

In Alabama a dog has been taught to turn doorknobs with its paws. Fine—but does it greet visitors with outstretched teeth?

The dandelion is a paradox. It's the yellowest of weeds and, at the same time, the toughest.

Italian highways are becoming cluttered with billboards, according to a magazine article. The Roman poet Livy once said: "Beyond the Alps lies Italy." Today, he could add: "But you can't see it!"

For the political conventions Chicago cops are ordered to be extra polite. Just call every stranger "Senator"?

A Pennsylvanian celebrated his 65th birthday by walking 65 miles.

Pound Foolish

Copyright 1950 by Robert Molloy. Distributed by King Features Syndicate.

CHAPTER FIFTY-ONE

HENRI HAD skinned briefly with Leonie, who had remarked that Estella and Ursula McDevitt would have plenty of male company wherever they went. "Their father is having the car shipped," she said, "and in a couple of days Estella and Ursula will be driving around with boys or I miss my guess."

"But where will they meet these young men?" Henri inquired. "Of course Antoinette is going to have the Eastman boys over."

Leonie snickered contemptuously. "Uncle, Estella and Ursula will never worry about introductions. They'll have company and don't you worry about it. They'll visit all the shops, and some of the nicest young men in Charleston are clerks. Such as they are."

"You make them sound very bold."

"They are, if that's the word you want to use."

"I don't know what Antoinette will think."

"It's none of her business," Leonie said decisively.

"I don't see how you can say that, Leonie. She's their hostess."

"Hostess, my foot. They're renting rooms from her, Uncle, and you know that perfectly well. When are people going to stop all this stupid pretense? Miss Antoinette has no control over what Ursula and Estella do."

"It's a matter of principle," Henri said. "I gave my personal approval to those people on the strength of having met them just once, and what you had told us about them and the fact that they were from Virginia—which, after all, is not much of a guarantee. I feel that I am personally responsible."

"If they don't decamp without paying their room rent," Leonie said stoutly, "I think you've fulfilled your obligation. You don't seem to think that I took a good deal of responsibility, too, recommending that old broken-down barn to people who are used to living in well-heated houses with modern plumbing."

"What possible fault could they find with the Fielding House?" Henri demanded, no longer with outrage.

Leonie appeared determined to twist him. "Only that you could choke on the dust, and that the windows are loose and rattle every time somebody takes a good heavy step, and that the plaster falls if you so much as sneeze."

Henri was by this time reduced to snorting indignantly.

"Leonie!" Heloise said. "That will do."

Leonie assured them that she was only joking.

Later Antoinette had expressed herself as entirely pleased with the McDevitt girls and Henri had ceased to worry about their behavior.

Everything went well, from the prompt arrival of the McDevitts at two o'clock to Queenie's cooking and to the sufficiency of the victuals. The McDevitts professed themselves already enamored of Charleston; they had spent the morning looking over the waterfront, which had delighted them. They had seen the Cathedral, had done some shopping on King street, and had called on the Bishop, to whom Mrs. McDevitt had a letter of introduction.

"Such a delightful aristocratic old gentleman," said Mrs. McDevitt. "And the magnificent old house he lives in."

That, Henri was able to explain promptly, was one of the island houses, formerly the property of the distinguished Thomas Pinckney.

Mr. McDevitt now seemed to take a more hearty interest in the conversation, which he had been neglecting for his dinner. Henri named some of the families who were still quite prosperous.

"But of course nothing like the wealth you find in New York and Philadelphia and Boston," he said.

"Or Chicago," said Mr. McDevitt. "Or Denver. I spent a good deal of time in Denver."

"Dad's been everywhere," Estella explained.

"Well, I have traveled," said Mr. McDevitt. "In my time. Business, you know, Mr. Lemay. That's really why we're in Charleston, except that Mother and the girls thought it would be nice to come along. To spend some money," he added.

"That, after all, is a lady's privilege," Henri said.

"Sometimes," said Mr. McDevitt, "they abuse it." But he looked pleased at the idea that they should. He turned to Henri. "Yes," he said, "my associates and I are much interested in Charleston. The Panama Canal, he explained. "I know that some efforts are being made to show the rest of the country what importance Charleston has as a port so convenient to the Canal, but we thought we might interest some of your citizens in a bigger bit of advertising."

"Charleston," Henri said politely, "is not very progressive, Mr. McDevitt. I wish you all the success possible, sir, but I'm afraid you'll find our business men hard to convince. There was a great deal of trouble getting them to put up money for the Exposition some years ago."

Mr. McDevitt laughed. "Charleston's reputation for being conservative is well known, sir," he said. "You forget that the rest of the South is very jealous of your native city and likes to talk about its faults. But I think the gentlemen of Charleston will be interested in our proposition. We aren't going to be in a hurry or pushing, like a lot of Yankees. We Southerners understand each other better than that."

Henri nodded. "Maybe," Mr. McDevitt said, "you wouldn't mind giving me the benefit of your advice on the best way to go about renting space. Is there a man you'd especially recommend?"

Henri thought rapidly. "I could recommend several people," he said. "I was wondering, however, if you would prefer to deal with someone who has some influence."

"Wouldn't matter to me in the least," said Mr. McDevitt. "I know the old law of tit for tat pretty well but I'm not going to be led by it. So long as the man is reliable and honest—and I know, of course, that anyone you saw fit to suggest would be both."

"My friend Mr. Desfontaines," Henri said, "has an office on Broad street, a few doors from the City Hall. He'd be delighted to do anything he could for you."

"I'll remember his name," said Mr. McDevitt. "And the matter of furnishings and so forth. I want it to be simple, you know, but nice."

"Mr. McDevitt," Henri said, "to be very frank with you, I hesitate about recommending friends, because I feel that I ought not to consider such matters... but there's a store with which my relations have always been very pleasant. Haverty's, on the corner of King and Society. I think you'd find good treatment there."

"And of course, although there's no hurry," said Mr. McDevitt, "there will be stationery. I believe you are in the business, Mr. Lemay?"

Henri now felt really uncomfortable. "I was in the business for a short while," he said, "but my plans didn't work out very well. At present I'm simply a bookkeeper for a stationery firm. I'd like to assure you that I myself will derive no personal advantages whatever from recommending it."

"Oh, no matter," said Mr. McDevitt. "No reason why you shouldn't."

"Perhaps not," Henri said. "But I shouldn't recommend the firm if that were the case. However, you will not find a fairer man to deal with anywhere than Mr. Peterson. He is scrupulously honest."

"Men like that," said Mr. McDevitt, "are not too plentiful nowadays." He shook his head regretfully. "I think, Mr. Lemay, that I could not do better than follow your recommendations. If you would be so kind, sir, as to write down, at some time, the names of the companies and the gentlemen you think I ought to discuss the business with, I'd be much obliged."

"I'll do it this very evening," Henri said, "and it will be delivered to you in the morning mail."

(Continued on Page Eight)

Grab Bag

THE ANSWER QUICK!

1. Who wrote, "My heart leaps up when I behold a rainbow in the sky?"
2. What is a straw vote?
3. Do United States ships have to pay toll when they pass through the Panama canal?
4. In what motion picture did Paul Muni play a Chinaman?
5. What are stratified rocks?

FOLKS OF FAME—GUESS THE NAME

1—This may be a tough one. He is a Bolivian political economist and statesman. He was born on Oct. 2, 1907, in Tarija, Bolivia, was educated in the law, and was secretary of the directorate of financial statistics; attorney of the permanent fiscal council, superior officer, department of finance, etc. He has also been vice-president of the chamber of deputies, ministry of economy and minister of finance of his country. He was a contributor to The Development of Thought in the Western Hemisphere. Recently he returned from exile in Argentina to lead a three-day revolt against the military junta of Gen. Hugo Ballivian which had nullified results of the May election which had named him president. Can you tell his name?

2—Now this is an easy one because he's a radio and television favorite. He was born in New York city, on Dec. 21, 1924, and attended public school and the school of industrial arts. He won a first prize on the late Major Bowes' Amateur Hour and then began playing vaudeville dates. At 16, when he was playing benefits for crippled children, Ted Weems saw him and signed him up. He had taken a course in ventriloquism when he was convinced.

Blowing out birthday cake candles is easier on the feet.

Passengers in Australian transport planes must sit backward, facing the tail. This should afford them a good view of the weather it's now too late for them to have.

SALLY'S SALLIES

"I just added an 'M' for my new boy-friend."

valancing from polio, and now he and his wooden pal, Jerry Malone, are popular on both the radio and TV. Who is he?

IT'S BEEN SAID

Silence is the perfectest herald of joy; I were but little happy, if I could say how much.—William Shakespeare, Much Ado About Nothing.

IT HAPPENED TODAY

1819—Alexander Pushkin, Russian poet and story writer, was born. 1943—Edsel Ford, son of the late Henry Ford, Sr., died. 1917—Revolution in Nicaragua, Gen. Anastasio Somoza seized power.

HOW'D YOU MAKE OUT?

1. William Wordsworth.
2. An unofficial vote taken before a regular vote to determine the direction of popular sympathy.
3. Yes.
4. The Good Earth.
5. Rocks composed of layers.

Benet Cert's

Try, Stop Me

A tight-lipped general, obviously a martinet, descended upon a draft

tee camp in New England on an inspection tour, and a regimental parade was arranged in his honor. As the band marched by the reviewing stand, the general emitted a snort of disgust and roared, "Halt!" Three battalions stopped in their tracks. "Now back up," hollered the general, "and the next time that band marches past me I want to see the slides of those trombones going in and out together!"

The news some time back that Pakistan's able Prime Minister Liaquat Ali Khan had been assassinated caused perturbation in official circles in Washington. Senator Kenneth McKellar, venerable politico from Tennessee, was particularly ruffled. "How's that what's-his-name movie star who's been trying to divorce him going to feel about this?" he demanded.

DEAD STOCK

Removed Promptly With Sanitary Equipment Call Collect Circleville 31
Darling & Company

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

news behind the news

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, May 26—"The American people never shoot Santa Claus!"

The late Alfred E. Smith's homely analysis of the motivating forces in American politics, especially in a national election, underlies Harry S. Truman's basic strategy for insuring a Democratic triumph next November.

The departing party leader is confident that "good times" on farms and in the factories will offset GOP attacks on foreign policy failures, peak taxes and corruption at Washington.

STIMULUS—He has removed ceilings from many basic commodities in order to foster price increases from existing low levels. He has released many materials from federal controls as stimulus to construction and production in all lines. Simultaneously, in the steel dispute he has intervened to boost wage; so that they will keep pace with skyrocketing costs of living.

Between now and November, the Pentagon will spend from $500 million to $1 billion more a month on weapons and supplies than it has been pouring out since the North Koreans' invasion. Federal Reserve removal of curbs on credit, which was extremely satisfactory to the White House, has already had the effect of increasing retail sales.

GENEROUS—Although controlled by a hostile coalition, congress marches along in the influenza tionary parade. In the current session it has upped federal salaries and it has boosted the pay of the armed forces. It may tighten the old age benefit payments, although the proposal is now bogged down in a partisan row.

In short, the politicians at Washington are in a "gimme" re-election mood. For that reason, every group which gathers gravity from the government is out to collect while the collecting is good.

They have no assurance that the next administration, whether Democratic or Republican, will be so generous with the taxpayers' money as the outbound ship of state.

EXAMPLE—The most spectacular example of Truman's "good times" complex appears in the food situation. Although Price Administrator Elis Arnauld and the president himself have warned of possible increases for these commodities, blaming the prospect on Congress, the Administration deliberately pursues a policy of high food costs.

The Defense Production Act, with amendments, authorizes the Department of Agriculture to buy foodstuffs so as to divert them from the market, if temporary surpluses threaten unfavorable prices to the producers.

The articles so purchased by the government may be given away or used for the school lunch program. Or they may simply be stored in order to keep them off the market.

In short, this buying program is nothing more than an artificial price-lifting proposition.

LIST—Here is a partial list of essential food items taken out of the channels of trade under this scheme since January 1, 1952:

26,400,000 pounds of smoked pork products, including 18,200,000 pounds of smoked skinned hams, 4,500,000 pounds of picnic hams, and 2,900,000 pounds of bacon; 500,000 cases of eggs in the shell; 4,999,350 pounds of dried eggs; 100,000 pounds of dried edible beans; 20,417,905 pounds of dried milk; 173,740 cases of concentrated orange juice; 7,300,000 pounds of shelled almonds; 9,500,760 pounds of extracted honey; 2,983,127 pounds of shelled pecans.

EXPORT—The government is also subsidizing exporters to encourage export of foodstuffs, thus thinning the supply side of the American market. It has helped to finance the foreign shipment of 6,000,000 cases or boxes of fresh or processed fruit, including oranges, grapefruit, apples, pears, lemons, prunes and raisins.

In addition, it has bought up several hundred tank cars of cottonseed oil, which is a basic ingredient for shortening, margarine, salad dressing, etc.

And yet, Washington warns against higher prices on these same items!

ILLOGICAL—The hard liquor crisis demonstrates that ex-

By Ray Tucker

sive and illogical taxes will produce a buyers' revolt in this and other lines of taxable commodities. It substantiates every warning against the Treasury's demand for the highest duties it erroneously thought the traffic would bear.

As a result of the increase from $9 to $10.50 on a gallon of liquor, Uncle Sam will probably lose at least $300,000,000 in expected revenue in full fiscal years, judging from the present sag in sales. Federal, state and local taxes now amount to almost $3 a quart. This is almost impossible to cut retail prices in order to stimulate business.

DISCRIMINATORY—Many distillers, distributors and retailers face bankruptcy, unless vast surpluses now in stock can be moved. There will be resulting unemployment. Bootlegging will increase beyond current high levels.

The crisis in this field is symptomatic, and it is chiefly significant for this reason. Although to a less degree, the same situation exists with respect to many other consumer goods, travel, entertainment, sports equipment etc.

Under present peak expenditures, taxes are so high that they defeat their purpose, which should be only to raise revenue. Now they have become punitive and discriminatory, not against "special privilege" groups so often assailed at Washington, but against even low-bracket Americans.

:—: Social Happenings - Personals - News Of Interest To Women :—:

Lutherans Honor 50-Year Pastor With Dinner Party

Wardell's Scene Of Celebration

The Rev. and Mrs. Charles H. Herrstein of Lancaster, were honored guests Sunday when a group of friends entertained with dinner in Wardell's party home, in commemoration of the 50th anniversary of the Rev. Herrstein's ordination in the Lutheran ministry.

The Rev. Herrstein was ordained 50 years ago May 18 in Trinity Lutheran church in Circleville. The sermon for his ordination was preached by the late Rev. Dr. G. J. Troutman. Both the Rev. and Mrs. Herrstein are former residents of Circleville. Mrs. Herrstein is the former Effie Stewart, and the couple were married 50 years ago in September in the local church.

The Rev. Herrstein is at present, pastor of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran church in Lancaster.

Spring flowers decorated the table for the dinner. Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sensenbrenner, Mr. and Mrs. George Fischer, Mr. and Mrs. George Griffith, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ebert, Mr. and Mrs. Carl C. Leist, Warren Leist, John D. Hummel, Mrs. Marvene Burgett, Miss Florence Hoffman, Mrs. Erma Gehres, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Goeller, Mr. and Mrs. Gladden Troutman, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Schwarz, the Rev. and Mrs. G. L. Troutman, Joyce Troutman and George Troutman all of Circleville, Mr. and Mrs. Meinhard Palm of Lancaster, Mr. and Mrs. Harley Hines of Grove City and the honored guests.

During the morning services Mrs. Herrstein was presented a corsage and Edward Sensenbrenner presented the honored couple with a picture entitled, "Head of Christ."

Mrs. Young Is Hostess To Child Club

Child Advancement Club met in the home of Mrs. Robert Young Wednesday. Mrs. Darl McAfee was assisting hostess.

The business meeting was conducted by the outgoing president, Mrs. Donald Pontious. Mrs. Edward Heath reported on the district conference held at Hebron. Those attending were Mrs. Darl McAfee, Mrs. Robert Young, Mrs. Robert Valentine, Mrs. David Evans, Mrs. James Salyer and Mrs. Heath.

It was decided to have a picnic June 18th, which will be held at the home of Mrs. Edward Heath.

After the business meeting installation of officers was conducted by Mrs. Donald Pontious. Officers installed were president, Mrs. Robert Young; vice-president, Mrs. Bill Huffman; recording secretary, Mrs. Robert Valentine; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Edward Heath; and treasurer, Mrs. Bill Ankrom.

Mrs. Pontious was presented a past president's pin by Mrs. Young. Refreshments were served to members and Mrs. William Hildenbrand, a guest.

Ladies Aid And Circles Have Meeting

Thirty-three members and guests were present for the meeting of the Ladies Aid and Service Circles of the First Evangelical United Brethren church, Thursday in the service center.

Mrs. Ezra Pritchard, vice-president, was in charge of devotionals and business. It was decided the three circles will unite and meet with members of the ladies aid the second Monday of the month to have devotionals and a business meeting. Each circle will conduct their own business session and they will be served refreshments as a group.

Mrs. Frank Hawks was elected as treasurer. The Mary Circle was in charge of the program with Mrs. Carl Wilson presiding. A playlet entitled, "The Courtship of Jane," was given by Tommy and Delores Jean Valentine, Nancy Ankrom and Elliott Hawks.

Mrs. Wilson presided during a memorial service. A duet, "I've Gone the Mile of the Way," was presented by Mrs. Hawks and Mrs. Charles Ater.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Raymond Arledge, Mrs. Paul Woodward, Mrs. Kenneth Blue, Mrs. Russel Jones and Mrs. Emmett Hinton of the Mary Circle.

Dinner Dance Is Held By Monroe Alumni

Alumni Association of Monroe Township high school held a dinner dance Saturday evening in the Monroe Township high school, with approximately 150 persons present.

The first class was graduated from the school in 1918. During the program, Lloyd Neff gave the invocation, followed by the introduction of Willis Conley as toastmaster. Welcome to Seniors was given by Harold Furniss and response was offered by George Kern. Clyde Plant presented the Seniors.

Officers for the association include Lyle Ingman as president; Mrs. Ivan Hamilton, vice-president; Miss Helen Winfough, secretary and Mrs. Betty Kenney, treasurer.

Senior class members are Phyllis Ankrom, Phyllis Brigner, Mary Fullen, Nancy Neff, James Brigner, Jackson Casto, H. Clay Beall, Jack Timmons, George Kern, Harold Longberry and Bob List.

Following the banquet and a business meeting, a dance was held from 9 to 12.

Commencement Is Planned At Washington

Eighth grade commencement will be held at 8 p. m. Thursday in the Washington Township school auditorium for 14 pupils.

George D. McDowell, county superintendent, will present the certificates to Irma Blevins, Janet Cook, Lydia DeLong, valedictorian; Ronald Gaines, Lawrence Hill, Joanne Huffer, Marian Karshner,

Personals

Mrs. Robert Bower of Kingston Route 1, will be hostess to members of the Ladies Aid Society of Pleasant View EUB church at 2 p. m. Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Stonerock of South Pickaway street, had as their Sunday dinner guests, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bond and son, Lewis of Lockbourne and Miss Esther Bond of Columbus. During the afternoon Cpl. David Bond, who is stationed at Fort Campbell, Ky., telephoned his mother.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Ray Barnhart, Jr. of Guilford road, have as their guest, Mrs. Barnhart's mother, Mrs. C. A. Mitten of Akron. Mrs. Mitten has been a guest in the Barnhart home the past two weeks and plans to return to her home next weekend. Other recent guests of the Barnharts were Mrs. Robert Sipes and daughter of Cleveland.

Mrs. Clyde Turner of Pickaway

Township will be hostess to members of Berger hospital Guild 29 at 8 p. m. Wednesday in her home. Mrs. Charles Baldoser and daughter, Miss Betty Baldoser, will be the assisting hostesses.

Mrs. H. O. Caldwell, legislative chairman for the Pickaway County Farm Bureau, left Monday for Washington, D.C., with the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation. Mrs. Caldwell is a congressional spokeswoman from the 11th district. Tuesday, the delegation will entertain the Ohio Senators and Congressmen at luncheon in the Congressional Hotel and Mrs. Caldwell will speak on the subject, "Farm Bureau Women," during the program. The group will return Thursday.

American Legion Auxiliary will meet at 8 p. m. Monday in the Legion home.

Mr. and Mrs. George Defenbaugh of Circleville Route 3, observed their 50th wedding anniversary Wednesday. Friends called at their home during the afternoon and evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Spence of Cleveland Heights, spent the weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Dane Ellis of Kingston.

Mr. and Mrs. Hilaire Haecker and family of Decatur, Ill., visited Mrs. Cora Haecker and family during the weekend.

Mrs. McCollister Hostess To Group

Mrs. F. G. McCollister entertained members of the Clarksburg Woman's Christian Temperance Union recently in her home in Clarksburg. She was assisted by Mrs. Etta Goldsberry, Mrs. Frank Carter and Miss Mabel Overly.

Twenty-four members were present and Mrs. John Clark, Mrs. Mary Overly, Ann Timmons, Virginia Martin, Elizabeth Taylor and Judith Ann Anderson were guests. Mrs. Homer Kelly, the president, conducted the meeting. Mrs. Clyde Thomas had charge of the devotionals which included the Scripture lesson, a poem, "Home," and prayer.

Mrs. Glenn Anderson was program chairman. Readings were, "Mother's Influence," Mrs. Howard Martin; "While Yet There Is Time," Mrs. Lloyd Drummond; "Success," Mrs. Harley Hiser; and "Should There Be a Constitutional Convention?" and "Don't Forget to Live," Mrs. Anderson. Piano solos included: "Spring Song," Ann Timmons; "Faith of Our Fathers," Virginia Martin; and "Bells of St. Mary's," Elizabeth Taylor.

It was announced the next meeting will be June 18 at the home of Mrs. C. A. Bowdle, New Holland. Mrs. Howard Martin and Mrs. Earl Speakman will be the assisting hostesses. Mrs. Thomas Taylor will

Grange Conducts Memorial Program

A memorial program and contests were held during the recent meeting of the Washington Grange, for the 25 members and juveniles present.

Miss Miriam Weaver, juvenile have charge of the devotions and Miss Ollie Ater will be program leader.

During the social hour, refreshments were served.

matron, was in charge of the memorial service. Assisting were Sara Kay Best, Lydia DeLong, Betty Lou Leist, Carol Leist, Jerry Leist, and Weta Mae Leist.

Contests were conducted by the lecturer, Mrs. Maurice Harper and lunch was served by Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Blue and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Best.

The next meeting will be June 13, in charge of the home economics committee and will consist of sewing and nutrition contests and a health program.

HAMILTON STORE

"HALLMARK" GREETING CARDS FOR ALL OCCASIONS

CEMETERY WREATHS

$2.25 to $4.25 Complete With Wire Stand

CEMETERY BOUQUETS

$1.50

Assorted Artificial Flowers In Colorful Bouquet

METAL FLOWER CONTAINERS

For Cemetery 19c ea.

Come In and Browse Around You're Welcome

Holly...by

The modern simplicity of Fostoria's Holly pattern lends a lustrous richness to your entertaining... or to top your list of thoughtful gifts. Holly, handmade by American craftsmen, is available in complete stemware service, plus many other lovely and useful pieces. Come in, see our open-stock collection today. You'll find Fostoria patterns to delight every taste... every budget.

Holly Stemware — $2.25 each

L.M. BUTCH CO.

The SALE you've been asking for FOR ONE WEEK ONLY!

MISS SWANK
BARBIZON
ARTEMIS
MOJUD

SLIPS
3 for $5.97
or $2.19 ea.

Reduced From
$3.00 and $4.00

Exceptional values! Nationally advertised — this money-saving bonanza is yours for one week only. Pretty and practical... Miss Swank's exclusive Straight-plus-Bias design (straight side panels to prevent riding, twisting, plus bias front and back for flexibility) assures perfect fit! Give them to June brides, graduates—and to yourself. But hurry... quantities won't last long at this SALE price!

Sharff's

CIRCLEVILLE'S LEADING STORE FOR MISSES AND WOMEN

Murphy's Shir-Tier Curtains
give you lovely Decorator Effects
at Low Cost

$1.79 each

Lovely Rayon in pastels and eggshell! They're pre-shirred, ready-to-hang... mix 'em... match 'em... dress your windows in original exciting ways. Shir-tier curtains have double stitched side hems, will not wrinkle or pucker. Pre-shirred rod hems for permanent extra-full, evenly spaced folds. Each curtain measures 36 inches wide and 36 inches long... can be fitted to any size or shape window.

G.C. Murphy Co.
CLEVELL'S FRIENDLY STORE

Be a better cook with PYREX Ware!

PYREX Percolator

PYREX Percolators take all the guesswork out of coffee-making! Watch the coffee perk till the color tells you it's just right! It's a good-looking percolator that makes delicious coffee... every time!

4-cup size $2.45
6-cup size $2.95
9-cup size $3.45

PYREX Mixing Bowls

Rounded inside for easiest mixing by hand or electric mixer. Flat bases for steadiness. Three handy sizes for mixing, baking, and serving.

Nest of 3 $1.39

PYREX Utility Dish

For baking cakes, biscuits, baked apples, macaroni 'n cheese! Keeps food hot... a dream to clean. 2-qt. size, 89¢; 3-qt. size, $1.00.

1-qt. size 69¢

PYREX Loaf Pan

Just what you need for meat loaf, nut bread, baked beans! The handles are a blessing! Bakes and serves your food in style! 10 1/2-in. size, 89¢.

9-in. size 69¢

HARPSTER & YOST
"EVERYTHING IN HARDWARE"
RURAL DOXOL BOTTLE GAS
Phone 136 • CIRCLEVILLE, O.

—: Social Happenings - Personals - News Of Interest To Women :—:

Lutherans Honor 50-Year Pastor With Dinner Party

Wardell's Scene Of Celebration

The Rev. and Mrs. Charles H. Herrstein of Lancaster, were honored guests Sunday when a group of friends entertained with dinner in Wardell's party home, in commemoration of the 50th anniversary of the Rev. Herrstein's ordination in the Lutheran ministry.

The Rev. Herrstein was ordained 50 years ago May 18 in Trinity Lutheran church in Circleville. The sermon for his ordination was preached by the late Rev. Dr. G. J. Troutman. Both the Rev. and Mrs. Herrstein are former residents of Circleville. Mrs. Herrstein is the former Effie Stewart, and the couple were married 50 years ago in September in the local church. The Rev. Herrstein is at present, pastor of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran church in Lancaster.

Spring flowers decorated the table for the dinner. Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sensenbrenner, Mr. and Mrs. George Fischer, Mr. and Mrs. George Griffith, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ebert, Mr. and Mrs. Carl C. Leist, Warren Leist, John D. Hummel, Mrs. Marvene Burgett, Miss Florence Hoffman, Mrs. Erma Gehres, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Goeller, Mr. and Mrs. Gladden Troutman, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Schwarz, the Rev. and Mrs. G. L. Troutman, Joyce Troutman and George Troutman all of Circleville, Mr. and Mrs. Meinhardt Palm of Lancaster, Mr. and Mrs. Harley Hines of Grove City and the honored guests.

During the morning services Mrs. Herrstein was presented a corsage and Edward Sensenbrenner presented the honored couple with a picture entitled, "Head of Christ."

Mrs. Young Is Hostess To Child Club

Child Advancement Club met in the home of Mrs. Robert Young Wednesday. Mrs. Darl McAfee was assisting hostess.

The business meeting was conducted by the outgoing president, Mrs. Donald Pontious. Mrs. Edward Heath reported on the district conference held at Hebron. Those attending were Mrs. Darl McAfee, Mrs. Robert Young, Mrs. Robert Valentine, Mrs. David Evans, Mrs. James Salyer and Mrs. Heath.

It was decided to have a picnic June 18th, which will be held at the home of Mrs. Edward Heath.

After the business meeting installation of officers was conducted by Mrs. Donald Pontious. Officers installed were president, Mrs. Robert Young; vice-president, Mrs. Bill Huffman; recording secretary, Mrs. Robert Valentine; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Edward Heath; and treasurer, Mrs. Bill Ankrom.

Mrs. Pontious was presented a past president's pin by Mrs. Young. Refreshments were served to members and Mrs. William Hildenbrand, a guest.

Foster-Haughn Engagement Is Made Known

Dr. and Mrs. Bernard M. Foster of Creston, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Virginia Lee, to Wilber C. Haughn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Haughn of Ashville.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Grove City high school and is attending Ohio State university, where she is a junior in the school of nursing.

Mr. Haughn is a graduate of Scioto Township high school and is associated with the Oliver corporation.

The wedding will take place at 5:30 p. m. June 8 in the Creston Presbyterian church.

Calendar

TUESDAY

BERGER HOSPITAL GUILD 28, 8 p. m. in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. McClure, 966 South Pickaway street.

ORDER OF THE EASTERN STAR, 8 p. m. in the Masonic Temple.

WEDNESDAY

LADIES AID SOCIETY OF THE Pleasant View EUB church, 2 p. m. in the home of Mrs. Robert Bower, Kingston Route 1.

Ashville

Mrs. A. W. Graham returned home Thursday from Mercy hospital, Columbus, where she was confined for three weeks as the result of a fractured vertebra suffered in a fall at her home.

Winners of the "Poppy Day" poster contest sponsored by Ashville American Legion Auxiliary in Ashville grades four, five and six, were Richard Wilcox, Bill Hollenback and Robert Hoover.

Carl Krieger of the Ashville high school won first place and a trophy Saturday in the second annual driver education rodeo, sponsored by the Mid-Ohio driver education association. Krieger competed in the boys' junior division, made up of high school boys who have only recently received their drivers' licenses. His winning score was 250.6 while his nearest competitor, Tom Rauch of Lancaster, had a score of 255.2. Paul O'Day of Ashville placed seventh in the boys' senior division with a score of 333.1.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Cummins left Friday on a three week trip to California, where they will visit relatives.

Mrs. Parker Cook and Jerry left Saturday morning for Oklahoma, where they will visit Mrs. Cook's brother.

Micky Cook, Ashville junior, suffered a broken arm at school Wednesday. She fell from the school's trampoline.

Ladies Aid And Circles Have Meeting

Thirty-three members and guests were present for the meeting of the Ladies Aid Society of the First Evangelical United Brethren church, Thursday in the service center.

Mrs. Ezra Pritchard, vice-president, was in charge of devotionals and business. It was decided the three circles will unite and meet with members of the ladies aid the second Monday of the month to have devotionals and a business meeting. Each circle will conduct their own business session and they will be served refreshments as a group.

Mrs. Frank Hawks was elected as treasurer. The Mary Circle was in charge of the program with Mrs. Carl Wilson presiding. A playlet entitled, "The Courtship of Jane," was given by Tommy and Delores Jean Valentine, Nancy Ankrom and Elliott Hawks.

Mrs. Wilson presided during a memorial service. A duet, "I've Gone the Mile of the Way," was presented by Mrs. Hawks and Mrs. Charles Ater.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Raymond Arledge, Mrs. Paul Woodward, Mrs. Kenneth Blue, Mrs. Russell Jones and Mrs. Emmett Hinton of the Mary Circle.

Dinner Dance Is Held By Monroe Alumni

Alumni Association of Monroe Township high school held a dinner dance Saturday evening in the Monroe Township high school, with approximately 150 persons present.

The first class was graduated from the school in 1918.

During the program, Lloyd Neff gave the invocation, followed by the introduction of Willis Conley as toastmaster. Welcome to Seniors was given by Harold Furniss and response was offered by George Kern. Clyde Plant presented the Seniors.

Officers for the association include Lyle Ingman as president; Mrs. Ivan Hamilton, vice-president; Miss Helen Winfough, secretary and Mrs. Betty Kenney, treasurer.

Senior class members are Phyllis Ankrom, Phyllis Brigner, Mary Fullen, Nancy Neff, James Brigner, Jackson Casto, H. Clay Beall, Jack Timmons, George Kern, Harold Longberry and Bob List.

Following the banquet and a business meeting, a dance was held from 9 to 12.

Commencement Is Planned At Washington

Eighth grade commencement will be held at 8 p. m. Thursday in the Washington Township school auditorium for 14 pupils.

George D. McDowell, county superintendent, will present the certificates to Irma Blevins, Janet Cook, Lydia DeLong, valedictorian; Ronald Gaines, Lawrence Hill, Joanne Huffer, Marian Karshner,

Personals

Mrs. Robert Bower of Kingston Route 1, will be hostess to members of the Ladies Aid Society of Pleasant View EUB church at 2 p. m. Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Stonerock of South Pickaway street, had as their Sunday dinner guests, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bond and son, Lewis of Lockbourne and Miss Esther Bond of Columbus. During the afternoon Cpl. David Bond, who is stationed at Fort Campbell, Ky., telephoned his mother.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Ray Barnhart, Jr. of Guilford road, have as their guest, Mrs. Barnhart's mother, Mrs. C. A. Mitten of Akron. Mrs. Mitten has been a guest in the Barnhart home the past two weeks and plans to return to her home next weekend. Other recent guests of the Barnharts were Mrs. Robert Sipes and daughter of Cleveland.

Mrs. Clyde Turner of Pickaway Beverly Knecht, Gerald Leist, Martha Lowery, salutatorian; Gary McKenzie, Charles Miller, Bonnie Ramey and Jim Weaver.

Commencement address will be delivered by William D. Radcliff, Judge of Pickaway County Common Pleas Court.

Annual picnic is being planned for Wednesday and grade cards will be distributed June 2.

Township will be hostess to members of Berger hospital Guild 29 at 8 p. m. Wednesday in her home. Mrs. Charles Baldoser and daughter, Miss Betty Baldoser, will be the assisting hostesses.

Mrs. H. O. Caldwell, legislative chairman for the Pickaway County Farm Bureau, left Monday for Washington, D.C., with the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation. Mrs. Caldwell is a congressional spokeswoman from the 11th district. Tuesday, the delegation will entertain the Ohio Senators and Congressmen at luncheon in the Congressional Hotel and Mrs. Caldwell will speak on the subject, "Farm Bureau Women," during the program. The group will return Thursday.

American Legion Auxiliary will meet at 8 p. m. Monday in the Legion home.

Mr. and Mrs. George Defenbaugh of Circleville Route 3, observed their 50th wedding anniversary Wednesday. Friends called at their home during the afternoon and evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Spence of Cleveland Heights, spent the weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Dane Ellis of Kingston.

Mr. and Mrs. Hilaire Haecker and family of Decatur, Ill., visited Mrs. Cora Haecker and family during the weekend.

PENNEY'S ALWAYS FIRST QUALITY

Will Be OPEN
ALL DAY
Wednesday
May 28th
Closed Friday—Decoration Day

Be a better cook with PYREX Ware!

PYREX Percolator

PYREX Percolators take all the guesswork out of coffee-making! Watch the coffee perk till the color tells you it's just right! It's a good-looking percolator that makes delicious coffee... every time!

4-cup size $2.45
6-cup size $2.95
9-cup size $3.45

PYREX Mixing Bowls

Rounded inside for easiest mixing by hand or electric mixer. Flat bases for steadiness. Three handy sizes for mixing, baking, and serving.

Nest of 3 $1.39

PYREX Utility Dish

For baking cakes, biscuits, baked apples, macaroni 'n cheese! Keeps food hot... a dream to clean. 2-qt. size, 89¢; 3-qt. size, $1.00.

1-qt. size 69¢

PYREX Loaf Pan

Just what you need for meat loaf, nut bread, baked beans! The handles are a blessing! Bakes and serves your food in style! 10 1/2-in. size, 89¢.

9-in. size 69¢

HARPSTER & YOST
"EVERYTHING IN HARDWARE"
RURAL DOXOL BOTTLE GAS
Phone 136 • CINCINNATI, O.

Mrs. McCollister Hostess To Group

Mrs. F. G. McCollister entertained members of the Clarksburg Woman's Christian Temperance Union recently in her home in Clarksburg. She was assisted by Mrs. Etta Goldsberry, Mrs. Frank Carter and Miss Mabel Overly.

Twenty-four members were present and Mrs. John Clark, Mrs. Mary Overly, Ann Timmons, Virginia Martin, Elizabeth Taylor and Judith Ann Anderson were guests. Mrs. Homer Kelly, the president, conducted the meeting. Mrs. Clyde Thomas had charge of the devotionals which included the Scripture lesson, a poem, "Home," and prayer.

Mrs. Glenn Anderson was program chairman. Readings were: "Mother's Influence," Mrs. Howard Martin; "While Yet There Is Time," Mrs. Lloyd Drummond; "Success," Mrs. Harley Hiser; and "Should There Be a Constitutional Convention?" and "Don't Forget to Live," Mrs. Anderson. Piano solos included: "Spring Song," Ann Timmons; "Faith of Our Fathers," Virginia Martin; and "Bells of St. Mary's," Elizabeth Taylor.

It was announced the next meeting will be June 18 at the home of Mrs. C. A. Bowdle, New Holland. Mrs. Howard Martin and Mrs. Earl Speakman will be the assisting hostesses. Mrs. Thomas Taylor will

Grange Conducts Memorial Program

A memorial program and contests were held during the recent meeting of the Washington Grange, for the 25 members and juveniles present.

Miss Miriam Weaver, juvenile have charge of the devotions and Miss Ollie Ater will be program leader.

During the social hour, refreshments were served.

matron, was in charge of the memorial service. Assisting were Sara Kay Best, Lydia DeLong, Betty Lou Leist, Carol Leist, Jerry Leist, and Weta Mae Leist.

Contests were conducted by the lecturer, Mrs. Maurice Harper and lunch was served by Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Blue and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Best.

The next meeting will be June 13, in charge of the home economics committee and will consist of sewing and nutrition contests and a health program.

Holly...by

The modern simplicity of Fostoria's Holly pattern lends a lustrous richness to your entertaining... or to top your list of thoughtful gifts. Holly, handmade by American craftsmen, is available in complete stemware service, plus many other lovely and useful pieces. Come in, see our open-stock collection today. You'll find Fostoria patterns to delight every taste... every budget.

Holly Stemware — $2.25 each

L.M. BUTCH CO.

The SALE you've been asking for FOR ONE WEEK ONLY!

MISS SWANK BARBIZON ARTEMIS MOJUD

SLIPS
3 for $5.97
or $2.19 ea.

Reduced From
$3.00 and $4.00

Exceptional values! Nationally advertised — this money-saving bonanza is yours for one week only. Pretty and practical... Miss Swank's exclusive Straight-plus-Bias design (straight side panels to prevent riding, twisting, plus bias front and back for flexibility) assures perfect fit! Give them to June brides, graduates—and to yourself. But hurry... quantities won't last long at this SALE price!

Sharff's

CINCINNATI'S LEADING STORE FOR MISSES AND WOMEN

Murphy's Shir-Tier Curtains
give you lovely Decorator Effects
at Low Cost

$1.79 each

Lovely Rayon in pastels and eggshell! They're pre-shirred, ready-to-hang... mix 'em... match 'em... dress your windows in original exciting ways. Shir-tier curtains have double stitched side hems, will not wrinkle or pucker. Pre-shirred rod hems for permanent extra-full, evenly spaced folds. Each curtain measures 36 inches wide and 36 inches long... can be fitted to any size or shape window.

G.C. Murphy Co.

CINCINNATI'S FRIENDLY STORE

It Is Time Of Year For Tornadoes

Weather Bureau Official Gives Tips On Deadly Storms

COLUMBUS, May 26—(AP)—Tornado time is here.

Tornado "weather," says the federal weather bureau here, is "hot, sticky days with southerly winds and a threatening, ominous sky." But, it adds, many such days occur without tornadoes.

Meteorologist Ted Pierce issued what he terms "tornado safety rules" and "tornado information." Since the season is approaching, he said, it seems desirable that people be informed about the nature of the tornadoes and what people can do to protect themselves.

Here are some of the highlights of Pierce's bulletin:

Where tornadoes can occur: Any place in the United States at any time of the year. They happen most frequently in the Midwestern, Southern and Central states from March through September.

Tornado frequency: Records show the average number of days with tornadoes varies from seven per year (Kansas) to one in 70 years (Nevada). National average is 142 tornadoes a year.

HOW to recognize a tornado: Usually observed as a funnel-shaped cloud, spinning rapidly, and extending toward the earth from the base of a thundercloud. When close by, it sounds like the roar of hundreds of airplanes.

Time of day: Mostly between 3 p. m. and 6 p. m., but they have occurred at all hours.

Direction of travel: In most cases they move from southwest to northeast. Length of path: Usually 10 to 40 miles. Speed of travel: 25 to 40 miles per hour average; wind speed as high as 500 miles per hour.

What you can do to protect yourself:

If time permits, go to a cellar, cave or underground excavation. If in open country, move at right angles to the tornado's path. An automobile can often outrun a tornado.

If there is no time to escape, lie flat in the nearest depression of the road, field or street.

If in a city or town, seek inside shelter, preferably in a structural steel building. Do not approach windows. In homes, the southwest basement corner of a frame house offers greater safety than in a brick or stone house. Standing against the inside wall of a lower floor of an office building offers some protection.

Finally, says the bulletin, do not become excited. Pierce says people have been killed by running out into streets and by turning back into the path of a tornado.

County Farmers Warned Against Animal Killers

Discarded storage batteries may be useless for starting motors, but they can still pack a lethal punch when it comes to killing livestock. Pickaway County farmers are warned.

Batteries left lying around barnyards, feedlots, or pastures can be a deadly source of lead poisoning to farm animals, experts say.

Lead poisoning can occur when an animal licks old batteries, eats orchard grass that has been treated with lead arsenate, or licks paints, ointments, or salves which contain lead.

Authorities also recommended that farmers check against five additional livestock poisoning hazards:

(1) Mercury poisoning from eating seed grain that has been treated with mercury.

(2) Rat poisons, including warfarin, if sufficient amounts are consumed over a long period of time.

(3) Chemical weed killers which may contain substances poisonous to stock.

(4) Grasshopper poisons, such as arsenic-treated bran.

(5) Highway surfacing oil which rains may wash into pastures.

Farmers who suspect a case of livestock poisoning are urged to get a veterinarian on the job as promptly as possible, as time is an important factor in saving the animal's life.

ROLLING OVER A PAVED ROAD, heavy tanks rumble by prisoner of war compounds on strife-torn Koje Island, Korea. The tanks will be used if necessary in the forthcoming showdown with Communist prisoners in control of the compounds. Meanwhile, British Commonwealth troops were ordered to the island to bolster the forces of Brig. Gen. Haydon Boatner, new commander of the camp. (International)

Pound Foolish

Copyright 1950 by Robert Molloy. Distributed by King Features Syndicate.

(Continued from Page Six)

CHAPTER FIFTY-TWO
"AND NOW I want to talk to my little Miss Leonie," Mr. McDewitt told Henri. "I thought she would probably be married by the time I came to Charleston."

There was a brief moment of silence. Henri looked at the McDewitt girls, and it was obvious that Leonie had said nothing of her plans to them.

"Leonie's uncertain about her future in that respect," said Heloise, with what appeared to Henri as consummate tact.

"Too many candidates, eh?" Mr. McDewitt inquired.

"In a way," Henri answered.

"I notice Miss Leonie is very still and mum about all this," said Mr. McDewitt. "Come, young lady, tell us your answer on the subject. Don't let your uncle and aunt do all the talking for you."

Leonie blushed prettily and said that her aunt and uncle had described the situation very neatly.

"Mah goodness," said Mr. McDewitt. "If these Charleston gals are slow, Miss Leonie, you come to Virginia with us and we'll find some eligible young men that aren't so bashful."

After coffee, everyone repaired to the parlor, which nearly burst with a group of such size, and Mr. McDewitt asked permission to smoke, and brought out a pocket case of magnificent cigars before Henri had a chance, as a gracious host, to offer the ones he had. Then the two men sat and discussed male affairs while the women chattered.

Next morning the walk to the office appeared long to Henri LeMay. He felt tired and depressed, and there was a sound in his ears like the faint roaring you heard in a conch shell. Deafness coming on, he thought gloomily, and there would be the end of his singing.

Mr. Peterson was gracious about his lateness, and Henri went upstairs to the little room and set promptly to work.

"Have a nice time?" Mrs. Emmons inquired.

"Very pleasant," Henri said. "Everybody is talking about those friends of yours," said Mrs. Emmons. "The way they buy things in Kerrison's and Cart's and Allan's. They must be rolling in money."

Henri grunted as usual.

"Nobody seems to know just what that Mr. McDewitt is up to," Mrs. Emmons continued. "Some people say he's going to build a factory to make things out of asbestos and some people think he's going to buy up some of the fertilizer companies. They say he's met everybody and that he's going to speak before the Chamber of Commerce. Colonel Calvert," she added with a giggle, "says he thinks the man is an adventurer."

"Colonel Calvert had better be careful what he says about people," Henri replied angrily. He felt that the McDewitts were in part his guests, and he saw this remark as another jibe at himself.

"Well, you know what he is. I should think, though, that the Colonel had enough worries of his own. That pretty nephew of his is carrying on, they say."

She glanced sideways at Henri, who did not move a muscle of his face, and added: "They say he's brooding."

"Mrs. Emmons," Henri said, with a sharpness unusual for him away from home, "the doings of the Calvert family are not of the slightest interest to me."

Mrs. Emmons took the snub good-naturedly but she stopped chattering.

Henri worked on mechanically, staying on to make up for time lost that morning. He found Heloise looking thoughtful when he reached home.

"Where's Leonie?" he inquired as usual.

"She's up in her room. Her nose is out of joint again."

"What about?"

"She says she hasn't got the clothes to go around with those McDewitt girls. And she's quarreled with the Garrisons because they went somewhere with the McDewitts without asking her."

"Too bad, too bad," Henri said wearily.

"What's the matter, Brother? Don't you feel well?"

"Perfectly all right," Henri insisted. But he felt wretched.

He lay awake thinking about Leonie, and feeling annoyed at her and sorry for her by turns. She would have to realize that he couldn't give her that trip to New York and fancy clothes to wear around Charleston, too. And much as he disapproved of her declared vocation, he felt that it was very inconsistent of her, when she meant to renounce the world, to suik over such vanities as clothes.

He continued to feel poorly. On Saturday evening, he stayed only briefly at Antoinette's and listened to her mild complaints about what a difference paying guests made in one's life. He went to bed early and still could not sleep. On Sunday morning he went to mass at St. Mary's, for he did not want to hear the cathedral choir in its crippled state or to meet Cousin Julie. He found himself dreading the afternoon promenade and he kept hoping that it would rain.

But the afternoon was mild and clear, and with Leonie and Heloise he started out for Miss Antoinette's house where they were to meet the McDewitts. The visitors had just returned from dinner at one of the hotels and had not been greatly impressed by it.

"I love Miss Antoinette," said Mrs. McDewitt, "but I sort of wish we had made up our minds to stay at the Villa Margherita. It's really very inconvenient, going out for meals three times a day. I hope you won't mind my saying that it looks as if all the great cookery of Charleston goes on in private homes."

Henri had to acknowledge that this was true, and that the days, for instance, of Eliza Lee's on Broad street were no more.

"A business man told me," said Mr. McDewitt, "that the drummers always plan their trips to Charleston so they can get out by the train that same afternoon and not be left in the city overnight."

"Well, Dad, you know what drummers are," Ursula said, and Estella giggled.

"Charleston does not offer a great deal in the way of gaiety," Henri said. "In earlier years we used to have traveling companies and a concert now and then. But now there are only moving picture houses and the vaudeville theater. I never go to it but I don't believe even the vaudeville is first class."

"I've been to it," Estella said.

"It's awful."

"Perhaps," said Mrs. McDewitt smoothly, "when the Canal begins to increase the shipping, the city will have more of the things it used to have."

"Of course," Henri said, trying to bring the conversation around to the places he was going to show, "I don't need to tell you anything about the Fielding house. I'm sure Miss Fielding has told you all about the many distinguished personages that have visited there."

"Uncle," Leonie said, "you sound just like a guide."

"That's what I'm trying to be," Henri said, frowning.

(To Be Continued)

Copyright, 1950, by Robert Molloy. Distributed by King Features Syndicate.

World Today

By James Marlow
Associated Press
News Analyst

WASHINGTON, May 26—(AP)—What is happening in Germany Monday—U. S., Britain and France signing a peace treaty with Germany—is the latest scene in a great modern drama.

This treaty is part of a desire of the West to build such strength that the Soviet commissars would be forced into peace by fear of what faces them if they try war.

In the Eastern zone of Germany, occupied by Russia, about 18 million Germans live under the Communist thumb. The three Western zones—occupied by the U. S., Britain, and France—have 50 million Germans. And that Western area of Germany is the greatest industrial center in Europe.

When it became clear Russia wouldn't let divided Germany reunite except under Russian terms, the West let the Germans in their zones form the Western German Republic.

IT IS WITH that republic—not Russian-dominated Eastern Germany—that the peace treaty is to be signed Monday. It is not a complete treaty. The West didn't agree to relinquish all control.

For instance, it reserved the right to intervene if the Western German Republic was threatened with overthrow by internal revolt. In other words if the Communists tried revolution, the West could step in.

But the peace treaty itself is only preliminary to another scene which will be acted out tomorrow: letting Germany rearm and put troops in an international army.

When Russia had become too menacing, the West made the North Atlantic Pact, a military alliance among the nations ringing the ocean. But this alliance without arms was not much of an alliance.

And such an alliance without Germany, with its great resources and manpower, particularly if Germany were left loose to tie up with Russia someday, might be worse than no alliance at all.

So it was decided to take two steps almost simultaneously: 1. Sign a peace treaty and 2. Let Germany rearm a bit and get into the Western military alliance.

A FIVE-MONTHS-OLD DACHSHUND, "Sand," who is built pretty close to the ground, pauses during a stroll through Washington Square, New York City, to look at two exhibits in the outdoor art show. If the altitude of his nose is any indication, you can gather what he thinks of the painting of the kitten by one of the exhibitors. (International)

Six nations on the continent are to supply troops for the international army to this extent: France, 14 divisions; Germany and Italy, 12 each; and five for Holland, Belgium, and Luxembourg. Total: 43 divisions.

AGREEMENT on the treaty and the troops is being made only by the foreign ministers of the various countries involved. None of it is complete until the parliaments of those countries approve.

There may be a bitter struggle over this, particularly in France which distrusts German troops of any kind, and in Germany, where neutralists, pacifists and ultra-na-

Cozy Comfort!

Get the special kind of warmth you seek for those you love. WILLIAMSON Gas, Oil or Coal Fired Furnaces circulate clean, comfort-giving heat to every room in the house. WILLIAMSON heating system is also kind to your pocketbook. Choose a WILLIAMSON, there's one for your home.

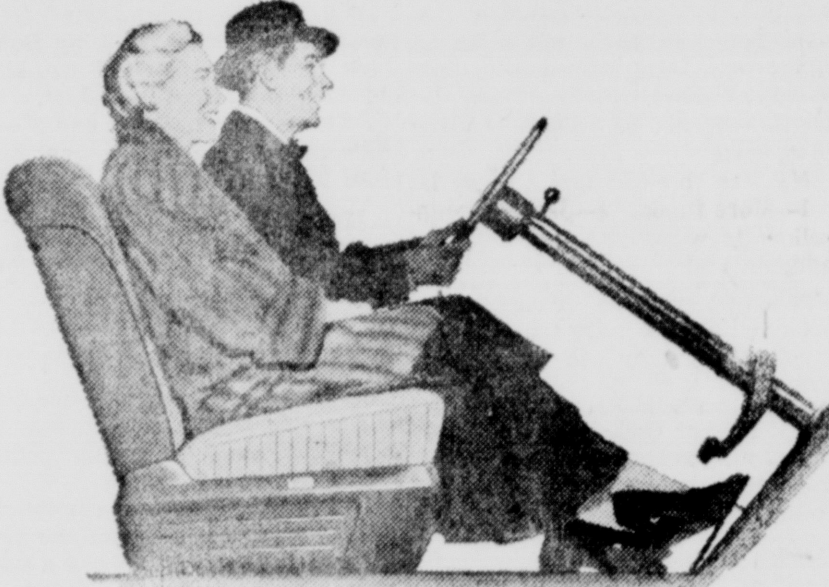

WILLIAMSON

WARM AIR FURNACES

COMPLETE LINE Oil, Coal, Gas or LP Gas Furnaces
Phone TODAY for a FREE inspection.

MICHEL'S HEATING

325 W. Main St. Phone 237

America's Lowest-priced quality car!

The '52 Ford gives you many fine-car features at no extra cost!

Forget Ford's low price tag and look at its many fine-car features like the beautiful modern design bodies with curved one-piece windshield and car-wide rear window... advances like the new high-compression "go" in both the Six and V-8 engines. Or examine its wide choice of body, color and upholstery combinations... its choice of Fordomatic, Overdrive or Conventional. You'll discover Ford has left all other low-priced cars far behind!

Two High-Compression Engines!

Ford's 110-h.p. Strato-Star V-8 and 101-h.p. Mileage Maker Six offer new high compression—the liveliest "go" in the low-price field. And both give you the gas-saving GO of Ford's Automatic Power Pilot.

That ride control is really something!

Ford's Automatic Ride Control with wider front track, lower center of gravity, diagonally mounted rear shock absorbers and tailored-to-model front springs keeps you level automatically on bumps and curves, gives you a smooth big-car ride!

White sidewall tires (if available), two-tone colors (illustrated), Fordomatic and Overdrive optional at extra cost. Equipment, accessories and trim subject to change without notice.

'Test Drive' the '52 Ford at your Ford Dealer's

YOU CAN PAY MORE BUT YOU CAN'T BUY BETTER!

JOE WILSON, Inc.

596 N. COURT ST.

PHONE 686-676

Air Reserve Policy Altered, Training Set

WILMINGTON, May 26—An Air Force policy which formerly transferred volunteer Air Reserve officers to the inactive Air Reserve for failure to meet participation requirements has been indefinitely suspended.

Lt. Col. Verdier E. Moore, commanding officer, 2252D Air Force Reserve Training Center at the Clinton County Air Force Base here reported that prior to this suspension, reservists who failed to maintain training proficiency by earning an average of 15 points a year between period of July 1, 1949, and June 30, 1952, would have been transferred to the inactive Air Reserve, which would have jeopardized their retirement and promotion benefits.

This suspension permits volunteer Air Reserve officers to participate in the training program for Air Force reserve officers not in active military service. Furthermore, it will also provide interested, eligible volunteer Air Reserve officers the opportunity for reappointment in the Air Force Reserve, Moore said.

The 910th Reserve Training Wing, which makes its home at the Clinton County Air Force Base, will hold its two-week summer training period from June 14 until June 29, Moore said.

This will feature on-the-job training in such subjects as military administration, supply procedures, communications, photography and numerous other subjects. This two-week tour of active duty with the Air Force is conducted yearly, during which time Air Reservists receive full pay and allowances.

Ex-servicemen of all branches now over 55, men who are in the age bracket of 27 to 35, or young women who have passed their 18th birthday at the time of enlistment, may apply for membership

ANNUAL MEETING

PICKAWAY COUNTY CHAPTER

AMERICAN RED CROSS

TUESDAY, MAY 27 - 8 P. M.

At The

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH

PUBLIC INVITED

Election of Officers and Annual Reports

FOR QUALITY
MEATS - GROCERIES
FRUITS and VEGETABLES

Shop At

NORTH END MKT.

506 N. COURT ST.

PHONE 268

It Is Time Of Year For Tornadoes

Weather Bureau Official Gives Tips On Deadly Storms

COLUMBUS, May 26—(AP)—Tornado time is here.

Tornado "weather," says the federal weather bureau here, is "hot, sticky days with southerly winds and a threatening, ominous sky." But, it adds, many such days occur without tornadoes.

Meteorologist Ted Pierce issued what he terms "tornado safety rules" and "tornado information." Since the season is approaching, he said, it seems desirable that people be informed about the nature of the tornadoes and what people can do to protect themselves.

Here are some of the highlights of Pierce's bulletin:

Where tornadoes can occur: Any place in the United States at any time of the year. They happen most frequently in the Midwestern, Southern and Central states from March through September.

Tornado frequency: Records show the average number of days with tornadoes varies from seven per year (Kansas) to one in 70 years (Nevada). National average is 142 tornadoes a year.

HOW TO recognize a tornado: Usually observed as a funnel-shaped cloud, spinning rapidly, and extending toward the earth from the base of a thundercloud. When close by, it sounds like the roar of hundreds of airplanes.

Time of day: Mostly between 3 p. m. and 6 p. m., but they have occurred at all hours.

Direction of travel: In most cases they move from southwest to northeast. Length of path: Usually 10 to 40 miles. Speed of travel: 25 to 40 miles per hour average; wind speed as high as 500 miles per hour.

What you can do to protect yourself:

If time permits, go to a cellar, cave or underground excavation. If in open country, move at right angles to the tornado's path. An automobile can often outrun a tornado.

If there is no time to escape, lie flat in the nearest depression of the road, field or street.

If in a city or town, seek inside shelter, preferably in a structural steel building. Do not approach windows. In homes, the southwest basement corner of a frame house offers greater safety than in a brick or stone house. Standing against the inside wall of a lower floor of an office building offers some protection.

Finally, says the bulletin, do not become excited. Pierce says people have been killed by running out into streets and by turning back into the path of a tornado.

County Farmers Warned Against Animal Killers

Discarded storage batteries may be useless for starting motors, but they can still pack a lethal punch when it comes to killing livestock, Pickaway County farmers are warned.

Batteries left lying around barnyards, feedlots, or pastures can be a deadly source of lead poisoning to farm animals, experts say.

Lead poisoning can occur when an animal licks old batteries, eats orchard grass that has been treated with lead arsenate, or licks paints, ointments, or salves which contain lead.

Authorities also recommended that farmers check against five additional livestock poisoning hazards:

(1) Mercury poisoning from eating seed grain that has been treated with mercury.

(2) Rat poisons, including warfarin, if sufficient amounts are consumed over a long period of time.

(3) Chemical weed killers which may contain substances poisonous to stock.

(4) Grasshopper poisons, such as arsenic-treated bran.

(5) Highway surfacing oil which rains may wash into pastures.

Farmers who suspect a case of livestock poisoning are urged to get a veterinarian on the job as promptly as possible, as time is an important factor in saving the animal's life.

ROLLING OVER A PAVED ROAD, heavy tanks rumble by prisoner of war compounds on strife-torn Koje Island, Korea. The tanks will be used if necessary in the forthcoming showdown with Communist prisoners in control of the compounds. Meanwhile, British Commonwealth troops were ordered to the island to bolster the forces of Brig. Gen. Haydon Boatner, new commander of the camp. (International)

Pound Foolish

Copyright 1950 by Robert Molloy. Distributed by King Features Syndicate.

(Continued from Page Six)

CHAPTER FIFTY-TWO

"AND NOW I want to talk to my little Miss Leonie," Mr. McDewitt told Henri. "I thought she would probably be married by the time I came to Charleston."

There was a brief moment of silence. Henri looked at the McDewitt girl, and it was obvious that Leonie had said nothing of her plans to them.

"Leonie's uncertain about her future in that respect," said Heloise, with what appeared to Henri as consummate tact.

"Too many candidates, eh?" Mr. McDewitt inquired.

"In a way," Henri answered.

"I notice Miss Leonie is very still and mum about all this," said Mr. McDewitt. "Come, young lady, tell us your answer on the subject. Don't let your uncle and aunt do all the talking for you."

Leonie blushed prettily and said that her aunt and uncle had described the situation very neatly.

"Mah goodness," said Mr. McDewitt. "If these Charleston gals are slow, Miss Leonie, you come to Virginia with us and we'll find some eligible young men that aren't so bashful."

After coffee, everyone repaired to the parlor, which nearly burst with a group of such size, and Mr. McDewitt asked permission to smoke, and brought out a pocket case of magnificent cigars before Henri had a chance, as a gracious host, to offer the ones he had. Then the two men sat and discussed male affairs while the women chattered.

Next morning the walk to the office appeared long to Henri LeMay. He felt tired and dispirited, and there was a sound in his ears like the faint roaring you heard in a conch shell. Deafness coming on, he thought gloomily, and there would be the end of his singing.

Mr. Peterson was gracious about his lateness, and Henri went upstairs to the little room and set promptly to work.

"Have a nice time?" Mrs. Emmons inquired.

"Very pleasant," Henri said.

"Everybody is talking about those friends of yours," said Mrs. Emmons. "The way they buy things in Kerrison's and Cart's and Allan's. They must be rolling in money."

Henri grunted as usual.

"Nobody seems to know just what that Mr. McDewitt is up to," Mrs. Emmons continued. "Some" people say he's going to build a factory to make things out of asbestos and some people think he's going to buy up some of the fertilizer companies. They say he's met everybody and that he's going to speak before the Chamber of Commerce. Colonel Calvert," she added with a giggle, "says he thinks the man is an adventurer."

"Colonel Calvert had better be careful what he says about people," Henri replied angrily. He felt that the McDewitts were in part his guests, and he saw this remark as another jibe at himself.

"Well, you know what he is. I should think, though, that the Colonel had enough worries of his own. That pretty nephew of his is carrying on, they say."

She glanced sideways at Henri, who did not move a muscle of his face, and added: "They say he's brooding."

"Mrs. Emmons," Henri said, with a sharpness unusual for him away from home, "the doings of the Calvert family are none of the slightest interest to me."

Mrs. Emmons took the snub good-naturedly but she stopped chattering.

Henri worked on mechanically, staying on to make up for time lost that morning. He found Heloise looking thoughtful when he reached home.

"Where's Leonie?" he inquired as usual.

"She's up in her room. Her nose is out of joint again."

"What about?"

"She says she hasn't got the clothes to go around with those McDewitt girls. And she's quarreled with the Garrisons because they went somewhere with the McDewitts without asking her."

"Too bad, too bad," Henri said wearily.

"What's the matter, Brother? Don't you feel well?"

"Perfectly all right," Henri insisted. But he felt wretched.

He lay awake thinking about Leonie, and feeling annoyed at her and sorry for her by turns. She would have to realize that he couldn't give her that trip to New York and fancy clothes to wear around Charleston, too. And much as he disapproved of her declared vocation, he felt that it was very inconsistent of her, when she meant to renounce the world, to sulk over such vanities as clothes.

He continued to feel poorly. On Saturday evening, he stayed only briefly at Antoinette's and listened to her mild complaints about what a difference paying guests made in one's life. He went to bed early and still could not sleep. On Sunday morning he went to mass at St. Mary's, for he did not want to meet the cathedral choir in its crippled state or to meet Cousin Julie. He found himself dreading the afternoon promenade and he kept hoping that it would rain.

But the afternoon was mild and clear, and with Leonie and Heloise he started out for Miss Antoinette's house where they were to meet the McDewitts. The visitors had just returned from dinner at one of the hotels and had not been greatly impressed by it.

"I love Miss Antoinette," said Mrs. McDewitt, "but I sort of wish we had made up our minds to stay at the Villa Margherita. It's really very inconvenient, going out for meals three times a day. I hope you won't mind my saying that it looks as if all the great cookery of Charleston goes on in private homes."

Henri had to acknowledge that this was true, and that the days, for instance, of Eliza Lee's on Broad street were no more.

"A business man told me," said Mr. McDewitt, "that the drummers always plan their trips to Charleston so they can get out by the train that same afternoon and not be left in the city overnight."

"Well, Dad, you know what drummers are," Ursula said, and Estella giggled.

"Charleston does not offer a great deal in the way of gaiety," Henri said. "In earlier years we used to have traveling companies and a concert now and then. But now there are only moving picture houses and the vaudeville theater. I never go to it but I don't believe even the vaudeville is first class."

"I've been to it," Estella said. "It's awful."

"Perhaps," said Mrs. McDewitt smoothly, "when the Canal begins to increase the shipping, the city will have more of the things it used to have."

"Of course," Henri said, trying to bring the conversation around to the places he was going to show, "I don't need to tell you anything about the Fielding house. I'm sure Miss Fielding has told you all about the many distinguished personages that have visited there."

"Uncle," Leonie said, "you sound just like a guide."

"That's what I'm trying to be," Henri said, frowning.

(To Be Continued)

Copyright, 1950, by Robert Molloy. Distributed by King Features Syndicate.

Air Reserve Policy Altered, Training Set

WILMINGTON, May 26—An Air Force policy which formerly transferred volunteer Air Reserve officers to the inactive Air Reserve for failure to meet participation requirements has been indefinitely suspended.

Lt. Col. Verdier E. Moore, commanding officer, 2252D Air Force Reserve Training Center at the Clinton County Air Force Base here reported that prior to this suspension, reservists who failed to maintain training proficiency by earning an average of 15 points a year between period of July 1, 1949, and June 30, 1952, would have been transferred to the inactive Air Reserve, which would have jeopardized their retirement and promotion benefits.

This suspension permits volunteer Air Reserve officers to participate in the training program for Air Force reserve officers not in active military service. Furthermore, it will also provide interested, eligible volunteer Air Reserve officers the opportunity for reappointment in the Air Force Reserve, Moore said.

The 910th Reserve Training Wing, which makes its home at the Clinton County Air Force Base, will hold its two-week summer training period from June 14 until June 29, Moore said.

This will feature on-the-job training in such subjects as military administration, supply procedures, communications, photography and numerous other subjects. This two-week tour of active duty with the Air Force is conducted yearly, during which time Air Reservists receive full pay and allowances.

Ex-servicemen of all branches not over 55, men who are in the age bracket of 27 to 35, or young women who have passed their 18th birthday at the time of enlistment, may apply for membership

ANNUAL MEETING

PICKAWAY COUNTY CHAPTER

AMERICAN RED CROSS

TUESDAY, MAY 27 - 8 P. M.

At The

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH

PUBLIC INVITED

Election of Officers and Annual Reports

World Today

By James Marlow
Associated Press
News Analyst

WASHINGTON, May 26—(AP)—What is happening in Germany Monday—U. S., Britain and France signing a peace treaty with Germany—is the latest scene in a great modern drama.

This treaty is part of a desire of the West to build such strength that the Soviet commissars would be forced into peace by fear of what faces them if they try war.

In the Eastern zone of Germany, occupied by Russia, about 18 million Germans live under the Communist thumb. The three Western zones—occupied by the U. S., Britain, and France—have 50 million Germans. And that Western area of Germany is the greatest industrial center in Europe.

When it became clear Russia wouldn't let divided Germany reunite except under Russian terms, the West let the Germans in their zones form the Western German Republic.

IT IS WITH that republic—not Russian-dominated Eastern Germany—that the peace treaty is to be signed Monday. It is not a complete treaty. The West didn't agree to relinquish all control.

For instance, it reserved the right to intervene if the Western German Republic was threatened with overthrow by internal revolt. In other words if the Communists tried revolution, the West could step in.

But the peace treaty itself is only preliminary to another scene which will be acted out tomorrow: letting Germany rearm and put troops in an international army.

When Russia had become too menacing, the West made the North Atlantic Pact, a military alliance among the nations ringing the ocean. But this alliance without arms was not much of an alliance.

And such an alliance without Germany, with its great resources and manpower, particularly if Germany were left loose to tie up with Russia someday, might be worse than no alliance at all.

So it was decided to take two steps almost simultaneously: 1. Sign a peace treaty and 2. Let Germany rearm a bit and get into the Western military alliance.

A FIVE-MONTHS-OLD DACHSHUND, "Sand," who is built pretty close to the ground, pauses during a stroll through Washington Square, New York City, to look at two exhibits in the outdoor art show. If the attitude of his nose is any indication, you can gather what he thinks of the painting of the kitten by one of the exhibitors. (International)

Six nations on the continent are to supply troops for the international army to this extent: France, 14 divisions; Germany and Italy, 12 each; and five for Holland, Belgium, and Luxembourg. Total: 43 divisions.

AGREEMENT on the treaty and

the troops is being made only by the foreign ministers of the various countries involved. None of it is complete until the parliaments of those countries approve.

There may be a bitter struggle over this, particularly in France which distrusts German troops of any kind, and in Germany, where neutralists, pacifists and ultra-na-

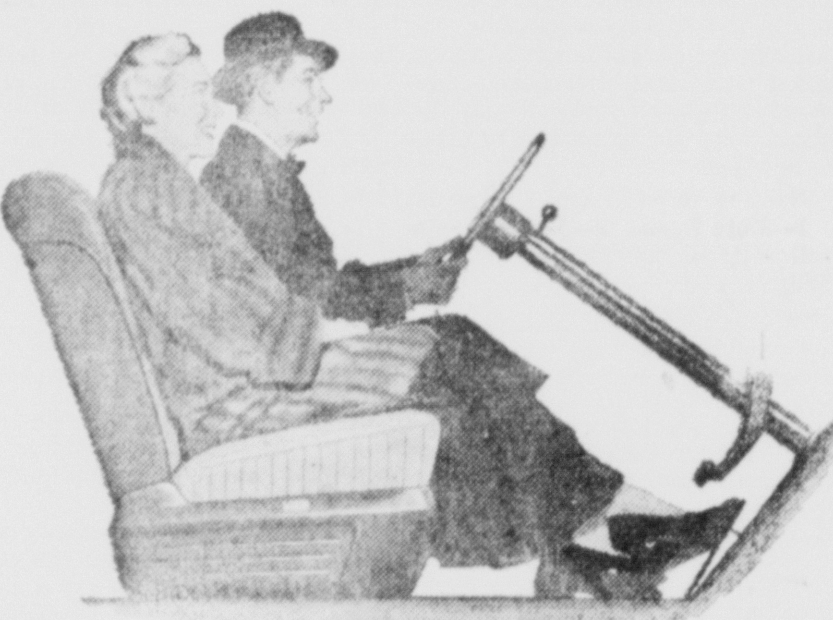

Cozy Comfort!

Get the special kind of warmth you seek for those you love. WILLIAMSON Gas, Oil or Coal Fired Furnaces circulate clean, comfort-giving heat to every room in the house. WILLIAMSON heating system is also kind to your pocketbook. Choose a WILLIAMSON, there's one for your home.

WILLIAMSON
WARM AIR FURNACES

COMPLETE LINE OIL, Coal, Gas or LP Gas Furnaces
Phone TODAY for a FREE Inspection.

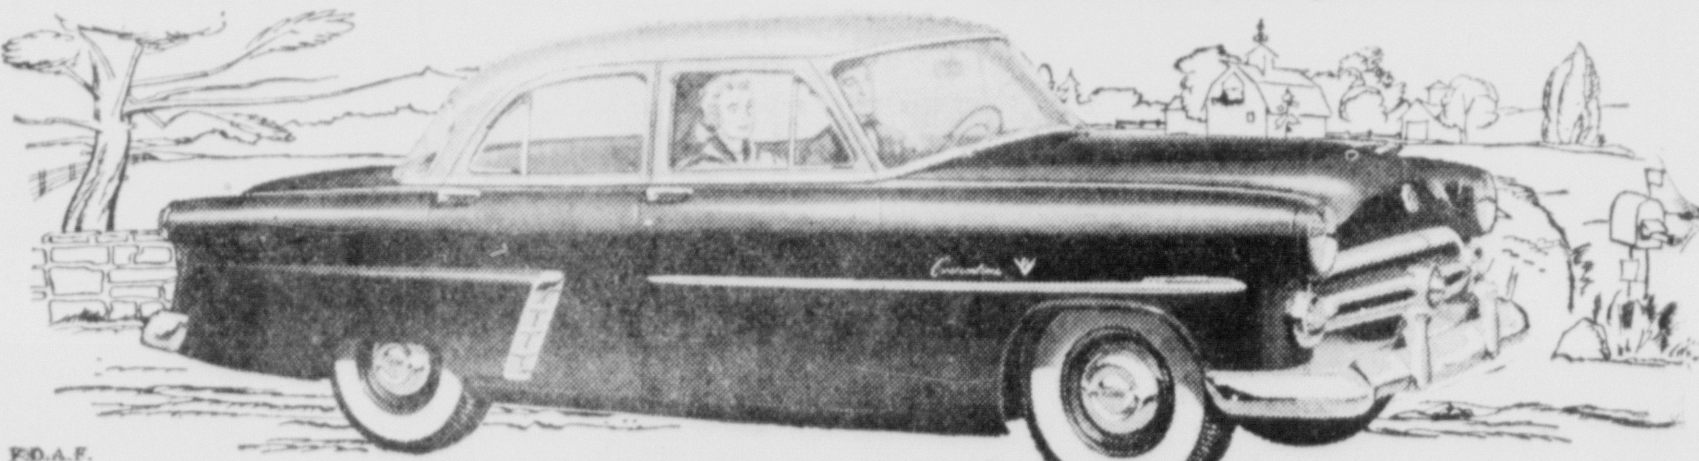

MICHEL'S HEATING
325 W. Main St. Phone 237

America's Lowest-priced quality car!

The '52 Ford gives you many fine-car features at no extra cost!

Forget Ford's low price tag and look at its many fine-car features like the beautiful modern design bodies with curved one-piece windshield and car-wide rear window... advances like the new high-compression "go" in both the Six and V-8 engines. Or examine its wide choice of body, color and upholstery combinations... its choice of Fordomatic, Overdrive or Conventional. You'll discover Ford has left all other low-priced cars far behind!

That ride control is really something!

Ford's Automatic Ride Control with wider front track, lower center of gravity, diagonally mounted rear shock absorbers and tailored-to-model front springs keeps you level automatically on bumps and curves, gives you a smooth big-car ride!

While standard tires are available, two-tone colors (blue-tinted) Fordomatic and Overdrive optional at extra cost. Equipment, accessories and trim subject to change without notice.

"Test Drive" the '52 Ford at your Ford Dealer's

YOU CAN PAY MORE BUT YOU CAN'T BUY BETTER!

JOE WILSON, Inc.

596 N. COURT ST.

PHONE 686-676

FOR QUALITY MEATS - GROCERIES FRUITS and VEGETABLES

Shop At

NORTH END MKT.

506 N. COURT ST.

PHONE 268

Former Drug Addict Aids Others By Forming Narcotics Anonymous

NEW YORK—Narcotics Anonymous was organized in February, 1950, when a slight, gray-haired man dedicated his life to the battle against narcotic addiction.

That momentous decision two years ago marked the end of a 25-year siege of addiction which began when he was 16 years of age.

This crusader, Danny Carlsen, born in Puerto Rico but now a resident of New York, affected his recovery through "will power and a rebirth of spiritual faith." Through this prescription he has restored other addicts to a more normal life.

Little was known about Carlsen until the recovery of many confirmed addicts was brought to the attention of a few influential men and women who were deeply concerned about the narcotics problem.

From this handful of interested

men and women, a board of 12 directors was formed, with Carlsen as executive director. Narcotics Anonymous was incorporated in New York, March 19, 1951, "to restore addicts to normal and give them new faith."

CARLSEN, their teacher, has the rare gift of projecting his own confidence and faith into those who come for help. He searches for the underlying cause which led them to addiction and tries to eliminate it through reason and understanding. His sincerity and personal triumph over addiction is a backlog of strength in working with beginners. NA teaches repentant narcotic victims not only to help themselves but to seek out and help others as well. When Carlsen feels that one of his disciples is improving, he brings him into the group therapy plan as a group leader. Each of these victims begins to feel himself a contributor by passing along to other addicts the advice and faith that helped him.

Carlsen is a strong believer in prayer. He teaches that prayer and meditation are strong channels of spiritual vitality and that faith is essential to spiritual regeneration.

With the help of many who have been "through the mill," each new candidate for a new life is slowly guided along the tortuous path to salvation.

Many of the NA cases are referred by the New York City department of hospitals and by the probation officers of the various New York City courts.

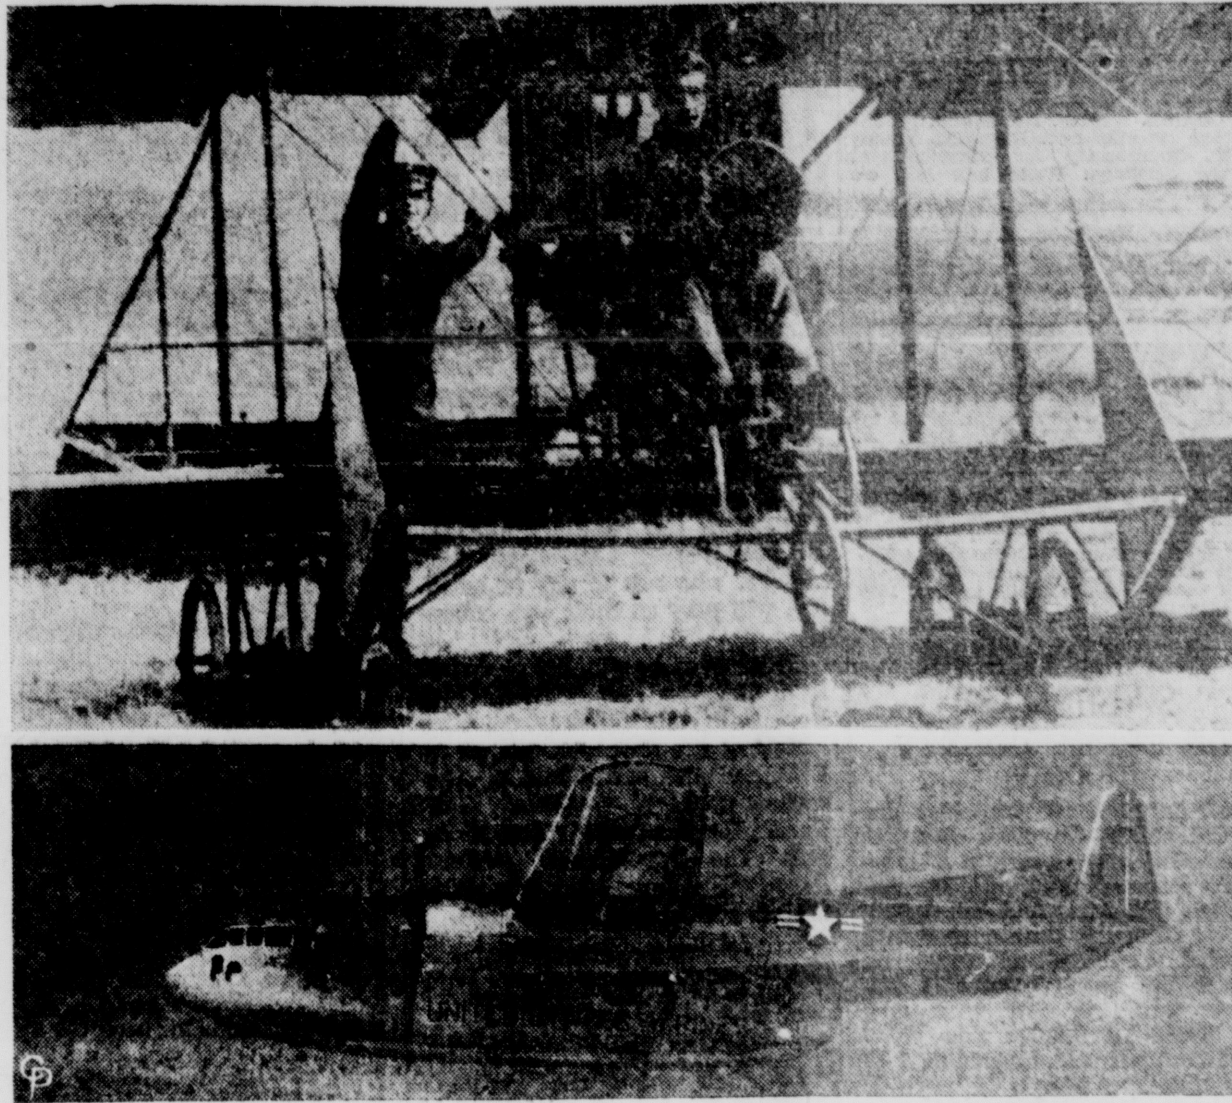

Carlsen handles most of the adult victims on an individual basis. He works with teen-age victims through group meetings held three times each week. The meetings are informal and a spirit of camaraderie prevails.

Through Carlsen's influence, many narcotics victims are sent to the United States Public Health Service hospital at Lexington, Ky., for treatment. Special attention is given to both adult and youthful victims upon release from institutional care.

In the teen-age group, NA has a record of approximately 50 per cent recovery of addicts that stick with the treatment.

The NA directorate, with the exception of Carlsen, is composed of non-addicts. None of them, including Danny, receive salaries. To date, NA has been operating on funds from small donations. Unless it obtains more sponsors the organization will not be able to continue to operate.

NA has three immediate needs: 1—More funds. 2—Skilled counselors to work with the advanced addicts and with the parents of young victims. 3—A headquarters for meetings and for "around-the-clock" contact service. The present headquarters of Narcotics Anonymous is a postoffice box in Village Station, New York.

Forty years of progress in Marine Corps aircraft is illustrated in the photos above. At top is Lt. Alfred Cunningham's plane, the "Noisy Nan," which represented the modest beginnings of the Leathernecks' air wing. At bottom is the Fairchild R4Q, already battle-proven in Korea, where it has become the U. N.'s biggest mover of personnel and supplies into forward combat areas. (International Soundphoto)

Saltcreek Valley

Among the number from here who attended the wedding of Miss Patricia Johnson and Mr. Robert M. Sproule last Sunday in the Methodist church of Circleville were Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Reichelderfer and family, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Reichelderfer, Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Bright, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Luckhart and Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Mowery.

Last Sunday the 4-H Club of Saltcreek Township presented the program in connection with Rural Life exercises at the Tarlton Lutheran church. Supt. Nelson Jones and Miss Carolyn Reichelderfer had charge of the music. The Rev. Frank Csaszar was in charge of the church services.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Luckhart attended the alumni banquet at New Holland last Saturday evening. Mrs. Luckhart was a graduate of the New Holland schools.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Fraunfelder and family and Mr. Herbert Vincent of New Holland were the Sunday dinner guests of the Luckhart family.

Mrs. Eileen Reichelderfer was shopping in Columbus last Thursday.

From Saltcreek Valley Grange who were in attendance at Pomona Grange last Saturday were: Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Shride, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Stump, Mr. and Mrs. Jas.

L. Reichelderfer, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Fricke, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Mowery, Mrs. H. E. Balthaser, Mrs. Ida Strous, Mrs. Virginia Luckhart, Mrs. Clarence Maxson, daughter, Wanda, E. F. Strous and Homer Wright.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Jones of Tarlton, a ten and one-fourth pound son, Thursday, May 22 in the Chillicothe hospital, named Jeffrey Macklin.

Floyd Beougher and O. S. Mowery made a business trip to McArthur recently.

Saltcreek Valley Grange met on last Monday evening with Worthy Master W. E. Luckhart in charge. The Logan Elm Grange conferred the first and second degrees on a class of five candidates, Mr. and Mrs. George Maxson, and daughter, Mary, Mr. and Mrs. Dow West. Refreshments were served. The following are on the refreshment committee for the next month, Mr. and Mrs. Orley Judy, Joan and Gerald, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Whistler, Miss Margaret Chilcote, and Mrs. Daisy Judy at which time the 3rd and 4th degrees will be conferred on a class of candidates.

Our Saltcreek School closed last Thursday with the eighth grade commencement in the morning.

President Can Control Climate

NEW YORK—The President can order his own indoor weather in the White House.

An elaborate indoor climate control installed by Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator Co. provides automatic control through more than 100 thermostats.

Through a master control panel one technician can change the temperature in any room, regulate the five fan systems, adjust the refrigerator machinery or the hot air dampers.

SOLVE THIS PUZZLE . . . A bottle and a cork cost $1.10. The bottle costs $1.00 more than the cork. How much does the cork cost? CLUE . . . You can get a cash loan of $100 and repay it in one year at $10.07 a month. It costs you only slightly more than the cork per day . . . actually only 40 cents a week. Extra cash can solve many problems too. Just call on us for cash.

THE CITY LOAN

108 W. Main Roy Marshall, Mgr.

FREE: Stop for Booklet of Presidents and 1952 Candidates

Prayer Asked In Observing Memorial Day

WASHINGTON, May 26 — President Truman's Memorial Day statement asked the nation for a universal prayer for a permanent peace he said is nearer reality now than on last year's day of remembrance.

His statement laid special stress on the dead of Korea, who, he said, had proved aggression cannot pay.

The President said the men in Korea laid down their lives for lasting peace, and "we must not let these men down now that the goal is so nearly attainable."

His statement said in part: "Memorial Day has been traditionally a day of prayer for those Americans who have died in the defense of their country. On May 23, 1950, pursuant to joint resolution of the Congress, I proclaimed each succeeding Memorial Day as a day of prayer for permanent peace, and I suggested 11 o'clock in the morning as an appropriate time for each American, according to his own religious faith, to beg divine aid in bringing enduring peace to a troubled world."

PAUL M. YAUGER
MEMORIAL STUDIOS
LONDON, O. ESTABLISHED 1914
Rev. Clarence Swearingen
CIRCLEVILLE
DISTRICT MANAGER
WILLIAMSPORT, OHIO
PHONE 291
"THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE FOR FAIR DEALING"

2M-20-3M-52 TROPIC SHORT — Looks like linen, feels cool as a Coke . . . it's smart crisp Jantzen Tropicloth . . . porous-weave Sanforized cotton, fast-color, of course. Concealed drawcord keeps the boxer waist snug . . . there's a built-in key-and-coin pocket, and full-size acetate-and-nylon supporter with elasticized legs. 6 stunning colors. 28-44. 2.95.
TEE SHIRT . . . king-size stripes, classic round neck with non-stretch band. Jantzen-made of finest all-combed two-ply cotton yarn. 6 smart color duos. S-M-L. 2.95.

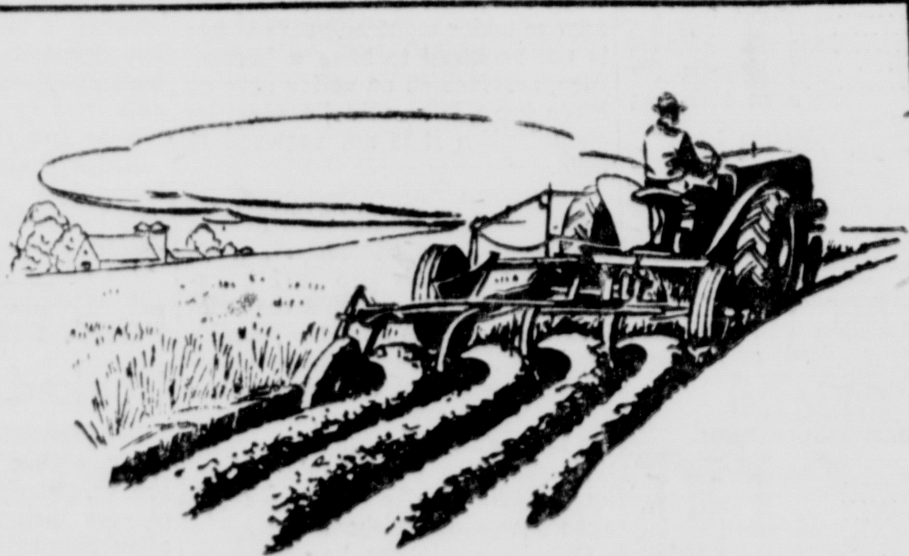

KINSEY'S MEN'S SHOP

Classes Spread Over The World

HOUSTON, Texas (AP) — University of Houston students can do their studying this summer under a Southeast Texas pine tree, or in tropical Guatemala, Mexico City, or Paris.

The university has scattered its classes that far.

This will be the 9th annual summer for the Latin-American study center of the university. Officials claim it is the largest Latin-American summer field study-travel program of any American university.

This bank renders complete banking service to farmers-and invites their accounts

We fully recognize the importance of agriculture to our community . . . and are justly proud of the many checking and savings accounts which have been placed in this bank by farmers. We value their deposits, and cordially invite others engaged in farming to open new accounts with us . . . and to use all of the facilities of modern banking which we provide.

We make helpful, economical LOANS to farmers for many constructive purposes, including: Dairying; stock breeding and feeding; seeding and fertilizing; improvements and repairs to farm homes and other buildings; purchase of cars, trucks, farm machinery and equipment, etc. Call on us when you need farm credit.

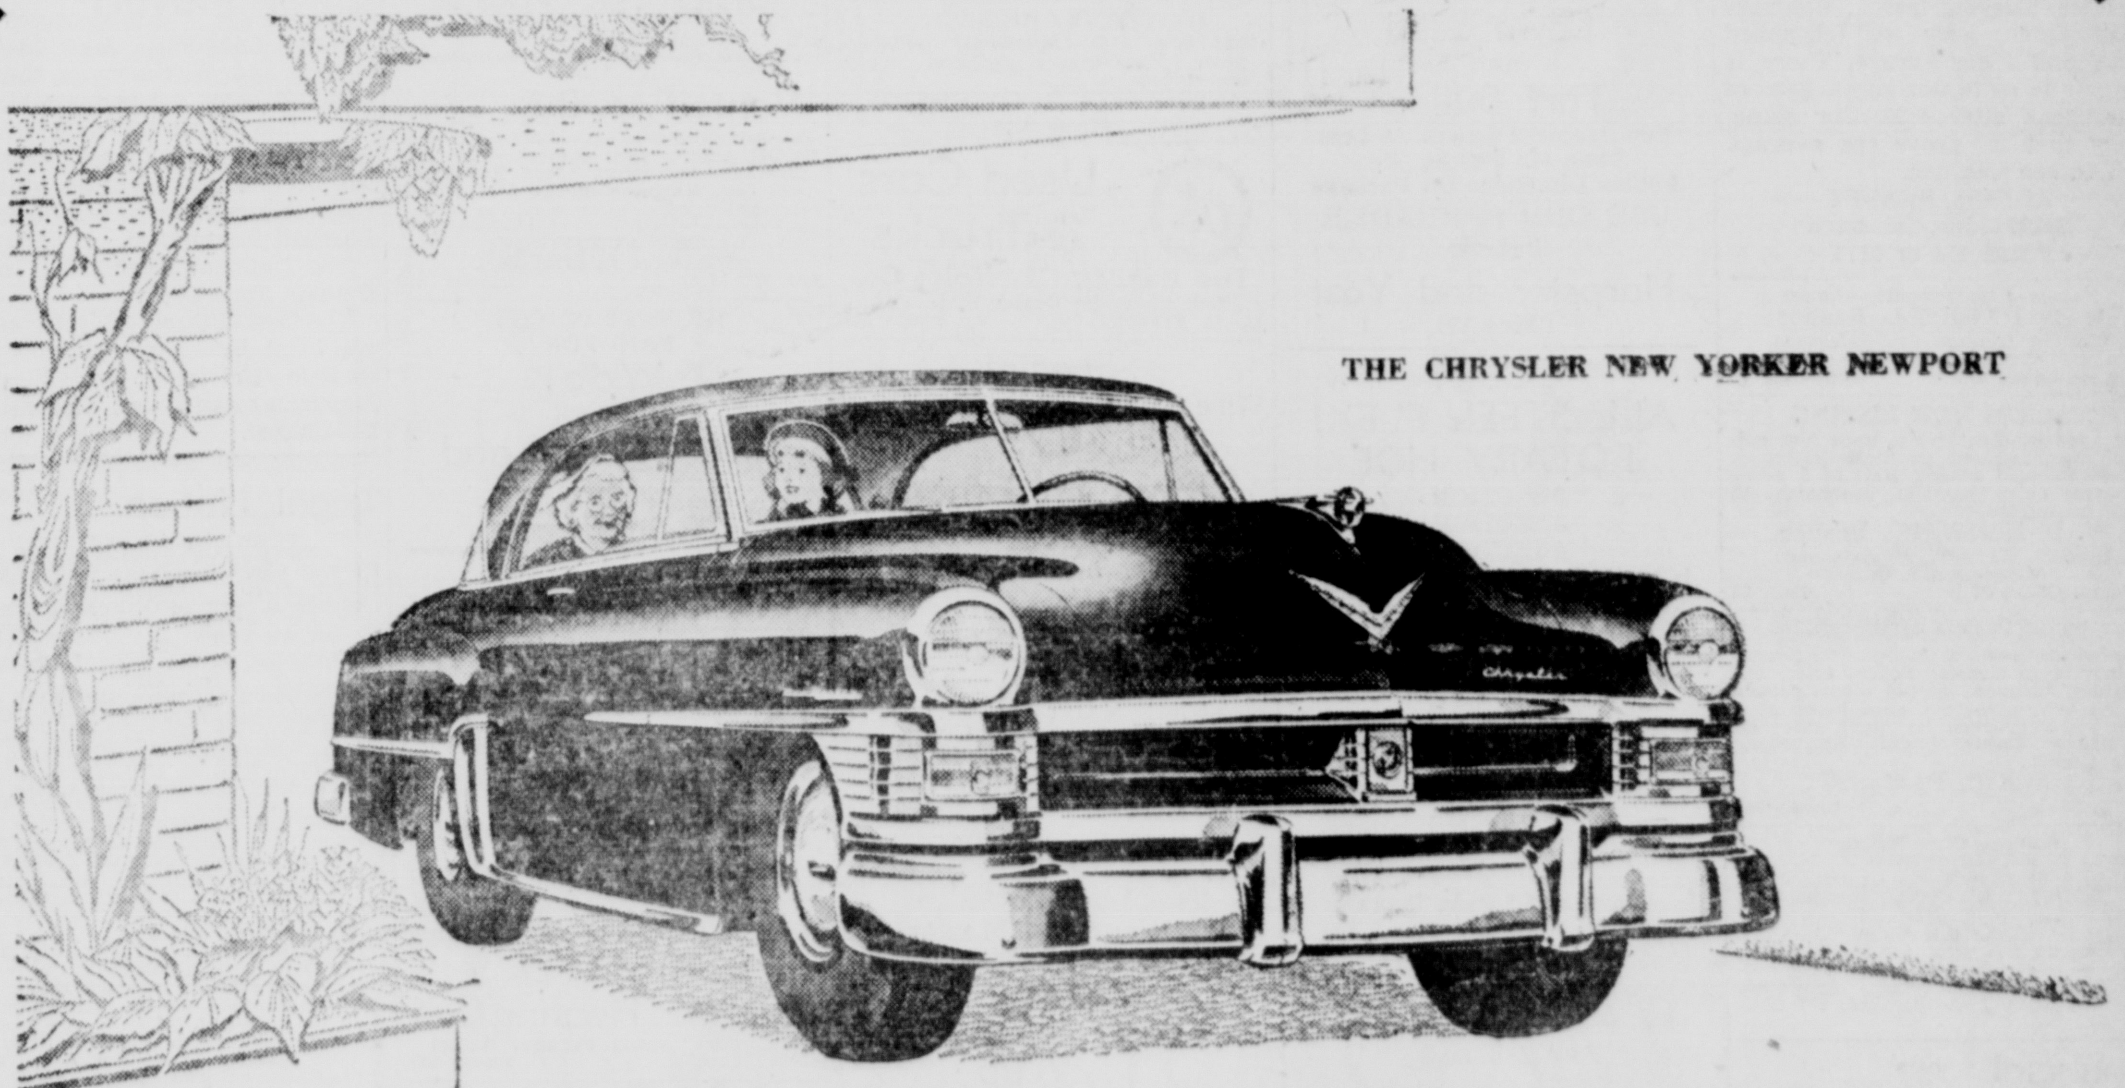

The SECOND NATIONAL BANK

OF CIRCLEVILLE, OHIO

MEMBER
FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM

MEMBER
UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

MEMBER
NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF BANKS

WHAT ARE YOU DOING TOMORROW?

This invitation could result in the most important day of your motoring life. We'd like you to take the wheel and really drive a Chrysler New Yorker car. Everything good you've heard about this great car is true . . . and then some. Its new V-8 engine . . . its power steering . . . its power brakes . . . its astonishing comfort . . . each is an experience you will thrill to, and remember.

So . . . tomorrow . . . or any time that is convenient . . . come discover real power steering! Hydraulic power does 4/5 the work as you turn the wheel . . . and also gives you 5 times the usual control on bad roads. Turn the wheels with one finger when standing still . . . or drive all day with no shoulder strain at all! You get the same wonderful "wheel feel" every mile!

Drive America's finest engine! Feel the acceleration, response, reserve power of 180 V-8 horsepower. Learn why owners praise the matchless performance they get . . . without even having to use premium fuel!

Feel what power brakes are like! Power from the engine boosts the power of your toe. With up to two-thirds less than normal pressure, you will "gentle" this solid, powerful car to the surest, easiest stops in your life!

Test the comfort that's unequalled! On body-pleasing chair-height seats . . . with sweeping vision all around . . . you take good roads and bad on shock absorbers with over twice the shock-absorbing power of those on cars you've had before! Come in tomorrow!

CHRYSLER

THE FINEST CAR AMERICA HAS YET PRODUCED

"WES" EDSTROM MOTORS • 150 E. Main St.

Former Drug Addict Aids Others By Forming Narcotics Anonymous

NEW YORK—Narcotics Anonymous was organized in February, 1950, when a slight, gray-haired man dedicated his life to the battle against narcotic addiction.

That momentous decision two years ago marked the end of a 25-year siege of addiction which began when he was 16 years of age.

This crusader, Danny Carlsen, born in Puerto Rico but now a resident of New York, affected his recovery through "will power and a rebirth of spiritual faith." Through this prescription he has restored other addicts to a more normal life.

Little was known about Carlsen until the recovery of many confirmed addicts was brought to the attention of a few influential men and women who were deeply concerned about the narcotics problem.

From this handful of interested

CARLOS J. ROMAN, who hails from El Salvador, has offered to sell one of his eyes for $2,000. The 24-year-old Central American, who wants to be a dentist, came to the decision when told that it would cost $2,000 for him to get a degree in dentistry at the University of California, in Berkeley.

Classes Spread Over The World

HOUSTON, Texas (AP) — University of Houston students can do their studying this summer under a Southeast Texas pine tree, or in tropical Guatemala, Mexico City, or Paris.

The university has scattered its classes that far.

This will be the 9th annual summer for the Latin-American study center of the university. Officials claim it is the largest Latin-American summer field study-travel program of any American university.

men and women, a board of 12 directors was formed, with Carlsen as executive director. Narcotics Anonymous was incorporated in New York, March 19, 1951, "to restore addicts to normal and give them new faith."

CARLSEN, their teacher, has the rare gift of projecting his own confidence and faith into those who come for help. He searches for the underlying cause which led them to addiction and tries to eliminate it through reason and understanding. His sincerity and personal triumph over addiction is a backlog of strength in working with beginners.

NA teaches repentant narcotic victims not only to help themselves but to seek out and help others as well. When Carlsen feels that one of his disciples is improving, he brings him into the group therapy plan as a group leader. Each of these victims begins to feel himself a contributor by passing along to other addicts the advice and faith that helped him.

Carlsen is a strong believer in prayer. He teaches that prayer and meditation are strong channels of spiritual vitality and that faith is essential to spiritual regeneration.

With the help of many who have been "through the mill," each new candidate for a new life is slowly guided along the tortuous path to salvation.

Many of the NA cases are referred by the New York City department of hospitals and by the probation officers of the various New York City courts.

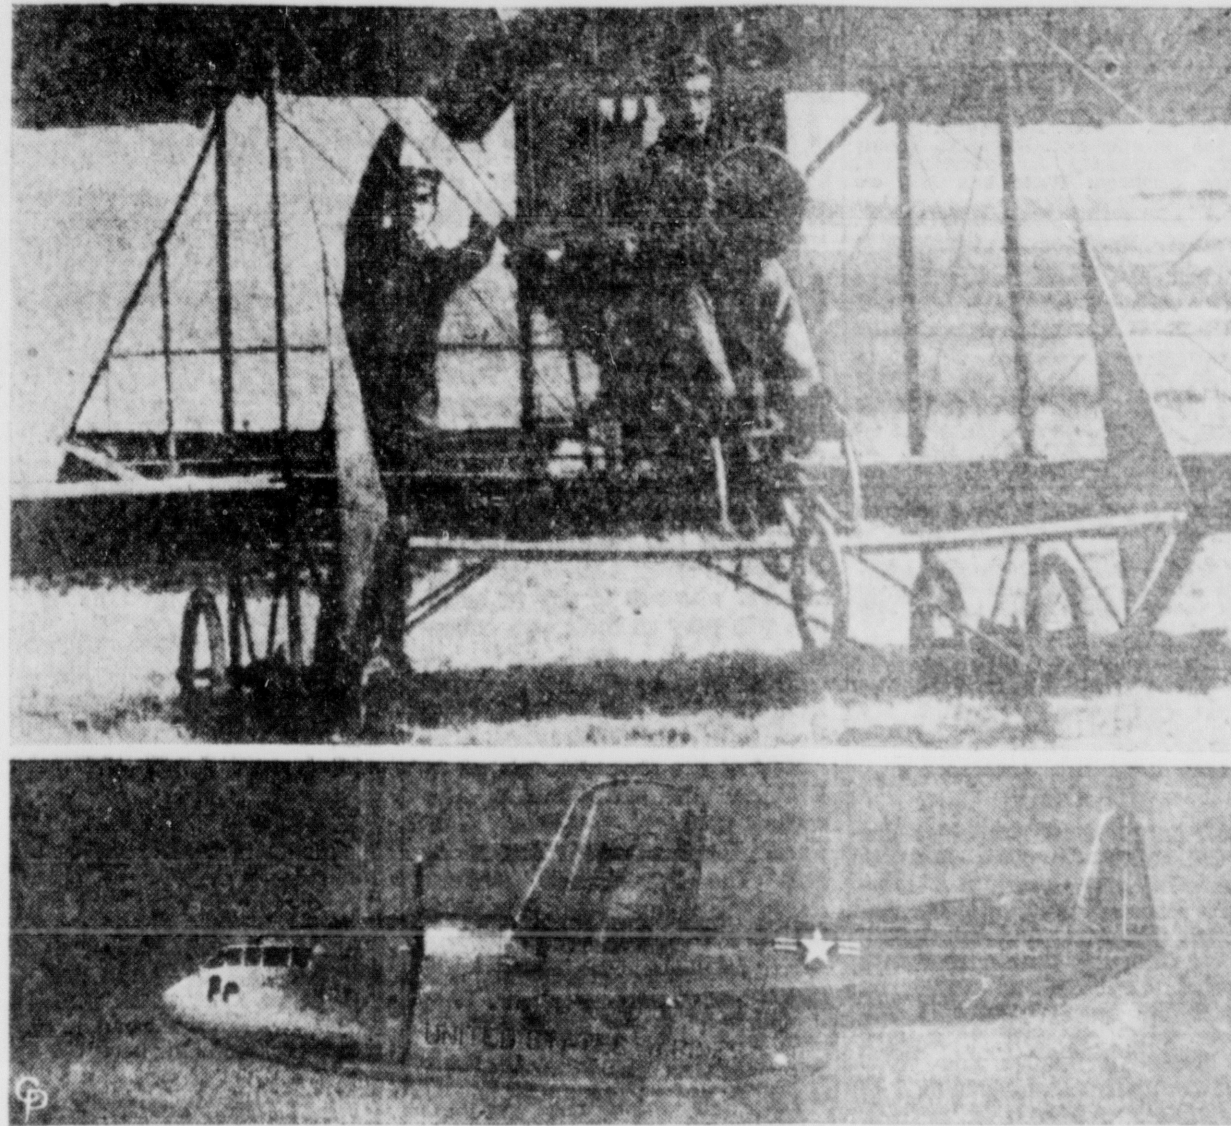

Carlsen handles most of the adult victims on an individual basis. He works with teen-age victims through group meetings held three times each week. The meetings are informal and a spirit of camaraderie prevails.

Through Carlsen's influence, many narcotics victims are sent to the United States Public Health Service hospital at Lexington, Ky., for treatment. Special attention is given to both adult and youthful victims upon release from institutional care.

In the teen-age group, NA has a record of approximately 50 per cent recovery of addicts that stick with the treatment.

The NA directorate, with the exception of Carlsen, is composed of non-addicts. None of them, including Danny, receive salaries. To date, NA has been operating on funds from small donations. Unless it obtains more sponsors the organization will not be able to continue to operate.

NA has three immediate needs: 1—More funds. 2—Skilled counselors to work with the advanced addicts and with the parents of young victims. 3—A headquarters for meetings and for "around-the-clock" contact service. The present headquarters of Narcotics Anonymous is a postoffice box in Village Station, New York.

Forty years of progress in Marine Corps aircraft is illustrated in the photos above. At top is Lt. Alfred Cunningham's plane, the "Nasty Nan," which represented the modest beginnings of the Leathernecks' air wing. At bottom is the Fairchild R4Q, already battle-proven in Korea, where it has become the U. N.'s biggest mover of personnel and supplies into forward combat areas. (International Soundphoto)

Saltcreek Valley

Among the number from here who attended the wedding of Miss Patricia Johnson and Mr. Robert M. Sproule last Sunday in the Methodist church of Circleville were Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Reichelderfer and family, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Reichelderfer, Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Bright, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Luckhart and Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Mowery.

Last Sunday the 4-H Club of Saltcreek Township presented the program in connection with Rural Life exercises at the Tarlton Lutheran church. Supt. Nelson Jones and Miss Carolyn Reichelderfer had charge of the music. The Rev. Frank Csaszar was in charge of the church services.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Luckhart attended the alumni banquet at New Holland last Saturday evening. Mrs. Luckhart was a graduate of the New Holland schools.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Fraunfelder and family and Mr. Herbert Vincent of New Holland were the Sunday dinner guests of the Luckhart family.

Mrs. Eileen Reichelderfer was shopping in Columbus last Thursday.

From Saltcreek Valley Grange who were in attendance at Pomona Grange last Saturday were: Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Shride, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Stump, Mr. and Mrs. Jas.

L. Reichelderfer, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Friece, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Mowery, Mrs. H. E. Balthaser, Mrs. Ida Strous, Mrs. Virginia Luckhart, Mrs. Clarence Maxson, daughter, Wanda, E. F. Strous and Homer Wright.

Saltcreek Valley Grange met on last Monday evening with Worthy Master W. E. Luckhart in charge. The Logan Elm Grange conferred the first and second degrees on a class of five candidates, Mr. and Mrs. George Maxson, and daughter, Mary, Mr. and Mrs. Dow West. Refreshments were served. The following are on the refreshment committee for the next month, Mr. and Mrs. Orley Judy, Joan and Gerald, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Whisler, Miss Margaret Chilcote, and Mrs. Daisy Judy at which time the 3rd and 4th degrees will be conferred on a class of candidates.

Saltcreek Valley School closed last Thursday with the eighth grade commencement in the morning.

President Can Control Climate

NEW YORK—The President can order his own indoor weather in the White House.

An elaborate indoor climate control installed by Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator Co. provides automatic control through more than 100 thermostats.

Through a master control panel one technician can change the temperature in any room, regulate the five fan systems, adjust the refrigeration machinery or the hot air dampers.

SOLVE THIS PUZZLE . . . A bottle and a cork cost $1.10. The bottle costs $1.00 more than the cork. How much does the cork cost? CLUE . . . You can get a cash loan of $100 and repay it in one year at $10.07 a month. It costs you only slightly more than the cork per day . . . actually only 40 cents a week. Extra cash can solve many problems too. Just call on us for cash.

THE CITY LOAN

108 W. Main Roy Marshall, Mgr.

FREE: Stop for Booklet of Presidents and 1952 Candidates

Prayer Asked In Observing Memorial Day

WASHINGTON, May 26 — President Truman's Memorial Day statement asked the nation for a universal prayer for a permanent peace he said is nearer reality now than on last year's day of remembrance.

His statement laid special stress on the dead of Korea, who, he said, had proved aggression cannot pay.

The President said the men in Korea laid down their lives for lasting peace, and "we must not let these men down now that the goal is so nearly attainable."

His statement said in part: "Memorial Day has been traditionally a day of prayer for those Americans who have died in the defense of their country. On May 23, 1950, pursuant to joint resolution of the Congress, I proclaimed each succeeding Memorial Day as a day of prayer for permanent peace, and I suggested 11 o'clock in the morning as an appropriate time for each American, according to his own religious faith, to beg divine aid in bringing enduring peace to a troubled world."

PAUL M. YAUGER MEMORIAL STUDIOS

LONDON, O

ESTABLISHED 1914

Rev. Clarence Swearingen
CIRCLEVILLE
DISTRICT MANAGER
WILLIAMSPORT, OHIO
PHONE 291

"THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE FOR FAIR DEALING"

2M-20-3M-52 TROPIC SHORT — Looks like linen, feels cool as a Coke . . . it's smart crisp Jantzen Tropicloth . . . porous-weave Sanforized cotton, fast-color, of course. Concealed drawcord keeps the boxer waist snug . . . there's a built-in key-and-coin pocket, and full-size acetate-and-nylon supporter with elasticized legs. 6 stunning colors. 28-44. 2.95.
TEE SHIRT . . . king-size stripes, classic round neck with non-stretch band. Jantzen-made of finest all-combed two-ply cotton yarn. 6 smart color duos. S-M-L. 2.95.

KINSEY'S MEN'S SHOP

This bank renders complete banking service to farmers--and invites their accounts

We fully recognize the importance of agriculture to our community . . . and are justly proud of the many checking and savings accounts which have been placed in this bank by farmers. We value their deposits, and cordially invite others engaged in farming to open new accounts with us . . . and to use all of the facilities of modern banking which we provide.

We make helpful, economical LOANS to farmers for many constructive purposes, including: Dairying; stock breeding and feeding; seeding and fertilizing; improvements and repairs to farm homes and other buildings; purchase of cars, trucks, farm machinery and equipment, etc. Call on us when you need farm credit.

The SECOND NATIONAL BANK OF CIRCLEVILLE, OHIO

MEMBER
FEDERAL RESERVE
SYSTEM

AFFILIATED WITH NATIONAL CITY CORPORATION

MEMBER
FEDERAL DEPOSIT
INSURANCE CORPORATION

THE CHRYSLER NEW YORKER NEWPORT

WHAT ARE YOU DOING TOMORROW?

This invitation could result in the most important day of your motoring life. We'd like you to take the wheel and really drive a Chrysler New Yorker car. Everything good you've heard about this great car is true . . . and then some. Its new V-8 engine . . . its power steering . . . its power brakes . . . its astonishing comfort . . . each is an experience you will thrill to, and remember.

So . . . tomorrow . . . or any time that is convenient . . . come discover real power steering! Hydraulic power does 4/5 the work as you turn the wheel . . . and also gives you 5 times the usual control on bad roads. Turn the wheels with one finger when standing still . . . or drive all day with no shoulder strain at all! You get the same wonderful "wheel feel" every mile!

Drive America's finest engine! Feel the acceleration, response, reserve power of 180 V-8 horsepower. Learn why owners praise the matchless performance they get . . . without even having to use premium fuel!

Feel what power brakes are like! Power from the engine boosts the power of your toe. With up to two-thirds less than normal pressure, you will "gentle" this solid, powerful car to the surest, easiest stops in your life!

Test the comfort that's unequalled! On body-pleasing chair-height seats . . . with sweeping vision all around . . . you take good roads and bad on shock absorbers with over twice the shock-absorbing power of those on cars you've had before! Come in tomorrow!

CHRYSLER

THE FINEST CAR
AMERICA HAS YET PRODUCED

"WES" EDSTROM MOTORS • 150 E. Main St.

CLASSIFIED ADS

Classified Ad Rates

To order a classified ad just telephone 782 and ask for an advertiser. She will quote rates and help you write your ad. You may mail your ad to the Circleville Herald if you prefer.

WORD RATE

Per word one insertion 3c
Per word 2 consecutive 20c
Per word 3 consecutive 10c
Per word 4 consecutive 60c
Minimum charge, one time $1.00
Obituaries, $1.00 minimum
Cards of Thanks $1.00 minimum
75 word maximum on obituaries and cards of thanks. Each additional word 5 cents.

Publisher reserves the right to edit or reject all classified advertising copy. Ads ordered for more than one time and cancelled before expiration will only be charged for the number of times the ad appears and adjustments made at the rate earned. Publishers reserve the right to classify ads under the appropriate headings.

Advertisers are responsible for only one incorrect insertion of an ad. Out of town advertising must be cash with the copy.

Real Estate for Sale

FARMS AND CITY PROPERTY
4 Percent Farm Loans
GEORGE C. BARNES
Phone 43

3-ACRES on Circleville Kingston Pike. 6-in frame house, (not modern) other bldgs. Borders on Congo Creek, known as Cragston estate (not in a shanty community). Elderly owner moving to Columbus. Asking $6000.00, offer open. Phone of write O. C. Nance, BIG FOUR REALTY CO. (Realtors) 1438 W. Broad St., Columbus, Ohio. Phone RA-4327 or RA-8312.

I HAVE farms in Pickaway, Fayette, Ross and Highland Counties.
B. S. (TIM) MILLAR, Broker
Phone 95R22 Ashville

MACK D. PARRETT
Real Estate Broker
214 E. Main St. Phone 303

ADKINS REALTY
Bob Adkins, Salesman
Call 114 583, 117V
Masonic Temple

CHECK THIS ONE

If you should take the time to inspect this home to see all of the advantages it will give to you, we feel sure that you will agree that this is the best buy in town. Downstairs this home consists of a living room, dining, bedroom, kitchen and closed in back porch. Up stairs two very nice size bedrooms and modern bath. Ample closet space. The basement has adequate laundry facilities and a four year old furnace in fine condition. Attached garage with entrance to kitchen. Well fenced and well kept lawn with healthy shade and fruit trees. In very good neighborhood. House is sound may be inspected anytime. 703 N. Court St. Really priced well below any offered in town. For quick sale.

FOR STABILITY
A fine frame home, newly painted and decorated. Located 543 N. Court Street. Nice entrance foyer, living room with fireplace, dining room, kitchen and closed in back porch. Full basement with good coal furnace. Dry in all kinds of weather. Three bedrooms and bath up with sleeping porch. Spacious front porch, very well shrubbed lawn and 2 car garage. There is nothing to do to this home. Seen in afternoons after 4:30. For something that is above the average call to see this one.

ADKINS REALTY
Bob Adkins, Salesman
Phone 114 or 117V

Farms—City Property—Loans
W. D. HEISKELL, Realtor
Wm. D. Heiskell, Jr., Salesman
Williamsport, Ohio
Phones: Office 27 Residence 28

7 ACRES NEW LISTING
Has good 3 room house, barn and out-buildings. Located on State Highway. Close to good school. Half of 3 acres growing corn. Goes to purchaser. 30 day possession.
W. D. HEISKELL, Realtor
Wm. D. Heiskell, Jr., Salesman
Williamsport, Ohio
Phones: Office 27 Res. 28

NORTHERN MODERN
3-Bedroom Home with hd-wood floors; plenty large closets; floored attic; oil-burning furnace; ample closet space in kitchen; a mighty good home at a low price, reduced for quick sale; lot 65X120 on Cedar Heights Rd. Show any time.
MACK D. PARRETT
214 E. Main St. Phone 303

Central Ohio Farms
City Properties
4 Percent Farm Loans
DONALD H. WATKINS, Realtor
1125 N. Court St.
Cincinnati, Ohio
Phone 19 and after 5 p. m. 342-R

5 ROOM Modern house, insulated, storm windows, gas furnace, 717 Clinton St.

Financial
FARMERS loans—to purchase livestock, machinery, seed and operating—low interest rate. See Don Clump.

Lost
LADY'S Bulova wrist watch. Phone 483J Reward.

BUSINESS DIRECTORY
Detailed Reference to Business Facilities of Circleville

DAIRY PRODUCTS DEALERS
PICKAWAY DAIRY ASSN.
Pickaway Butter Phone 28

ELECTRIC APPLIANCES
PETTIT'S
139 S. Court St. Phone 214

LOCKER PLANT
CINCINNATI FAST FREEZE
F. Griffin, owner-operator
161 Edison Ave. Phone 133

RETAIL LUMBER DEALERS
CINCINNATI LUMBER CO.
150 Edison Ave. Phone 289

VETERINARIANS
DRS. C. W. CROMLEY-J. M. HAGELY
Pet Hospital—Boarding—X-Ray.
Phone 4, Ashville

DR. FLOYD P. DUNLAP
454 N. Court St. Phone 315

DR. PAUL E. FENSTERMAKER
Phone 2, Williamsport, Ohio

DR. WELLS M. WILSON
Phone 1935 Rt. 1, Circleville

Articles For Sale

HEREFORD Steers and heifer calves—
Feeder cattle D. A. Marshall and Sons
—one mile north of Rt. 23 Ph. 5063.

SMIDLEY hog feeders and hog houses.
Steele Produce Co. 135 E. Franklin St. Ph. 372.

YOU GET dependable chicks from Ehrler Hatchery 654 Chestnut St. Lancaster. Free catalog. Heavy chicks Sunday, Monday, Leghorns on Thursday. Open Sunday afternoons.

BEAUTIFUL old linoleum with Glaxo plastic type coating. Ends waxing and scrubbing Harpster and Yost.

STARTED chicks, special prices while they last — very little heat required—fill up your brooder houses now—Croman Poultry Farm, Ph. 1834 or 4045.

LOOKING for an automatic washer
See the ARCO-Matic before you buy. Priced from $200.00 at Gordon Tire and Accessory Store West Main at Scioto St.

Allowance on your old refrigerator or ice box when you buy a new COOLERATOR

MAC'S
113 E. Main
Phone 659

Get Your Corn
Off To A Good Start
Give It Some Extra FERTILIZER

We Have 3-12-12
Available Now
Pick It Up At Farm Bureau Store
W. Mound St. or Phone 834

NOW!
A Small Down Payment
Delivers Any Beautiful LANE
Cedar Chest
$39.50 and up
Mason Furniture
N. Court St. Phone 225

BABY CHICKS
From Blood-Tested Flocks
Order Now—
Limited Number Started Chicks
SOUTHERN OHIO
HATCHERY
120 W. Water St. Phone 55

$5
DOWN PAYMENT
DELIVERS A NEW
Thor Washer
TO YOUR HOME
24 MONTHS TO PAY
B. F. Goodrich Co.
115 E. Main St. Phone 140

Scotts
Lawn Seed
and Turf Builder

For Beautiful Lawns At Less Than 1c Per Sq. Ft.
Follow Directions On Package
USE OUR SPREADER
FREE
Harpster and Yost
Phone 136

COBEY
ALL STEEL FLEXI
ROTARY HOE
2-SECTION
3-SECTION
4-SECTION
JONES IMPLEMENT
YOUR ALLIS CHALMERS
DEALER
Kingston Open Evenings Till 9
Open Sundays

SUMMER'S COMING
Don't Be Caught Without SCREENS
Combination
Storm and Screen Doors
"Rusco"
All Metal
Combination
Storm and Screen Windows
Free Estimates
McAFEE LUMBER CO.
Phone 8431 Kingston, O. 173 E. Franklin St. Phone 24

GUARANTEED BUYS
1951 Pontiac Catalina Coupe, 7000 Miles
1950 Pontiac 8 Streamline Sedan Coupe
1949 Pontiac 8 Streamline Sedan Coupe
1949 Pontiac 6 Streamline Sedan Coupe
1949 Pontiac 6 Station Wagon
1948 Pontiac 6 Streamline Sedan Coupe
1948 Pontiac 6 Streamline 4 Door
1947 Pontiac 4 Door
1946 Pontiac 6 Streamline Sedan
1946 Pontiac 8 Streamline Sedan
1949 Mercury Club Sedan, Overdrive
1948 Ford Station Wagon

1941 DODGE SEDAN
$295
1940 MERCURY SEDAN
$295
2 — 1939 PONTIACS
$225

Ed Helwage
Use GMAC Payment Plan — 24 Months To Pay

Business Service

WALLPAPER STEAMING
George Byrd Ph. 838R

JOE CHRISTY
Plumbing and Heating
158 W. Main St. Phone 987 or 748Y

KENNETH W. WILSON
PLUMBING
Sales and Service
114 E. Franklin Ph. 253

BARTHELMAS SHEET METAL AND PLUMBING
339 E. Main St. Phone 127

SEWER AND DRAIN SERVICE
Inexpensive and effective. Only Roto Rooters can give complete cleaning service without unnecessary digging.
Circleville 435 or Lancaster 3663.

FRANK ALEDGE agent for
ARMSTRONG FURNACES
Sputting and Plumbing Supplies
608 E. Mound Phone 856L

LEWIS Willoughby-plumbing and heating Ph. 790J

REFINISH your floors yourself by using our floor sander and buffer. Also a variety of quality floor finishes.
Kochheiser Hardware

PLASTERING
And Stucco Work
New and Repair
GEORGE R. RAMEY
733 S. Scioto St. Ph. 313Y

Ward's Upholstery
225 E. Main St. Phone 133

Builder of Your Home of Tomorrow—
Remodeler of Your Home of Today
G. E. LEIST, CONTR.
358 Logan St. Phone 914

Termites
are hard at work destroying property — is your's safe?
Extermination Guaranteed
FREE INSPECTION
Harpster and Yost
Phone 136

Articles For Sale
LOOK: Leghorn Pullets 100-$23.50-$31.13, 25-$6.73 not sexed 100-$12.50 50-$6.75 25-$3.75. Hatch May 29. Started pullets 1 wks $29. 2 wks $33. 3 wks $37. Heavy chicks Sun. Mon. Ehrler Hatch. 654 Chestnut Lancaster.

COAL—Ohio and Ky.—lump, egg and oil treated stoker. Phone 622R Edward Starkey.

YOUR new rug won't be eaten by moths when you use Berolux. One spraying guaranteed for five years.
Griffith Floorcovering

121 1/2 WESTINGHOUSE table model
T. V. set, good condition. Ph. 165J.

ED HELWAGEN
PONTIAC AGENCY
400 N. Court St. Phone 843

OLIVER AND NEW IDEA
Sales and Service
BECKWITH IMPLEMENT CO.
119 E. Franklin Ph. 122

TOP DAIRY COWS
Fresh and close up producers. Registered and Grade Cows and Heifers.
PETE BOWMAN — Phone 4040

BABY CHICKS
That are U.S. approved, pulletum clean. The highest official health award obtainable.
STOUTVILLE HATCHERY
Phone 3054

Used Cars & Trucks
The Harden Chevrolet Co.
Your Chevrolet Dealer Since 1928
137 E. Franklin Phone 322

Special
Wire For John Deere Baler
$8.75
Jones Implement
Your Allis Chalmers Dealer
Kingston
Ph. 7081—Open 7 to 9 daily

Super Valpar
Varnish
Clear — Will Not Turn White
Goeller Paint Store
219 E. Main St. Phone 546

$10
Trade-in Allowance
On Your Old Mower
On The Price Of A New Jacobsen
Power Mower
$129 up
Hill Implement Co.
173 E. Franklin St. Phone 24

Insulation
Want A Cool House This Summer?
Then INSULATE WITH OWENS-CORNING FIBER GLASS.

Harpster and Yost
Phone 136

Legal Notice
Sealed bids will be received by the Director of Public Service of the City of Circleville, State of Ohio, at the Office of said Director until 12 O'clock noon June 20, 1952, for furnishing or supplying the following equipment:
A Street or Road Roller
1000 gal. or Bituminous Distributor
Gravel or crushed Stone distributor.
Specifications, requirements, types etc. are on file in the Office of said Director, and may be obtained from him.
Each bid must contain the full name of the person or persons, or Company interested in the same and be accompanied by a bond in the sum of $100.00 to satisfaction of Director or a certified check in the sum of $100.00 on some solvent Bank, as a guaranty that if bid is accepted a contract will be entered into a performance secured. Should any bid be rejected such bond or check will be forthwith returned to the Bidder, should any bid be accepted such check or bond will be returned upon proper execution and securing of a contract with said bidder.
The right is hereby reserved by said City to reject all and all bids.
By Order of the Director of Public Service,
Desney Speakman
Director
Approved: George E. Gerhardt, Collector.
May 12 1952.

Employment

NATIONAL FIRM needs men 30-65. List local accounts for collection. $100-$200 comm. weekly. No selling, no collecting, no exp. nec. Dignified, steady work. Opportunity for advancement, higher earnings. Write box 1850 Co Herald.

FOREIGN Employment Construction
Work. If interested in foreign projects with high pay, write Foreign Service Bureau, Box 285, Metuchen, New Jersey.

RELIABLE man with car wanted to call on farmers in NE and W Pickaway County. Wonderful opportunity. $10 to $20 a day. No experience or capital required. Permanent. Write to day. MCNESS COMPANY, Dept. A, Freeport, Ill.

WOMAN wanted to care for 2 children in home. Ph. 213.

COLLEGE students—if you are interested in good paying outdoor summer work, write immediately to box 1849 Co Herald.

ADVERTISING SALESMEN
FOR EVERY COUNTY IN OHIO

To sell an exclusive franchise line of Calendars—Novelties—Leather Goods—Gift and Premium items—Direct Mail—Playing Cards. Experience preferred but not essential. We offer life time career with potential earnings unlimited on commission basis. Protected exclusive territory. Our men now earn $5000 to $25000 per year. AAA-1 company established over 53 years. Apply in person or write or phone: Sweetbriar 1-8659, LOUIS F. DOW CO., Fenway Hall Hotel, Cleveland 6, Ohio. W. J. Faber, Director of Sales.

Persbna
NOW—a drug store as near as your mail box or telephone. For delivery service call 213—mail order write Circleville Retail Drugs.

WE recommend new brush-on invisible Roach Filmz to get rid of ants and other household insect pests. Contains Chlordane as praised in Reader's Digest, Harper and Yost.

ABSOLUTELY NO ODOR when you use Berolux Mopray Five year written guarantee with each spraying. Griffith Floorcovering

IT'S the thing spots disappear with a ring. Fina Foam cleans carpets. Harpster and Yost.

WELCOME WAGON
If you are a newcomer to Circleville let Welcome Wagon hostesses call on you. Phone 401R.
Mrs. Richard Jones, Hostess
Production Credit, 251 N. Court St.

For Rent
3 ROOM furnished apartment, adults only, share bath. Phone 119L.
2 ROOM and one room furnished apartments 422 S. Washington. Ph. 330X.

Kearns Nursing Home
203 S. SCIOTO ST.
24 Hour Nursing Service
Private Rooms Available
Beds available for Bed and Ambulatory patients RATES REASONABLE
Phone 294

Wanted to Buy
GOOD yellow corn wanted—will pay premium for same. Lloyd Reiterman and Son, Kingston—phone 8484 Kingston 6K.

USED FURNITURE
WEAVER FURNITURE
159 W. Main St. Phone 210

HIGHEST PRICES PAID FOR Wool
Phone 601
Thos. Rader and Son
701 S. Pickaway

Business Service
Termite
GUARANTEED EXTERMINATION
Free Inspection and Estimates
KOCHHEISER HARDWARE
Phone 100

Furnace Repairing and Cleaning
BOB LITTER'S
Fuel and Heating Co.
Authorized Lennox Furnace Dealer
163 W. Main St. Phone 821

Here's Chance To Meet Ben Hogan In Golf

NEW YORK, May 26 — (P)— Something different in golf broadcasting is to be tried by CBS radio Saturday, May 31—"Ben Hogan National Golf Day Tournament." Any golfer in the country will be given a chance to compete with him.

Hogan will play his round at the Northwood Club, Dallas, Tex., with the results broadcast by John Derr of CBS. Competing golfers, who are to pay $1 entry fee, will play on their own courses.

Their scores will be reported from Chicago, Los Angeles, New York and Washington.

Half of the proceeds will go to USO and the other half to the setting up of a "National Golf Fund" for charitable causes in golf. The Professional Golfers Association and Life Magazine are cooperating in the venture.

CHS Golfers Place Fourth In State Test

Circleville high school's Tiger golf team settled for fourth place Saturday in the state tournament in Columbus.

Youngstown East collected the Ohio schoolboy links title which the Tigers won in 1951, racking up the same score the Tigers posted last year.

Youngstown toured Scarlet Course of Ohio State university with a 668-stroke effort in this year's two-day tourney. Circleville won the title last year with a 666.

In this year's tourney, however, the Tigers finished with a 675, ranking behind Youngstown East, Youngstown Rayen and Columbus Aquinas.

TED LEACH paced the locals in the state test with a 162 total, while Don Olney and Al Sabine tied for second with 168's. Walt Heine was fourth with a 177.

Fritz Schmidt of Columbus University and Fred Jones of Youngstown Rayen were tied for medalist honors during the match, each shooting 155 for the 18-hole test.

Circleville's individual scoring in the state match was as follows:

Player 1st 2nd Total
Ted Leach 80 82 162
Don Olney 86 82 168
Al Sabine 82 86 168
Walt Heine 90 87 177
Totals 338 337 675

Illini, Badgers Enter Playoff

EAST LANSING, May 26—(P)— Illinois and Wisconsin of the Big Ten will enter a four-team playoff with Ohio University and Western Michigan to determine the District No. 4 representative in the National Collegiate Athletic Association Baseball tournament.

The National meet will be at Omaha, June 10-16.

The best-of-three playoff series will begin Friday with Illinois host to Ohio University and Western Michigan entertaining Wisconsin at Kalamazoo.

Legal Notice
NOTICE OF PUBLIC SALE
Probate Court, Pickaway County, Ohio.
NOVA FORD, Administratrix of the Estate of Wallace C. Ford, deceased, Plaintiff, vs.
Defendants,
No. 16498
In pursuance of the order of the Probate Court of Pickaway County, Ohio, I will offer for sale at public auction on the premises, on Thursday, June 26th, 1952, at 2:00 o'clock P. M., the following described real estate situated in the County of Pickaway, State of Ohio, and Township of Monroe, and bounded and described as follows:
Being a part of Original Survey No. 3653 in Virginia Military District, Beginning at an iron pin in the center of the Yankeetown Turnpike and near the west side of the Clark's Run Road; thence N. 7 deg. 20' E. 31.20 chains to a stake and drain tile in the center of Clark's Run Road; and corner to land of W. K. Bennett; thence S. 84 deg. 30' E. 14.44 chains to a stone corner to Jonathan Taylor land; thence S. 4 deg. W. 26.96 chains to an iron pin, south of the center of the Yankeetown Turnpike; thence with said Turnpike N. 65 deg. W. 17.44 chains to the beginning. Containing 52.90 acres of land, more or less. Being the same premises purchased by Benjamin O. Lewis from John D. Maddux and wife by deed dated February 27, 1923, and recorded in Vol. 102, Page 394 of the Pickaway County Deed Records. EXCEPTING THEREFROM the following tract of land bounded and described as follows: Being a part of Original Survey No. 4283 in the Virginia Military District, Beginning at an iron pin in the center of the Yankeetown Turnpike and near the west line of the Clark's Run Road; thence N. 8 deg. 45' E. 11.89 chains to an iron pin in the center of the Clark's Run Road (86 ft. one chain); thence with a new line S. 84 deg. 20' E. 15.63 chains to the heirs of Jonathan Taylor; thence with their west line S. 4 deg. 30' W. 17.55 chains to an iron pin in the center of the Yankeetown Turnpike; thence with the center of said road N. 65 deg. W. 17.44 chains to the beginning. Containing 23.75 acres of land, more or less. This description includes a school lot containing 1.5 acres of land. Being the same premises purchased by Alva Lewis from Benjamin O. Lewis and wife by deed dated May 10, 1930, and recorded in Vol. 112, Page 148 of the Pickaway County Deed Records. The above described land containing in all 28.85 acres of land, more or less.
Said premises are appraised at Eight Thousand ($8000.00) Dollars and must be sold for not less than two-thirds said appraised value. Terms of Sale: Ten (10) percent of purchase price on day of sale, balance in full on confirmation of sale and delivery of deed. This farm is improved with a house and other buildings and is located on the Clark's Run Road about 3 miles southeast of Mt. Sterling, Ohio.
J. W. Adkins Jr., Attorney for Plaintiff.
Circleville, Ohio.
Nova Ford, Administratrix of the Estate of Wallace C. Ford, deceased.
May 26, June 2, 9, 16, 23

EASY TO PICK the winning jockey out of this combination. That's right, it was Charley Burr (center), who offers condolences to fellow riders Gayle Smith (left) and Freddie Ryan after a race run in the mud at Garden State Park. Burr had his mount in front at the start and stayed right there. (International)

Hogan Pockets $4,000 In Meet

FORT WORTH, May 26 — (P)— Ben Hogan has banked $4,000 first money from the $20,000 Colonial National Invitation golf tournament.

Little Ben's stretch drive in which he shot a virtually perfect round of three-under-par 67 netted him his third Colonial title in six years Sunday. He wound up with 279 for 72 holes, beating out Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago by four strokes in the fight for top money.

Baseball Results

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Brooklyn 23 7 367 9
New York 23 8 742 9
Chicago 19 15 330 6
Cincinnati 17 16 315 7
St. Louis 16 17 457 9 1/2
Philadelphia 14 17 452 9 1/2
Pittsburgh 12 18 400 11
Sunday's Results—
Chicago 3, Pittsburgh 4
St. Louis 7, Cincinnati 6
Brooklyn at Philadelphia, rain
St. Louis at New York, postponed.
Monday's Schedule—
Cincinnati at Pittsburgh (N)
Brooklyn at New York (N)
St. Louis at Chicago
Boston at Philadelphia (N)
Tuesday's Schedule—
New York at Brooklyn (N)
Boston at Philadelphia (N)
Cincinnati at Pittsburgh
St. Louis at Chicago

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Cleveland 24 13 659 0
Washington 14 14 376 0
Boston 19 14 376 3
New York 16 14 333 4 1/2
St. Louis 16 20 360 4 1/2
Chicago 16 18 471 6 1/2
Philadelphia 12 17 414 8
Pittsburgh 9 23 281 12 1/2
Sunday's Results—
Philadelphia 2-0, Washington 1-1
Chicago 5-1, Detroit 6-6
St. Louis 7-2, Cleveland 5-6
New York at Boston, postponed
Monday's Schedule—
New York at Boston (N)
Chicago at St. Louis (N)
Philadelphia at Washington
(Only games scheduled).
Tuesday's Schedule—
Cleveland at Detroit
Detroit at Cleveland
Washington at New York
Philadelphia at Boston
(All night games).

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION

Minneapolis 24 13 659 0
Kansas City 23 15 615 0
Louisville 22 16 379 1 1/2
Cincinnati 19 14 376 3
St. Paul 18 21 462 6
Columbus 15 20 429 7
Indianapolis 12 21 264 9
Toledo 12 21 264 9
Sunday's Results—
Milwaukee 13-5, St. Paul 6-3
Louisville 13-14, Toledo 1-4
Kansas City 7-1, Minneapolis 6-3
Columbus at

One-Man Track Team Is Star In State Class A Tournament

COLUMBUS, May 26 — College coaches interested in a one-man track team can well cast their eyes toward a T. B. Whitman, Cleveland East Tech's flash.

The 5-11 senior won three events in the Class A division of the Ohio high school track-field championship Saturday.

He piled up 19½ points which, added to 11 scored by his teammates, gave East Tech its 12th Class A championship. Whitman's points were exactly the same as

Country Club Golfers Lose To Washington

A group of Pickaway Country Club golfers suffered a 29-19 setback Sunday in an inter-city match against Washington C. H. on the Washington course.

The local Country Club team, made up of 16 members, was paced by Bob Friece, C. C. Saxton, John Brooks and Dave Kerns, who each garnered all of their points in the test.

Friece was medalist for the Pickaway team during the match, shooting a 74. Saxton was next with a 77.

The local Country Clubbers are to meet Washington in a return match here June 15. Complete results of Sunday's encounter follow:

Player	1st	2nd	Total Pts.
C. C. Saxton (C)	40	37	77
Frank Truitt (W)	45	38	83

Bob Friece (C)	38	36	74
Bill Junk (W)	43	41	84

L. Blankenship (C)	41	40	81
Dan O'Brien (W)	42	40	82

Art Marshall (C)	44	42	86
Dick Korn (W)	41	39	80

Dave Evans (C)	45	43	88
Dr. R. Hagerty (W)	43	39	82

Dr. W. Heine (C)	44	48	92
C. Cummings (W)	45	42	87

John Brooks (C)	44	38	82
Hemmelpade (W)	47	44	91

John Teal (C)	52	46	98
Bill McLean (W)	43	42	85

Karl Mason (C)	43	43	86
Wayne Shobe (W)	45	40	85

Paul Shafer (C)	44	43	87
D. Mowery (W)	43	46	89

Dave Kerns (C)	43	41	84
Jim Grinstead (W)	44	45	89

Dick Miller (C)	53	46	99
G. Rosebloom (W)	48	42	90

H. W. Diehl (C)	48	50	98
Bud Schloe (W)	47	41	88

Duke Brehmer (C)	46	48	94
Bud Birely (W)	46	42	88

Harold Moats (C)	50	53	103
H. Miller (W)	48	44	92

M. Satriano (C)	48	47	95
H. Miller (W)	45	47	92

Irwins Win, 9-8

Ashville Irwin baseballers Sunday collected a 9-8 victory over Chillicothe Federal Reformatory.

The Ashville team will begin play in the Columbus Sunday afternoon league next Sunday in Community Park against New System Bakery of Columbus.

TELEVISION & RADIO FOR TONIGHT

RADIO-TV — EVERYDAY — ALL RIGHTS RESERVED — W. T. RICHMOND & CO., INC.

WTVN—Ch. 9 WLW-700 KC	WLBW—Ch. 11 WBNS-1450 KC—WHKC-650 KC	STATION	WTVN—Ch. 9 WLW-700 KC	WLBW—Ch. 11 WBNS-1450 KC—WHKC-650 KC	STATION
5:00 Bar 3 Corral Prospector West. Roundup Tom Gleba Bobby Benson Health	5:15 Bar 3 Corral Sports Roundup Front Page Tom Gleba Bobby Benson Health	5:30 Meetin' Time Sports Roundup Lorenz Jones Tom Gleba Wild Bill Sports	5:45 Meetin' Time Sports Roundup Lorenz Jones Tom Gleba Wild Bill Sports

6:00 Kukla, Fran Capt. Video Penny Arcade Wild Bill News Dinner Winner Concert	6:15 Capt. Video Penny Arcade Wild Bill Sports Dinner Winner Concert	6:30 Those Two Hollywood Weather News Ohio Story Sports Masters	6:45 News Caravan Hollywood Weather News Ohio Story Sports Masters
---	--	--	---

7:00 Milton Berle Bishop Sheen Sam Levenson News R. Q. Lewis Symposium	7:15 Milton Berle Bishop Sheen Gov. Bricker R. Q. Lewis Symposium	7:30 WTVN WBNS-TV WLW WBNS WHKC WOSU	7:45 Milton Berle Bishop Sheen Gov. Bricker R. Q. Lewis Symposium
--	--	--	--

8:00 Lights Out Wrestling I Love Lucy R. H. Hous Playhouse Woman of Yr.	8:15 Lights Out Wrestling I Love Lucy R. H. Hous Playhouse Woman of Yr.	8:30 WTVN WBNS-TV WLW WBNS WHKC WOSU	8:45 Lights Out Wrestling I Love Lucy R. H. Hous Playhouse Woman of Yr.
---	---	--	---

ROBERT V. GEORGE MOTOR SALES

HONEST VALUE IN USED CARS AND TRUCKS
NEW LOCATION—Corner E. Main St. and Lancaster Pike

7:00 My Name Mr. D. A. Video Thea. Music Room R. Q. Lewis P. Lewis Jr. From All	7:15 My Name Mr. D. A. Video Thea. Music Room R. Q. Lewis P. Lewis Jr. From All	7:30 WTVN WBNS-TV WLW WBNS WHKC WOSU	7:45 My Name Mr. D. A. Video Thea. Music Room R. Q. Lewis P. Lewis Jr. From All
--	--	--	--

8:00 Lights Out Wrestling I Love Lucy R. H. Hous Playhouse Woman of Yr.	8:15 Lights Out Wrestling I Love Lucy R. H. Hous Playhouse Woman of Yr.	8:30 WTVN WBNS-TV WLW WBNS WHKC WOSU	8:45 Lights Out Wrestling I Love Lucy R. H. Hous Playhouse Woman of Yr.
---	---	--	---

FLO'S NOVELTY SHOP

DRY CLEANING — CALL AND DELIVERY
— 4 Day Service —
135 W. Main St. Circleville Phone 79

9:00 Robt. Mont. Boxing Studio One Felic Hour Romance News	9:15 Robt. Mont. Boxing Studio One Felic Hour Romance News	9:30 WTVN WBNS-TV WLW WBNS WHKC WOSU	9:45 Robt. Mont. Boxing Studio One Felic Hour Romance News
--	--	--	--

10:00 3 City Final Dutch Polka Weatherman Medicine USA Concert News	10:15 Theatre Dutch Polka Perry Como Medicine USA Concert Rhythm	10:30 WTVN WBNS-TV WLW WBNS WHKC WOSU	10:45 Theatre Dutch Polka Perry Como Medicine USA Concert Rhythm
---	--	---	--

11:00 News Late Show News News News	11:15 Theatre Late Show Theatre I See Today Sports Backstage	11:30 WTVN WBNS-TV WLW WBNS WHKC WOSU	11:45 Theatre Late Show Theatre I See Today Sports Backstage
--	--	---	--

11:00 News Late Show News News News	11:15 Theatre Late Show Theatre I See Today Sports Backstage	11:30 WTVN WBNS-TV WLW WBNS WHKC WOSU	11:45 Theatre Late Show Theatre I See Today Sports Backstage
--	--	---	--

11:00 News Late Show News News News	11:15 Theatre Late Show Theatre I See Today Sports Backstage	11:30 WTVN WBNS-TV WLW WBNS WHKC WOSU	11:45 Theatre Late Show Theatre I See Today Sports Backstage
--	--	---	--

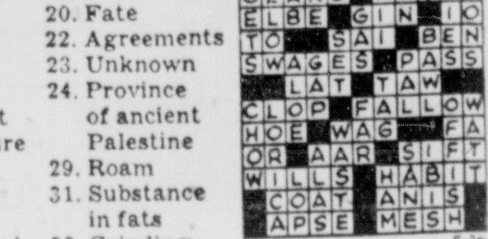

11:00 News Late Show News News News	11:15 Theatre Late Show Theatre I See Today Sports Backstage	11:30 WTVN WBNS-TV WLW WBNS WHKC WOSU	11:45 Theatre Late Show Theatre I See Today Sports Backstage
--	--	---	--

11:00 News Late Show News News News	11:15 Theatre Late Show Theatre I See Today Sports Backstage	11:30 WTVN WBNS-TV WLW WBNS WHKC WOSU	11:45 Theatre Late Show Theatre I See Today Sports Backstage
--	--	---	--

Crossword Puzzle

ACROSS
1. Rendered fat of swine
5. Parish priest
9. Ostrich-like bird
10. A healing ointment
11. Entertain
12. Food
14. Melt
15. Factor
(hereditary)
16. River
(Eng.)
18. Decoration for valor 19. Web-like membrane
21. Greek letter
22. Kind of dog
25. Adverbial particle
26. Governor of Algiers (former title)
27. Miscellany
28. Boil slowly
30. Girl's name
32. A dance
36. European linden
37. Midday
38. Auctions
40. Wasted time
41. Check
42. Costly
43. Repudiate
44. Strays from truth

DOWN
1. Arboreal mammal
2. Fivel
3. Devel
4. Province
of ancient
Palestine
29. Room
31. Substance
in fats
33. Grinding
34. South
Africans
(Du. descent)
35. Particle of
addition
18. Fellows
20. Fate
22. Agreements
23. Unknown
24. Province
of ancient
Palestine
29. Room
31. Substance
in fats
33. Grinding
34. South
Africans
(Du. descent)
35. Particle of
addition

Saturday's Answer
39. Upward curving of ship's planking
40. Fish

18. Fellows
20. Fate
22. Agreements
23. Unknown
24. Province
of ancient
Palestine
29. Room
31. Substance
in fats
33. Grinding
34. South
Africans
(Du. descent)
35. Particle of
addition

18. Fellows
20. Fate
22. Agreements
23. Unknown
24. Province
of ancient
Palestine
29. Room
31. Substance
in fats
33. Grinding
34. South
Africans
(Du. descent)
35. Particle of
addition

18. Fellows
20. Fate
22. Agreements
23. Unknown
24. Province
of ancient
Palestine
29. Room
31. Substance
in fats
33. Grinding
34. South
Africans
(Du. descent)
35. Particle of
addition

18. Fellows
20. Fate
22. Agreements
23. Unknown
24. Province
of ancient
Palestine
29. Room
31. Substance
in fats
33. Grinding
34. South
Africans
(Du. descent)
35. Particle of
addition

18. Fellows
20. Fate
22. Agreements
23. Unknown
24. Province
of ancient
Palestine
29. Room
31. Substance
in fats
33. Grinding
34. South
Africans
(Du. descent)
35. Particle of
addition

18. Fellows
20. Fate
22. Agreements
23. Unknown
24. Province
of ancient
Palestine
29. Room
31. Substance
in fats
33. Grinding
34. South
Africans
(Du. descent)
35. Particle of
addition

18. Fellows
20. Fate
22. Agreements
23. Unknown
24. Province
of ancient
Palestine
29. Room
31. Substance
in fats
33. Grinding
34. South
Africans
(Du. descent)
35. Particle of
addition

18. Fellows
20. Fate
22. Agreements
23. Unknown
24. Province
of ancient
Palestine
29. Room
31. Substance
in fats
33. Grinding
34. South
Africans
(Du. descent)
35. Particle of
addition

18. Fellows
20. Fate
22. Agreements
23. Unknown
24. Province
of ancient
Palestine
29. Room
31. Substance
in fats
33. Grinding
34. South
Africans
(Du. descent)
35. Particle of
addition

18. Fellows
20. Fate
22. Agreements
23. Unknown
24. Province
of ancient
Palestine
29. Room
31. Substance
in fats
33. Grinding
34. South
Africans
(Du. descent)
35. Particle of
addition

18. Fellows
20. Fate
22. Agreements
23. Unknown
24. Province
of ancient
Palestine
29. Room
31. Substance
in fats
33. Grinding
34. South
Africans
(Du. descent)
35. Particle of
addition

18. Fellows
20. Fate
22. Agreements
23. Unknown
24. Province
of ancient
Palestine
29. Room
31. Substance
in fats
33. Grinding
34. South
Africans
(Du. descent)
35. Particle of
addition

18. Fellows
20. Fate
22. Agreements
23. Unknown
24. Province
of ancient
Palestine
29. Room
31. Substance
in fats
33. Grinding
34. South
Africans
(Du. descent)
35. Particle of
addition

18. Fellows
20. Fate
22. Agreements
23. Unknown
24. Province
of ancient
Palestine
29. Room
31. Substance
in fats
33. Grinding
34. South
Africans
(Du. descent)
35. Particle of
addition

18. Fellows
20. Fate
22. Agreements
23. Unknown
24. Province
of ancient
Palestine
29. Room
31. Substance
in fats
33. Grinding
34. South
Africans
(Du. descent)
35. Particle of
addition

18. Fellows
20. Fate
22. Agreements
23. Unknown
24. Province
of ancient
Palestine
29. Room
31. Substance
in fats
33. Grinding
34. South
Africans
(Du. descent)
35. Particle of
addition

18. Fellows
20. Fate
22. Agreements
23. Unknown
24. Province
of ancient
Palestine
29. Room
31. Substance
in fats
33. Grinding
34. South
Africans
(Du. descent)
35. Particle of
addition

18. Fellows
20. Fate
22. Agreements
23. Unknown
24. Province
of ancient
Palestine
29. Room
31. Substance
in fats
33. Grinding
34. South
Africans
(Du. descent)
35. Particle of
addition

18. Fellows
20. Fate
22. Agreements
23. Unknown
24. Province
of ancient
Palestine
29. Room
31. Substance
in fats
33. Grinding
34. South
Africans
(Du. descent)
35. Particle of
addition

18. Fellows
20. Fate
22. Agreements
23. Unknown
24. Province
of ancient
Palestine
29. Room
31. Substance
in fats
33. Grinding
34. South
Africans
(Du. descent)
35. Particle of
addition

18. Fellows
20. Fate
22. Agreements
23. Unknown
24. Province
of ancient
Palestine
29. Room
31. Substance
in fats
33. Grinding
34. South
Africans
(Du. descent)
35. Particle of
addition

18. Fellows
20. Fate
22. Agreements
23. Unknown
24. Province
of ancient
Palestine
29. Room
31. Substance
in fats
33. Grinding
34. South
Africans
(Du. descent)
35. Particle of
addition

18. Fellows
20. Fate
22. Agreements
23. Unknown
24. Province
of ancient
Palestine
29. Room
31. Substance
in fats
33. Grinding
34. South
Africans
(Du. descent)
35. Particle of
addition

18. Fellows
20. Fate
22. Agreements
23. Unknown
24. Province
of ancient
Palestine
29. Room
31. Substance
in fats
33. Grinding
34. South
Africans
(Du. descent)
35. Particle of
addition

18. Fellows
20. Fate
22. Agreements
23. Unknown
24. Province
of ancient
Palestine
29. Room
31. Substance
in fats
33. Grinding
34. South
Africans
(Du. descent)
35. Particle of
addition

18. Fellows
20. Fate
22. Agreements
23. Unknown
24. Province
of ancient
Palestine
29. Room
31. Substance
in fats
33. Grinding
34. South
Africans
(Du. descent)
35. Particle of
addition

18. Fellows
20. Fate
22. Agreements
23. Unknown
24. Province
of ancient
Palestine
29. Room
31. Substance
in fats
33. Grinding
34. South
Africans
(Du. descent)
35. Particle of
addition

18. Fellows
20. Fate
22. Agreements
23. Unknown
24. Province
of ancient
Palestine
29. Room
31. Substance
in fats
33. Grinding
34. South
Africans
(Du. descent)
35. Particle of
addition

18. Fellows
20. Fate
22. Agreements
23. Unknown
24. Province
of ancient
Palestine
29. Room
31. Substance
in fats
33. Grinding
34. South
Africans
(Du. descent)
35. Particle of
addition

18. Fellows
20. Fate
22. Agreements
23. Unknown
24. Province
of ancient
Palestine
29. Room
31. Substance
in fats
33. Grinding
34. South
Africans
(Du. descent)
35. Particle of
addition

18. Fellows
20. Fate
22. Agreements
23. Unknown
24. Province
of ancient
Palestine
29. Room
31. Substance
in fats
33. Grinding
34. South
Africans
(Du. descent)
35. Particle of
addition

18. Fellows
20. Fate
22. Agreements
23. Unknown
24. Province
of ancient
Palestine
29. Room
31. Substance
in fats
33. Grinding
34. South
Africans
(Du. descent)
35. Particle of
addition

18. Fellows
20. Fate
22. Agreements
23. Unknown
24. Province
of ancient
Palestine
29. Room
31. Substance
in fats
33. Grinding
34. South
Africans
(Du. descent)
35. Particle of
addition

18. Fellows
20. Fate
22. Agreements
23. Unknown
24. Province
of ancient
Palestine
29. Room
31. Substance
in fats
33. Grinding
34. South
Africans
(Du. descent)
35. Particle of
addition

18. Fellows
20. Fate
22. Agreements
23. Unknown
24. Province
of ancient
Palestine
29. Room
31. Substance
in fats
33. Grinding
34. South
Africans
(Du. descent)
35. Particle of
addition

18. Fellows
20. Fate
22. Agreements
23. Unknown
24. Province
of ancient
Palestine
29. Room
31. Substance
in fats
33. Grinding
34. South
Africans
(Du. descent)
35. Particle of
addition

18. Fellows
20. Fate
22. Agreements
23. Unknown
24. Province
of ancient
Palestine
29. Room
31. Substance
in fats
33. Grinding
34. South
Africans
(Du. descent)
35. Particle of
addition

18. Fellows
20. Fate
22. Agreements
23. Unknown
24. Province
of ancient
Palestine
29. Room
31. Substance
in fats
33. Grinding
34. South
Africans
(Du. descent)
35. Particle of
addition

18. Fellows
20. Fate
22. Agreements
23. Unknown
24. Province
of ancient
Palestine
29. Room
31. Substance
in fats
33. Grinding
34. South
Africans
(Du. descent)
35. Particle of
addition

18. Fellows
20. Fate
22. Agreements
23. Unknown
24. Province
of ancient
Palestine
29. Room
31. Substance
in fats
33. Grinding
34. South
Africans
(Du. descent)
35. Particle of
addition

18. Fellows
20. Fate
22. Agreements
23. Unknown
24. Province
of ancient
Palestine
29. Room
31. Substance
in fats
33. Grinding
34. South
Africans
(Du. descent)
35. Particle of
addition

18. Fellows
20. Fate
22. Agreements
23. Unknown
24. Province
of ancient
Palestine
29. Room
31. Substance
in fats
33. Grinding
34. South
Africans
(Du. descent)
35. Particle of
addition

18. Fellows
20. Fate
22. Agreements
23. Unknown
24. Province
of ancient
Palestine
29. Room
31. Substance
in fats
33. Grinding
34. South
Afr

525 Persons Attend Circleville Senior Baccalaureate

City Graduates Challenged By Rev. Wilson

'Elevator To Success Is Broken Down'

A total of 525 parents and friends of Circleville high school's graduating senior boys and girls crowded into First Evangelical United Brethren church Sunday for baccalaureate services.

Baccalaureate sermon for the 86 members of this year's senior class was "For Such A Time As This," delivered by the Rev. Carl L. Wilson.

The service was opened with professional of the senior boys and girls, followed by invocation delivered by the Rev. James Herbst, pastor of Calvary EUB church.

Graduation ceremonies for the CHS seniors will be held next Monday in Pickaway Fairgrounds Coliseum.

Text of the Rev. Mr. Wilson's baccalaureate address follows:

"Each year during the months of May and June the American public becomes educationally minded. Grade school promotion exercises, high school, college and university commencements hold the attention of our people.

"The office of education, Washington, D. C., reveals that 1,186,000 youth are graduating from high schools of the United States this scholastic year. Locally we share in this figure with 86 seniors which, I have been informed, is possibly the largest class in the history of Circleville high school.

"Seniors! You are to be congratulated upon your scholastic attainment. You are well on the road of education as offered by our American way of life. You have applied yourself to the satisfaction of your teachers and now at the conclusion of twelve years of scholastic pursuits, your feet are set on the road of opportunity.

"The American poet Longfellow once said: 'Youth comes but once in a life time.' Another has joined this thought by saying: 'Youth is our most precious possession.' And so it is.

"The whole world is ahead, life is new, adventurous, and filled with great privileges and opportunities. To see life as a great adventure and to find and grasp its immediate advantages demands guidance.

"The best counsel at this point comes from the word of the Holy Divine God, the Father, through his inspired ambassadors, the writers of the Bible. St. Paul reminded a young man, Timothy, that 'All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness, that a man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works.'

For our scriptural directives we turn to two truths, one from the Old Testament and one from the New Testament. In the book of Esther, chapter 4, verse 14, we read, 'Who knowest whether thou art come to the kingdom for such a time as this?'

"From St. John 18:37, we hear, 'To this end was I born, and for this cause came I into the world.' The first scripture is a question by a man. The second is a positive statement by a young divine, Jesus of Nazareth. Couched in these two verses is the message, 'For Such A Time As This.'

"The historical background for the first scripture is the Kingdom of Judah, facing a crisis. The mass of the nation preferred the easy and more lucrative life under the Persian rule. But God had a better way for Judah, who were people of the covenant. Although this nation left off following the ways of God, the Divine did not forsake His own. He raised up a leader who could lend assistance in getting the people back on the right track. It is to this consideration that Mordecai appeals to Queen Esther and challenges her with these words, 'And who knowest whether thou art come to the kingdom for such a time as this?'

"The first message is the fact of personality. 'Thou art come!' A complex personality is yours which controls the future of the world, and the sum of your youthful experiences will be the basis for mature actions and decisions.

"Thou art come! That 'thou' staggers me. It is personal. It is definite. As I look at it, I sometimes search for the reasons behind my birth. This personal pronoun calls for deep introspection. It speaks loudly, saying, 'value yourself.' Personality is eternal. This class stands on the threshold of commencement. But young people, you have not finished. You have just begun.

"For after all what is education? Obviously, it is not wholly, and perhaps not even primarily, a matter of 'book learning.' It was Elbert Hubbard who once observed rather pointedly that a man may go through the greatest university in the land—and emerge a jackass. A high school education, a college degree may be acquired without signifying one's real usefulness.

"Dr. Albert Edward Wiggam says there are marks of true education. (1) The educated person cultivates an open mind. (2) He always listens to one who knows. (3) He never laughs at new ideas. (4) He knows the secret of getting along with other people. (5) He cultivates the habit of success. (6) He links himself with a just and worthy cause. (7) He knows it is never too late to learn.

"We Americans talk about 'giving' the children and youth an education. This is an obvious absurdity. No indulgent parent—and no institution of learning—can 'give' anyone an education. The best we can do is to give the individual the opportunity to learn. Galileo, many centuries ago, said: 'You cannot teach a man anything; you can only help him find it within himself.'

"Queen Esther was put on the spot, so to speak as she listened to Mordecai. He was actually saying, 'It is up to you! You have the necessary personality. The destiny of the kingdom lies in how you apply yourself. You are come into life for such a time as this.'

"The second fact of the message is the fact of place. 'Thou art come to the kingdom.'

For Esther, the kingdom was Judah. But it was also the kingdom of the present. Queen Esther found herself face to face with an ever-present situation. She was not challenged by past history. Hers was not a vision of the future. Today was her time. Here in this place was her field.

"And for you young people, the kingdom is the kingdom of the present. You are in the world; just now it may not be easy to realize it, but your feet are on the earth, and all about you are people with faults and follies as well as with smiles and congratulations. There is before you a humdrum business of a livelihood and the art of living. Bread-making, child-rearing, harvesting and ship-building, teaching and preaching, suffering and dying, service and sacrifice. You have missed the boat of your scholastic achievement unless you go out of your high school halls to master practical affairs, to solve immediate problems, to meet and conquer the crises of the moment,

CRYING her eyes out, this unidentified tyke is pictured in a Detroit police station after she had been found wandering about by herself. The tot, who is about 2½ years old, cried for her mother, and police began a search for her parents. (International) whether that crisis be a high circumstance such as Esther faced or a small sum that wrinkles the brow of a child. You will not see the beauties or catch the lessons of this radiant Jewess, whose soul was more exquisite than her form or face, until have have thrust her great ordeal into the life of our times, into the affairs of this generation.

"Do not misunderstand me. God pity us when we lose our dreams or when we cease to have visions. We must never become so engrossed with ministries that we have no patience or time for musing, for prayer, and for communion. Eventually he runs in circles who runs without rest. A business bankrupts itself when it becomes a mere counting machine. It is necessary to cultivate the agreeableness of the heart; we must wait with friendships and a tarry with God, if we are to see developed within ourselves that spiritual initiative that more than physical force and mechanical genius shapes the destiny of the world.

"But we must bring this spiritual initiative, we must apply this moral fervor, this divine optimism, to the tasks of the present kingdom. We must harness our dreams; we must honor our friendships by rendering a service, and glorify our God by making a life.

"The kingdom is your kingdom, yours today as it was Queen Esther's yesterday. Again the dignity of personality beams like a beacon light. Yours for years is the opportunity, and will you sulk because one who seems by birth and environment to be more favored than you are?

"The kingdom is your kingdom because yours is the responsibility. 'The kingdom is yours because the rewards are yours.'

"The third fact of the message is the fact of time. 'For such a time as this.' Already we have appreciated together the stupendous problems to which we are born, problems far more complex and appalling than those confronting Queen Esther, whose character is our real message tonight.

"But no matter what the problems or how complicated, we have the answer, 'For we are laborers together with God.'

"Let us analyze our time more closely. There is wisdom for such a time as this. The problems may seem most difficult. The path may be somewhat uncertain. There may be a state of unrest and indecision on every hand. The nations of the world may have gotten themselves into a ridiculous perplexing and aggravating situation. The business of nations may be facing problems never faced before in all history. Our economic structure may be tottering. Inflation may be just a few steps ahead. A depression may be 'around the corner.' We cannot close our eyes to reality. We have our problems and each individual must face the music. Everything and everywhere and everybody may seem to be dazed and greatly disturbed and puzzled. But be not afraid of the future. There is wisdom for such a time as this in divine leadership.

"There is patience for such a time as this. In these days so many things seem to strike us the wrong way. We break a shoe-string. We pull a button off our clothes. We spill some water at the meal table. We stub our toe on the walk. Some friend of ours has not done for us what he or she promised to do. This keeps up for the entire day and for days and days. Everything we do or try to do goes wrong. Things get on our nerves. An alarming situation. But be assured. There is a Patience for such a time as this.

"There is strength for such a time as this. The churches of this community are attempting to put on a worthy program. This requires equipment for doing what is desired. It requires workers to carry out the assignments. Money and interest are involved to keep the thing going. And the closer we get to the task before us, the more we stand amazed at the great size of it. We look at ourselves. We see clearly the task. We exclaim, 'It can't be done!' But take courage. There is strength for such a time as this.

"There is a God for such a time as this. The great struggle between right and wrong was never greater than it is today. It might seem at times that everything right, just and honorable, is being dragged down to defeat and dishonor. Civilized nations have been grasping at each other's throats in a death struggle. Although our statesmen tell us there is no open declaration of war, still there is war in the minds of the people. We stop and ask ourselves seriously, 'Why must it be so?' In face of all this, there is a God for a time like this.

"There is a person for such a time as this. No great crisis has ever confronted the world, the nation, the state, the community or the organization, but that some person has stepped forward for such a time as this. God is preparing men and women to meet the needs of mankind. Are you using this wisdom, this patience, this strength, and this God, so you can be a person for such a time as this? Remember! Make every day count, for time passes quickly.

FULTON OURSLER (above), famous author and lecturer, is dead in New York at 59. Perhaps his best known work is "The Greatest Story Ever Told," based on Biblical stories. (International)

"Young People of this class, let me lay upon your hearts the practical lessons of this hour. And here is where we inject the cooperative text from the Gospel of St. John. 'To this end was I born, and for this cause came I into the world.' Jesus of Nazareth had a worthy purpose, program and struggled to realize the spiritual goal in life. He was born for this cause and fulfilled his birthright.

"And so it is with each of you. You must have a worthy purpose, held on to with fingers of steel and the heart of a knight. Refuse to go through life wobbling and wavering as unstable as water, which adjusts itself to the bend and curvature of every shore. Be ye steadfast, unmovable, always abounding in the work of the Lord.

"You must have a worthy program in life. 'Set your sails high.' 'Hitch your wagon to the stars.' 'Bite off more than you can chew

4 Local Men Attend Confab

Four Circleville representatives of the Prudential Insurance Co. left Monday to attend a two-day regional sales conference in Chicago.

They are Richard McAlister, staff manager; and Jack McGuire, Roscoe Warren and Theodore Culp, agents. The local office was eighth in Ohio last year.

The conference, which will continue until Wednesday, brings together top-level home office and regional officials and more than 700 district managers, staff managers and agents from company district offices located throughout Ohio.

Lost 32 Lbs. Rennel Can Help You As It Has Me

Springfield Lady Regains Streamlined Figure

"I want to tell you about the results I have experienced with Rennel. It certainly has done wonders for me," writes Questa M. Nichols, 2249 Superior Ave., Springfield, Ohio. "Before taking Rennel I weighed 190 lbs. Now in such a very short time I have lost that stuffy full feeling, and I have also lost 32 lbs. I feel so much better. You certainly have a wonderful product and I praise it to all my friends." Imagine, eat plenty and lose weight with this simple yet effective amazing home recipe. After purchasing a bottle of Rennel from your druggist pour the contents into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it. No diets to complicate your meal planning. No expensive vitamins to fortify your system from weakness while going without food for you can eat normally. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose pounds of bulky fat and help regain slender, more youthful curves—if reducible excess fat doesn't seem to disappear almost like magic just return the empty bottle to the manufacturer for your money back. Insist on and be sure to get genuine Rennel.

IT'S SO EASY TO GET A PERSONAL LOAN

IT'S EASY TO GET A LOAN HERE!
'As easy as falling off a log.' Trite? Perhaps. But certainly true!

A personal loan on your auto, furniture or on your signature is easy to get and as easy to repay. It's the low-cost way to solve your money problems. $25 to $1000. Ready Cash... Quick As A Flash!

READ THE HERALD'S CLASSIFIEDS

CARPENTERS—
If You Buy Shoes
Like You Buy Tools
You'll Buy
Star-Brands
—At—MACK'S

ROTHMAN'S Over 60 Years of Savings To This Community
SPECIAL PURCHASE from "LEE" Co.

Enables Us To Pass This BIG SAVINGS On To You!

BOYS' BIG BARGAINS "LEE" Unlined WESTERN JACKETS

FREE! Your Name Branded on Leather Without Charge
All boys sizes available. This is the same fine quality regularly selling at $3.00
1.99
Larger Sizes 50c Extra

HEADQUARTERS FOR QUALITY WORK CLOTHES

Amazing, new WASHABLE WALL PAINT

DU PONT FLOW KOTE
NEW, rubber-base paint that's economical to use!
★ Applies like magic with brush or roller-coater!
★ Dries in minutes!
★ Pleasant aroma!
★ Lovely pastels; deep, rich shades!

$4.98 Gal.
(Deep colors slightly higher)

CRIST BROS.
120 W. MAIN ST. PHONE 41

Save the surface and you save all!
DU PONT PAINTS
FOR EVERY PURPOSE

2M-32-42-3M-54 YANK — Free and easy on the frame, this rugged cotton Gabardine Jantzen boxer... extra-brief, with concealed drawcord for individual waist-fit, and a trim fast-drying acetate-and-nylon supporter. Built-in pocket protects your coins and keys... smart side-piping matches your tee shirt. 11 good colors. 28-44. 3.50. 46-52. 4.50.
TEE SHIRT... bold stripes, crew neck with non-stretch band, full-cut and finely-tailored of finest all-combed two-ply cotton yarn. 8 colors. S-M-L. 2.95.

KINSEY'S MEN'S SHOP

525 Persons Attend Circleville Senior Baccalaureate

City Graduates Challenged By Rev. Wilson

'Elevator To Success Is Broken Down'

A total of 525 parents and friends of Circleville high school's graduating senior boys and girls crowded into First Evangelical United Brethren church Sunday for baccalaureate services.

Baccalaureate sermon for the 86 members of this year's senior class was "For Such A Time As This," delivered by the Rev. Carl L. Wilson.

The service was opened with professional of the senior boys and girls, followed by invocation delivered by the Rev. James Herbst, pastor of Calvary EUB church.

Graduation ceremonies for the CHS seniors will be held next Monday in Pickaway Fairgrounds Coliseum.

Text of the Rev. Mr. Wilson's baccalaureate address follows:

"Each year during the months of May and June the American public becomes educationally minded. Grade school promotion exercises, high school, college and university commencements hold the attention of our people.

"The office of education, Washington, D. C., reveals that 1,186,000 youth are graduating from high schools of the United States this scholastic year. Locally we share in this figure with 86 seniors which, I have been informed, is possibly the largest class in the history of Circleville high school.

"Seniors! You are to be congratulated upon your scholastic attainment. You are well on the road of education as offered by our American way of life. You have applied yourself to the satisfaction of your teachers and now at the conclusion of twelve years of scholastic pursuits, your feet are set on the road of opportunity.

"The American poet Longfellow once said: 'Youth comes but once in a life time.' Another has joined this thought by saying: 'Youth is our most precious possession.' And so it is.

"The whole world is ahead, life is new, adventurous, and filled with great privileges and opportunities. To see life as a great adventure and to find and grasp its immediate advantages demands guidance.

"The best counsel at this point comes from the word of the Holy Divine God, the Father, through his inspired ambassadors, the writers of the Bible. St. Paul reminded a young man, Timothy, that 'All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness, that a man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works.'

For our scriptural directives we turn to two truths, one from the Old Testament and one from the New Testament. In the book of Esther, chapter 4, verse 14, we read, 'Who knowest whether thou art come to the kingdom for such a time as this?'

"From St. John 18:37, we hear, 'To this end was I born, and for this cause came I into the world.' The first scripture is a question by a man. The second is a positive statement by a young divine, Jesus of Nazareth. Couched in these two verses is the message, 'For Such A Time As This.'

"The historical background for the first scripture is the Kingdom of Judah, facing a crisis. The mass of the nation preferred the easy and more lucrative life under the Persian rule. But God had a better way for Judah, who were people of the covenant. Although this nation left off following the ways of God, the Divine did not forsake His own. He raised up a leader who could lend assistance in getting the people back on the right track. It is to this consideration that Mordecai appeals to Queen Esther and challenges her with these words, 'And who knowest whether thou art come to the kingdom for such a time as this?'

"The first message is the fact of personality. 'Thou art come!' A complex personality is yours which controls the future of the world, and the sum of your youthful experiences will be the basis for mature actions and decisions.

"Thou art come! That 'thou' staggers me. It is personal. It is definite. As I look at it, I sometimes search for the reasons behind my birth. This personal pronoun calls for deep introspection. It speaks loudly, saying, 'value yourself.' Personality is eternal. This class stands on the threshold of commencement. But young people, you have not finished. You have just begun.

"For after all what is education? Obviously, it is not wholly, and perhaps not even primarily, a matter of 'book learning.' It was Elbert Hubbard who once observed rather pointedly that a man may go through the greatest university in the land—and emerge a jackass. A high school education, a college degree may be acquired without signifying one's real usefulness.

"Dr. Albert Edward Wiggam says there are marks of true education. (1) The educated person cultivates an open mind. (2) He always listens to one who knows. (3) He never laughs at new ideas. (4) He knows the secret of getting along with other people. (5) He cultivates the habit of success. (6) He links himself with a just and worthy cause. (7) He knows it is never too late to learn.

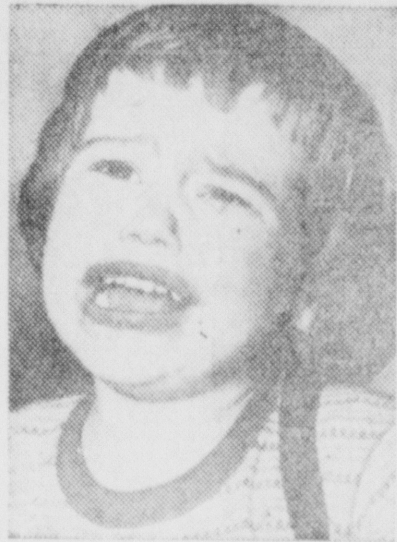

"We Americans talk about 'giving' the children and youth an education. This is an obvious absurdity. No indulgent parent—and no institution of learning—can 'give' anyone an education. The best we can do is to give the individual the opportunity to learn. Galileo, many centuries ago, said: 'You cannot teach a man anything; you can only help him find it within himself.'

"Queen Esther was put on the spot, so to speak as she listened to Mordecai. He was actually saying, 'It is up to you! You have the necessary personality. The destiny of the kingdom lies in how you apply yourself. You are come into life for such a time as this.'

"The second fact of the message is the fact of place. 'Thou art come to the kingdom.'

For Esther, the kingdom was Judah. But it was also the kingdom of the present. Queen Esther found herself face to face with an ever-present situation. She was not challenged by past history. Hers was not a vision of the future. Today was her time. Here in this place was her field.

"And for you young people, the kingdom is the kingdom of the present. You are in the world; just now it may not be easy to realize it, but your feet are on the earth, and all about you are people with faults and follies as well as with smiles and congratulations. There is before you a humdrum business of a livelihood and the art of living. Bread-making, child-rearing, harvesting and ship-building, teaching and preaching, suffering and dying, service and sacrifice. You have missed the boat of your scholastic achievement unless you go out of your high school halls to master practical affairs, to solve immediate problems, to meet and conquer the crises of the moment,

CRYING her eyes out, this unidentified tyke is pictured in a Detroit police station after she had been found wandering about by herself. The tot, who is about 2½ years old, cried for her mother, and police began a search for her parents. (International) whether that crisis be a high circumstance such as Esther faced or a small sum that wrinkles the brow of a child. You will not see the beauties or catch the lessons of this radiant Jewess, whose soul was more exquisite than her form or face, until have thrust her great ordeal into the life of our times, into the affairs of this generation.

"Do not misunderstand me. God pity us when we lose our dreams or when we cease to have visions. We must never become so engrossed with ministries that we have no patience or time for musing, for prayer, and for communion. Eventually he runs in circles who runs without rest. A business bankrupts itself when it becomes a mere counting machine. It is necessary to cultivate the agreeableness of the heart; we must wait with friendships and tarry with God, if we are to see developed within ourselves that spiritual initiative that more than physical force and mechanical genius shapes the destiny of the world.

"But we must bring this spiritual initiative, we must apply this moral fervor, this divine optimism, to the tasks of the present kingdom. We must harness our dreams; we must honor our friendships by rendering a service, and glorify our God by making a life.

"The kingdom is your kingdom, yours today as it was Queen Esther's yesterday. Again the dignity of personality beams like a beacon light. Yours for years is the opportunity, and will you sulk because one who seems by birth and environment to be more favored than you are?

"The kingdom is your kingdom because yours is the responsibility. 'The kingdom is yours because the rewards are yours.'

"The third fact of the message is the fact of time. 'For such a time as this.' Already we have appreciated together the stupendous problems to which we are born, problems far more complex and appalling than those confronting Queen Esther, whose character is our real message tonight.

"But no matter what the problems or how complicated, we have the answer. 'For we are laborers together with God.'

"Let us analyze our time more closely. There is wisdom for such a time as this. The problems may seem most difficult. The path may be somewhat uncertain. There may be a state of unrest and indecision on every hand. The nations of the world may have gotten themselves into a ridiculous perplexing and aggravating situation. The business of nations may be facing problems never faced before in all history. Our economic structure may be tottering. Inflation may be just a few steps ahead. A depression may be 'around the corner.' We cannot close our eyes to reality. We have our problems and each individual must face the music. Everything and everywhere and everybody must seem to be dazed and greatly disturbed and puzzled. But be not afraid of the future. There is wisdom for such a time as this in divine leadership.

"There is patience for such a time as this. In these days so many things seem to strike us the wrong way. We break a shoe-string. We pull a button off our clothes. We spill some water at the meal table. We stub our toe on the walk. Some friend of ours has not done for us what he or she promised to do. This keeps up for the entire day and for days and days. Everything we do or try to do goes wrong. Things get on our nerves. An alarming situation. But be assured. There is a Patience for such a time as this.

"There is strength for such a time as this. The churches of this community are attempting to put on a worthy program. This requires equipment for doing what is desired. It requires workers to carry out the assignments. Money and interest are involved to keep the thing going. And the closer we get to the task before us, the more we stand amazed at the great size of it. We look at ourselves. We see clearly the task. We exclaim, 'It can't be done!' But take courage. There is strength for such a time as this.

"There is a God for such a time as this. The great struggle between right and wrong was never greater than it is today. It might seem at times that everything right, just and honorable, is being dragged down to defeat and dishonor. Civilized nations have been grasping at each other's throats in a death struggle. Although our statesmen tell us there is no open declaration of war, still there is war in the minds of the people. We stop and ask ourselves seriously, 'Why must it be so?' In face of all this, there is a God for a time like this.

"There is a person for such a time as this. No great crisis has ever confronted the world, the nation, the state, the community or the organization, but that some person has stepped forward for such a time as this. God is preparing men and women to meet the needs of mankind. Are you using this wisdom, this patience, this strength, and this God, so you can be a person for such a time as this? Remember! Make every day count, for time passes quickly.

FULTON OURSLER (above), famous author and lecturer, is dead in New York at 59. Perhaps his best known work is "The Greatest Story Ever Told," based on Biblical stories. (International)

"Young People of this class, let me lay upon your hearts the practical lessons of this hour. And here is where we inject the cooperative text from the Gospel of St. John. 'To this end was I born, and for this cause came I into the world.' Jesus of Nazareth had a worthy purpose, program and struggled to realize the spiritual goal in life. He was born for this cause and fulfilled his birthright.

"And so it is with each of you. You must have a worthy purpose, held on to with fingers of steel and the heart of a knight. Refuse to go through life wobbling and wavering as unstable as water, which adjusts itself to the bend and curvature of every shore. Be ye steadfast, unmovable, always abounding in the work of the Lord.

"You must have a worthy program in life. 'Set your sails high.' 'Hitch your wagon to the stars.' 'Bite off more than you can chew

4 Local Men Attend Confab

Four Circleville representatives of the Prudential Insurance Co. left Monday to attend a two-day regional sales conference in Chicago.

They are Richard McAllister, staff manager; and Jack McGuire, Roscoe Warren and Theodore Culp, agents. The local office was eighth in Ohio last year.

The conference, which will continue until Wednesday, brings together top-level home office and regional officials and more than 700 district managers, staff managers and agents from company district offices located throughout Ohio.

and chew it.' Refuse to merely 'get by' when you could be a master. Translate your purpose into deeds of righteous living.

"You must have a worthy program for worthy of your manhood and womanhood. Refuse to accept the 'Come Easy' philosophy of life. Don't hold out your hand for some generous donor to make a contribution. Dig and dig deep for what you get and life will become meaningful. Remember! people get to the top by climbing. The elevator to success is broken down. You must begin at the bottom and climb to the top.

"Purpose! Program! Prize! These three or failure. These three or oblivion. These three or cipherdom. These three wisely and fearlessly chosen, will lift you up and glorify you and crown you with victory and honor and will exalt the name of the Living God."

CARPENTERS—

If You Buy Shoes
Like You Buy Tools
You'll Buy
Star-Brands
—At—

MACK'S

Lost 32 Lbs. Rennel Can Help You As It Has Me

Springfield Lady Regains Streamlined Figure

"I want to tell you about the results I have experienced with Rennel. I have certainly had some wonderful results. That's all there is to it. No diets to complicate your meal planning. No expensive vitamins to fortify your system from weakness while going without food for you can eat normally. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose pounds of bulky fat and help regain slender, more youthful curves—if reducible excess fat doesn't seem to disappear almost like magic just return the empty bottle to the manufacturer for your money back. Insist on and be sure to get genuine Rennel.

IT'S SO EASY TO GET A PERSONAL LOAN

IT'S EASY TO GET A LOAN HERE!

'As easy as falling off a log.' Trite? Perhaps. But certainly true!

"Bob" Wilson, Mgr.

A personal loan on your auto, furniture or on your signature is easy to get and as easy to repay. It's the low-cost way to solve your money problems. $25 to $1000. Ready Cash... Quick As A Flash!

American Loan AND FINANCE CO

120 E. Main St. Phone 286

• READ THE HERALD'S CLASSIFIEDS •

ROTHMAN'S Over 60 Years of Savings To This Community

SPECIAL PURCHASE

from "LEE" Co.

Enables Us To Pass This BIG SAVINGS On To You!

BOYS' BIG BARGAINS

"LEE" Unlined WESTERN JACKETS

FREE!

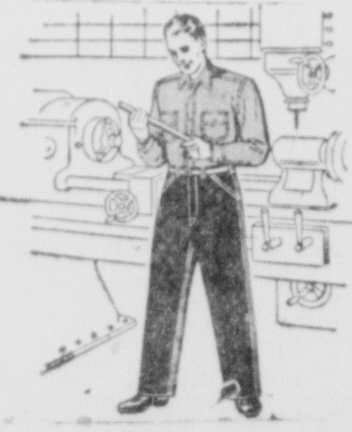

Your Name Branded on Leather Without Charge

All boys sizes available. This is the same fine quality regularly selling at $3.00

1.99

Larger Sizes 50c Extra

HEADQUARTERS FOR QUALITY WORK CLOTHES

Amazing, new WASHABLE WALL PAINT

DU PONT FLOW KOTE

NEW, rubber-base paint that's economical to use!
★ Applies like magic with brush or roller-coater!
★ Dries in minutes!
★ Pleasant aroma!
★ Lovely pastel; deep, rich shades!

$4.98 Gal.

(Deep colors slightly higher)

CRIST BROS.

120 W. MAIN ST. PHONE 41

Save the surface and you save all!

DU PONT PAINTS

FOR EVERY PURPOSE

KINSEY'S MEN'S SHOP

2M-32-42-3M-54 YANK — Free and easy on the frame, this rugged cotton Gabardine Jantzen boxer... extra-brief, with concealed drawcord for individual waist-fit, and a trim fast-drying acetate-and-nylon supporter. Built-in pocket protects your coins and keys... smart side-piping matches your tee shirt. 11 good colors. 28-44, 3.50, 46-52, 4.50.
TEE SHIRT... bold stripes, crew neck with non-stretch band, full-cut and finely-tailored of finest all-combed two-ply cotton yarn. 8 colors. S-M-L. 2.95.